

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

July 2025 | Volume 14, Issue 07

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science	3
--	---

Job Listings

Administration	4
American Government and Politics	5
Comparative Politics	15
International Relations	24
Methodology	38
Non-Academic	43
Open	43
Other	50
Political Theory	57
Public Administration	63
Public Law	67
Public Policy	69

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

July 2025 | Volume 14, Issue 07

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration	4 (2 listings)
American Government and Politics	5 (20 listings)
Comparative Politics	15 (15 listings)
International Relations	24 (20 listings)
Methodology	38 (9 listings)
Non-Academic	43 (16 listings)
Open	43 (7 listings)
Other	50 (12 listings)
Political Theory	57 (7 listings)
Public Administration	63 (6 listings)
Public Law	67 (16 listings)
Public Policy	69 (1 listings)
Total listings this issue	130

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for July

ADMINISTRATION

Howard University

Rank: Chair, Department of Political Science

Howard University (HU) invites applications and nominations for the position of Chair of the Department of Political Science.

The Department of Political Science seeks a dynamic, energetic leader with the ability to effectively engage faculty, staff, students, and external constituencies in a collegial and collaborative manner. The Chair will have a demonstrated record of excellence in collegial academic leadership, faculty development, fundraising, executive administration, and financial management. This is an outstanding opportunity for a creative leader at an exciting time in the continued growth of the Department, College, and University.

The Chair represents the Department as part of the College's leadership team and is responsible for the Department's faculty and staff recruiting, development, retention, resource attainment, financial management, and stakeholder relationship management. The Chair manages a diverse faculty, staff and student body, and is expected to lead the Department in publishing scholarship, teaching capacity, grantsmanship, service, and outreach.

The Chair must be an active intellectual leader, adept at building and supporting multi-disciplinary partnerships within a diverse community, knowledgeable in higher education issues, collaborative in developing team-focused, data-driven approaches to problem solving, and possess effective people-skills.

Working in partnership with the senior administration of the College of Arts & Sciences, the successful candidate is expected to embrace and contribute to the mission of the University.

Desired Qualifications

Earned doctorate or terminal degree from an accredited institution; PhD in Political Science preferred, but a PhD in an allied discipline will be considered;

Record of professional accomplishments and published scholarship in the discipline that meet the qualifications for appointment to the rank of professor in the College and University. Applications from advanced associate professors will be considered.

Established and sustained record of graduate and undergraduate teaching excellence and interdisciplinary initiatives;

Recognized and reputable record of research, collaborative projects, and creative accomplishments;

Administrative, personnel, and budgetary experience at the department level;

Evidence of and capacity to secure external funding and undertake successful fundraising campaigns;

Documentation of a strong commitment to helping students obtain a broad-based education, student centeredness, and optimization of student learning;

Record of successful curriculum development including a commitment to collaboration and use of innovative pedagogies;

Successful record of effective interpersonal and communication skills with faculty, staff, students, alumni, and community members;

Demonstrated ability to manage a complex academic unit and work effectively with colleagues across divisions;

Demonstrated ability to effectively forge and build partnerships and productive relations on and off campus; engage with the community via outreach efforts; leadership abilities with both campus and external constituencies, including alumni;

Evidence of successful recruitment and retention of a diverse faculty and staff, as well as teambuilding, supervision, and staff support for professional development;

Established in 1867, Howard University is a federally chartered, private, doctoral/research extensive university located in Washington, D.C., and is widely recognized as one of the world's most prestigious institutions of higher learning. The only comprehensive American university with a predominantly African-American constituency, Howard University is committed to preparing its students to not only be respected leaders in the national and global communities, but to also promote social justice and democracy the world over. Howard has historically educated more African-American PhD's than any other university. It has a track record, for more than a century as the home to the single, largest concentration of Black scholars in the world.

Procedure for Candidacy

Applications should include a cover letter and curriculum vitae. Applications and nominations will be accepted until the position is filled. Confidential review of materials and screening of candidates will begin immediately.

Contact Information:

POLSChairSearch@Howard.edu

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veteran's status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/11/2025

Date Posted: 11/13/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15203

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Public Finance

Subfield(s): Administration, Public Administration, Public Policy

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond. The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public finance. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly address public finance topics. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics with a field specialization in public finance

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-public-finance>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15145

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Villanova University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, Congress, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Villanova University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2026. The successful candidate will have broad training in American national institutions and the presidency as their primary research interest. While we are not looking for a scholar of Congress or the federal judiciary, candidates with a secondary research interest in some other area of American national institutions (e.g., the federal bureaucracy as a whole or specific departments/agencies within the bureaucracy) are especially welcome to apply. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in their areas of specialization at both the undergraduate and graduate level. While the successful candidate will also be expected to teach an undergraduate research design course, we are not seeking someone principally trained as a methodologist.

Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate (MA) courses. Teaching duties include a 3-2 teaching load for the first three years. After a successful Third Year Review, a one-semester sabbatical is available in the fourth year, and the 3-2 teaching load may be continued for another three years contingent on a successful and promising record of scholarship. Ph.D. in hand is strongly preferred. ABDs will be considered; however, continued employment is subject to completion of the Ph.D. no later than August 15, 2026.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.villanova.edu>. The online application should include a detailed letter of application indicating your interest in and suitability for the position, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, curriculum vitae, official graduate and undergraduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, two short writing samples, two syllabi (if available), and evidence of teaching effectiveness. All materials must be received by September 12, 2025.

While the Department is not conducting preliminary interviews at APSA, members of the search committee are available should a candidate have specific questions about the position. Candidates with such questions should contact Jessica Schwartz (jessica.schwartz@villanova.edu).

Villanova is a Catholic university sponsored by the Augustinian Order. The University is an equal opportunity employer and seeks candidates who understand, respect and can contribute to the University's mission and values.

For a more detailed description of the Department of Political Science, please consult <https://www1.villanova.edu/university/liberal-arts-sciences/programs/political-science.html?>

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: 9/12/2025

Date Posted: 6/26/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15638

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Professor of Practice - Advertising

Location: Syracuse, NY

Pay Range: $80,000 - $95,000

Pay Determination: Salary offers at Syracuse University will be based on education, experience, and relevant skills, as well as the academic or professional discipline of the position in the context of the home department, school, or college. Salary offers may also be influenced by prior relevant work or industry experience, where applicable. Faculty pay ranges are for 8.5 months' salary unless otherwise specified.

FLSA Status: Exempt

Hours: As determined by department chair and associate dean. Office hours are required.

Job Type: Full Time

Rank: Professor of Practice

Campus:

Unionized Position Code: Not Applicable

Job Description:

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University invites applications for a Professor of Practice position in Advertising who can bring visibility to the School and our students. The job starts in August, 2025.

The successful candidate will teach both strategy courses, primarily in Media Planning, Creative Strategy and Advertising Campaign Development or other specialized skills to enhance the curriculum.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree is required.
- Master's degree preferred.

Job Specific Qualifications: Compelling candidates will show:

- Enthusiasm and promise for exemplary teaching, whether through prior teaching experience or professional mentoring roles supervising young advertising practitioners.
- Evidence they can build close connections with the advertising industry, bringing cutting-edge knowledge to classroom, and sharpening students skillsets that meet industry demands.
- Applicants with media planning experience are particularly desirable.
- University teaching experience is preferred, but not mandatory.
- The successful candidate will have extensive experience working on major national brands either in advertising agencies or client-side media.

Responsibilities:

A Professor-of-Practice will teach three courses per semester. Teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate Media Planning, Creative Strategy Development, and campaign development. Courses the new hire might teach include multiple sections of ADV 301, 208, 507 and 425. (<http://coursecatalog.syr.edu/content.php?catoid=32&navoid=4136>) and other courses in the graduate level that complement the individual's expertise.

The position expects connecting the Media and Strategy ad community with our advertising students. This could involve activities such as, inviting Media professionals to campus as speakers in the Eric Mower Advertising Forum, to help keep the curriculum current.

Physical Requirements: Not Applicable

Tools/Equipment: Not Applicable

Application Instructions:

Applicants must submit the following documents for consideration:

- 1) Curriculum Vitae/Resume
- 2) Cover Letter, expressing interest and fit for the position
- 3) One philosophy statement that addresses each of these three areas:
 - a. Teaching – The Newhouse School prides itself on the high quality of education it provides and its ability to get students job-ready Day One. Please describe your teaching interests and philosophy of how students best learn.
 - b. Statement on contribution to University mission - Please describe how your past experience has prepared you to contribute to the School's and the University's strategic commitments to creating a campus that is welcoming to all.
 - c. Creative Activity - The Newhouse School values creative activity. Creative activity can include, as examples, industry trade or consumer media/news articles, and media production, development or multimedia storytelling (photo/video, film, sound, web design, apps, scriptwriting). Please describe how your experience will help you contribute to the University and School's commitment to research and creative initiatives. 4) List of at least three references with knowledge of your work 5) An optional field for your creative portfolio for consideration

For more information contact Edward Russell, Search Committee Chair, Advertising Department Chair, S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Syracuse University. Phone: 315-443-4045. Email: edrussel@syr.edu

About Advertising Department The department has about 350 majors coming from across the U.S. and around the world. In the past eight years, our advertising students won more than 1,200 creative awards including the 2025 Cannes Future Lions Grand Prix (<https://newhouse.syracuse.edu/news/how-2-newhouse-students-won-the-top-student-creative-advertising-award-in-the-world-the-cannes-future-lions-grand-prix/>), One Show, Addy's, D&AD New Blood, New York Festivals, Creativity International Awards, Communication Arts Advertising Annual, Communication Arts Student Showcase, Lurzer's Archive, ADDYS and other creative competitions. Plus, the IAB recognized Newhouse Advertising as one of top 5 Digital Advertising programs nationwide. The strategy track students have won the national AAF National Student Advertising Competition (NSAC) twice and District Two competition numerous times. The Media students have been named Media Fellows by the Washington Media Scholars Foundation. Media. The NewHouse (TNH) is one of the largest student-run advertising agencies in the country. TNH has won both national competitions and international competitions including the GM Marketing Challenge; the Honda Social Media Challenge; and the Qatar FIFA 2022 Advertising Competition. ADV full-time faculty are composed of nationally accomplished professionals and outstanding scholars who are tirelessly devoted to student success (see info @<https://newhouse.syr.edu/academics/advertising/faculty/>). The program hosts the largest advertising speaker series in the country, the Eric Mower Advertising Forum that has welcomed over 300 top advertising professionals to campus including David Droga, Liz Taylor, Greg Hahn. (<https://newhouse.syracuse.edu/academics/advertising/eric-mower-advertising-forum/>)

About the Newhouse School

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University trains the next generation of communications leaders, preparing students to not only enter a rapidly changing media industry, but to shape its future. Called one of the "very best schools" in its field by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC) in an April 2023 reaccreditation report, Newhouse has been lauded for providing an excellent educational experience due to its outstanding students, faculty, staff, leadership and facilities, as well as financial stability and a deep curriculum. The Newhouse School is committed to expanding academic excellence through research and creative activity, as well as community engagement and professional opportunities to help students develop their skill set outside the classroom. Newhouse is home to approximately 2,100 undergraduates, 200 residential master's degree students, 200 online master's degree students and 15 doctoral degree students. They are among the best in the country, having secured a place in the class through a highly competitive admissions process. The typical admitted first-year student has a 3.9 GPA.

The school's 250,000-square-foot, three-building complex is a leading-edge learning environment where students are exposed to top-notch tools and technologies used by professionals in the field. Features include Dick Clark Studios, a high-tech entertainment production facility that rivals many Hollywood studios; the Diane and Bob Miron Digital News Center, complete with a contemporary news set, a virtual studio that accommodates green screen production and state-of-the-art lighting systems and cameras; the Alan Gerry Center for Media Innovation, a creative hub where Newhouse expertise in content development and production meets the latest media technology and programming trends; the Emerging Insights Lab, a state-of-the-art social media command center; and the Collaborative Media Room, home to the student-produced multimedia news site, The NewsHouse.

To learn more about the Newhouse School, visit <https://newhouse.syracuse.edu>.

About Syracuse University:

Syracuse University is a private, international research university with distinctive academics, diversely unique offerings, and an undeniable spirit. Located in the geographic heart of New York State, with a global footprint, and over 150 years of history, Syracuse University offers a quintessential college experience.

The scope of Syracuse University is a testament to its strengths: a pioneering history dating back to 1870; a choice of more than 200 majors, 100 minors, and 200 advanced degree programs offered across the University's 13 schools and colleges; over 15,000 undergraduates and over 6,000 graduate students; more than a quarter of a million alumni in 160 countries; and a student population from all 50 U.S. states and 123 countries. For more information, please visit <http://www.syracuse.edu>.

About the Syracuse area:

Syracuse is a medium-sized city situated in the geographic center of New York State approximately 250 miles northwest of New York City. The metro-area population totals approximately 500,000. The area offers a low cost of living and provides many social, cultural, and recreational options, including parks, museums, festivals, professional regional theater, and premier shopping venues. Syracuse and Central New York present a wide range of seasonal recreation and attractions ranging from water skiing and snow skiing, hiking in the Adirondacks, touring the historic sites, visiting wineries along the Finger Lakes, and biking on trails along the Erie Canal.

Application Deadline:

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/6303522>

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

Syracuse University has a long history of engaging veterans and the military-connected community through its educational programs, community outreach, and employment programs. After World War II, Syracuse University welcomed more than 10,000 returning veterans to our campus, and those veterans literally transformed Syracuse University into the national research institution it is today. The University's contemporary commitment to veterans builds on this historical legacy, and extends to both class-leading initiatives focused on making an SU degree accessible and affordable to the post-9/11 generation of veterans, and also programs designed to position Syracuse University as the employer of choice for military veterans, members of the Guard and Reserve, and military family members.

Copyright ©2025 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 6/11/2026

Date Posted: 6/20/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15622

Williams College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Description

The Political Science Department at Williams College seeks an Assistant Professor of Political Science with scholarly expertise in American Politics. We are especially interested in candidates whose scholarship speaks to the dynamics of public policy in national or state government. We seek a colleague who has a record or promise of excellence in research and is committed to inclusive undergraduate education. The teaching load is four courses each year (2-2); successful candidates will be able to teach Introduction to American Politics as well as additional courses in their areas of interest. This tenure track appointment will begin in the 2026–2027 academic year. We welcome applications from candidates of all backgrounds and strongly encourage individuals whose experiences and perspectives will enhance our commitment to academic excellence and innovation to apply.

The Political Science Department has a strong commitment to professional development which includes regular opportunities to present work in progress. Williams College offers additional professional development opportunities, including the College's First3 program as well as programming organized by the Rice Center for Teaching and the NCFDD, among other mentoring.

Qualifications

Candidates should have the Ph.D. completed by June 2026.

Application Instructions

Application items should include: a cover letter detailing scholarly interests as well as teaching experience; a curriculum vitae; a writing sample of only one article or chapter; and three letters of recommendation. We ask you to write in your cover letter about your ability to work effectively with a student population that is broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Candidates invited to the first round of (Zoom) interviews will be asked at that time to provide sample syllabi and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

The deadline for the submission of applications is September 15, 2025 for full consideration. All application materials should be submitted through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/168211>). Fax and email applications will not be accepted. Inquiries may be sent to Erin Malloy at emb8@williams.edu. All offers of employment are contingent upon completion of a background check. Further information is available here: <https://faculty.williams.edu/prospective-faculty/background-check-policy/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2025

Date Posted: 6/19/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15619

Baylor University

Rank: Lecturer, Non-Tenure-Track, American Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Congress, Political Parties & Organizations

To apply, go to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/167836>

Description:

The Department of Political Science at Baylor University seeks a full-time, Regular Lecturer in American Politics to begin August 2026. The primary teaching responsibility will be teaching a general education course (PSC 1387: The U.S. Constitution, Its Interpretation, and the American Political Experience). Opportunities to teach courses in Congress, the Supreme Court, political parties, or state politics may also be available.

Regular Lecturer appointments are renewable full-time, benefits-eligible, teaching-focused positions with six-year promotion paths to Senior Lecturer for successful candidates and twelve-year promotion paths to Teaching Professor for highly successful candidates. For more information, see Baylor University's Policy on Full-Time Lecturers, Senior Lecturers, and Teaching Professors.

Complete applications must be submitted by 11pm Central Daylight Time on October 31, 2025.

About Baylor University:

Baylor University is located in Waco, Texas and is the oldest college in the state. It has a diverse student population of 21,000 and is recognized as one of the top universities in the nation, achieving R1 institution status by the Carnegie Classification in January 2022. Baylor also made it to the honor roll of "Great Colleges to Work For" from The Chronicle of Higher Education. It offers competitive salaries and benefits, allowing faculty and staff to live in one of the fastest-growing parts of the state. Baylor's new strategic plan, Baylor in Deeds, guides the University as it continues to fulfill its mission of educating men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Qualifications:

Candidate must have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field by the time of appointment. Teaching experience is preferred.

Application Instructions. To apply, candidates should submit:

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of teaching philosophy
4. Teaching portfolio (including student evaluations and sample syllabi, if available)
5. Three letters of recommendation
6. Transcript from highest degree granting institution (unofficial copy acceptable)

7. Completed self-disclosed Religious Affiliation Form (found in Interfolio)

If you have questions about the position, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Dave Bridge (David_Bridge@baylor.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: 10/31/2025

Date Posted: 6/6/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15605

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2025-2026 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF07149>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 16, 2025, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/29/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15598

Clemson University

Rank: Lecturer - American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University is conducting a search for a Lecturer in American politics to join our faculty in August 2025. This is a full-time, nine-month position, and the successful candidate will be eligible for annual reappointment. Lecturers at Clemson cannot advance to tenure, but they are full, voting members of the university's faculty who can pursue promotion along an academic professional track leading to the rank of Senior Lecturer and Principal Lecturer with multi-year contracts. The position's normal teaching load is four courses each semester (4-4). The selected candidate principally will offer introductory and advanced undergraduate courses in American politics. Teaching assignments may also include sections of undergraduate research methods. The ability to offer upper-level courses in constitutional law, judicial politics, Congress, or parties and interest groups is desirable.

Apply at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/167554>

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in political science or a related field, completed by August 15, 2025, is required.

To apply, candidates should submit a (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) statement describing their teaching philosophy and teaching interests, (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness (such as, sample syllabi, sample assignments, course evaluations, or other relevant materials), and (5) contact information for three references who can provide confidential letters of recommendation.

Application Instructions

The review of applications will begin May 16, 2025, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemsun.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/12/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15578

Tufts University

Rank: Part-Time Lecturer in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position to teach two in-person undergraduate courses in American politics during the 2025-2026 academic year. Both courses can be in the same semester (fall or spring), or the applicant can propose teaching one course per semester.

Qualifications

We welcome applications across the American politics subfield, though we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach a course on the U.S. Congress and/or the U.S. Presidency. Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science or related field required. College/university teaching experience strongly preferred.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio at: apply.interfolio.com/165149. Please submit a dossier including a cover letter that includes a discussion of teaching interests and/or experience, curriculum vitae, draft syllabus for at least one proposed course, and one letter of recommendation.

The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Abdulahi Salam, Administrative Coordinator, at Abdulahi.Salam@tufts.edu with any questions. More information about our department can be found here: <https://as.tufts.edu/politicalscience/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/28/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15566

Baylor University

Rank: Lecturer, Full-Time, Temporary - Political Science

To apply, go to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/164380>

Applications will be reviewed as they are received.

Baylor University: Office of the Provost: Arts and Sciences: Arts and Sciences - Humanities and Social Sciences: Political Science

This is a temporary lecturer position with full-time responsibilities teaching courses in the Department of Political Science during the 2025-2026 academic year. Primary teaching responsibilities will be the core curriculum common course, PSC 1387 The U.S. Constitution, Its Interpretation, and the American Constitutional Experience. We especially welcome applicants with research or undergraduate teaching experience in American politics, public law, or political or constitutional theory. An ability to teach introductory courses in another subfield of political science is welcome but not required. Finalists will be required to attend an on-campus interview with University administration. Employment will be contingent upon the successful completion of a background check.

Located in Waco, Texas, Baylor University is the oldest college in Texas. With a population of 21,000 diverse students, Baylor is one of the top universities in the nation, having been named an R1 institution by the Carnegie Classification in January 2022. Baylor is also on the honor roll of the "Great Colleges to Work For" from The Chronicle of Higher Education; Baylor offers competitive salaries and benefits while allowing faculty and staff to live in one of the fastest-growing parts of the state. Our strategic plan, Illuminate, guides the University as we continue to live up to Baylor's mission of educating men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Qualifications

The successful applicant must hold an advanced degree in the teaching discipline, preferably the Ph.D., by the start date of the appointment. Teaching experience is preferred.

The following application materials should be submitted through Interfolio:

- (1) a cover/application letter,
- (2) current curriculum vitae,
- (3) an official transcript of the highest degree completed (if a Ph.D. or other advanced degree is in progress, a transcript showing hours completed toward the Ph.D. is also required)

All applicants must complete the self-disclosed Religious Affiliation Form in Interfolio.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/21/2025

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15523

University of Chicago

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher Position at the University of Chicago

Postdoctoral Researcher Position at the University of Chicago, Postdoctoral Scholar in American Politics

Employment type: Postdoctoral, full-time (40 hours/week)

Duration: This position is planned to be 12 months, from August 1, 2025 through July 31, 2026, though we have some flexibility on the timing. Please indicate your availability in your cover letter.

Reappointment is possible dependent on satisfactory performance, the availability of funding, and the candidate's continuing eligibility for postdoctoral training. The total duration of an individual's postdoctoral experience may not exceed seven years, including postdoctoral work at other institutions.

Applications are strongly preferred by March 31, 2025, though the position will remain open until filled or the search is closed. Interviews with shortlisted candidates: April 1-30, 2025.

Responsibilities and expected outputs:

- The Postdoctoral Researcher will collaborate with Professor Jon Rogowski on research related to American political institutions.
- You will have time to carry out your own research projects.
- You will be encouraged to participate in the intellectual life of the Department of Political Science, and the University of Chicago more broadly, by attending the weekly American politics workshops, hosting public conversations, etc.
- The Postdoctoral Researcher must be based at the University of Chicago's main campus in Chicago, IL.

Skills and qualifications:

- Ph.D. in political science (preferred), economics, or adjacent disciplines
- Strong skills in quantitative methods, data analysis, project management, and written communication

What we offer:

- 12-month employment at the Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago
- $75,000/year salary
- This position is benefits-eligible, and information regarding benefits can be found here.
- Flexible working arrangements

Your application package should include:

- A 1-3 page cover letter explaining your research interests and experience, and how you would expect to advance your research agenda during the fellowship year

- An up-to-date CV
- Two academic writing samples (e.g., chapter of doctoral thesis, articles, working papers)
- Two letters of recommendation submitted by the letter authors to the email address below

Please send your application electronically, in PDF format (either as one single file or as separate PDFs) to americanpolitics@uchicago.edu. Inquiries about the position and project can be addressed here as well.

Applications are strongly preferred by March 31, 2025, though the position will remain open until filled or the search is closed. Interviews with shortlisted candidates: April 1-30, 2025.

Starting date of position: August 1, 2025 (with some flexibility).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/17/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15512

University of Southern California

Rank: Open Rank Tenure Track Faculty Position

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC) in Los Angeles invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in American Politics as part of a major hiring initiative.

We seek candidates with a strong substantive research program in any domain of American politics, whose work advances theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield.

Candidates are expected to have strong methodological training, and their methodological skills, ability to advise graduate students on methodological issues and teach graduate classes in the Department's core methods sequence will be a consideration. A strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate education is also expected.

The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will start March 24, 2025 and will continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/open-rank-faculty-position-in-american-politics/1209/77699335312>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

The annual base salary range for this position is $100,510 - $281,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal records in a manner consistent with applicable laws and regulations, including the Los Angeles County Fair Chance Ordinance for employers and the Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance, and with due consideration for patient and student safety. Please refer to the Background Screening Policy Appendix D for specific employment screen implications for the position for which you are applying.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/11/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15504

University of Southern California

Rank: Practice-track or Teaching-track position - Chair & Co-Director

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California invites applicants for a practice-track or teaching-track faculty position as The Carmen H. and Louis Warschaw Chair in Practical Politics with an anticipated start date in the Fall of 2025. The successful candidate will serve as Co-Director of the USC Dornsife Center for the Political Future (CPF).

The USC Dornsife Center for the Political Future combines rigorous intellectual inquiry with the deep engagement of students and Fellows and conducts conversations and conferences to advance civil dialogue, transcend partisan divisions, and seek solutions to pressing local, national, and global challenges. CPF events, programs, scholarships, and internships inspire and train students for careers in public service and lifetimes of civic engagement. Further information about CPF can be found here: https://drive.google.com/file/d/1MYqrGftp3wK3tMVolyNgm_btYrAePbMl/view Candidates for this position should have a long and distinguished record of high-level, first-hand experience in practical politics at the state and federal level and demonstrable teaching abilities. Candidates should submit a cover letter, current curriculum vitae, and names of two references who can speak to teaching ability. In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/practice-track-or-teaching-track-faculty-position-in-political-science-and-international-relations/1209/77401697392>.

The annual base salary range for this position is $175,000 - $250,000. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/11/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15505

Western Carolina University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - American Government & Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Western Carolina University is searching for a visiting assistant professor with a specialization in American politics (subfield open) to join our growing and accomplished faculty.

This is a fixed-term nine-month position with the potential for summer teaching. The anticipated start date is August 2025. The successful candidate will contribute to the Political Science program by teaching six courses per academic year on our Cullowhee, NC campus, including sections of our "Introduction to American Government" course, a core course for our Political Science major and a key component in the University's general education program. Upper-level courses within the candidate's specialization may also be part of the teaching load.

Minimum qualifications include candidates that are advanced ABD with a minimum of 18 graduate credit hours in Political Science from an accredited university.

Preferred qualifications include a PhD in Political Science from an accredited institution, prior teaching experience at the university level, and a promising research agenda in American government or politics.

Candidates will apply online: <https://jobs.wcu.edu/postings/29969>

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on or about March 5, 2025.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/7/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15406

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor-in-Residence, Public Law, Department of Political Science

https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNLV-External/job/UNLV1-Main-Campus-Las-Vegas/Assistant-Professor-in-Residence--Public-Law--Department-of-Political-Science--R0146179-_R0146179

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, invites applications from well-qualified individuals for an Assistant Professor-in-Residence of Public Law starting in the fall semester of 2025. At UNLV, faculty-in-residence are full-time, non-tenure-track, instruction-intensive faculty members with a promotional track from Assistant Professor-in-Residence, to Associate Professor-in-Residence, to Professor-in-Residence. Faculty-in-Residence in the Department of Political Science participate in departmental meetings and committees, and they contribute to departmental deliberation and decision making on most matters. Job responsibilities include teaching twelve credits in each of the fall and spring semesters, which may include a mixture of in-person and online classes. In addition to teaching introductory courses in American politics, the successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in the American judicial process and various topics in constitutional law from a social science perspective. Other responsibilities include mentoring undergraduate students and providing appropriate levels of service at the department, college, and university levels. The department is interested in candidates whose professional experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/5/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15398

University of Chicago

Rank: Post-doctoral Position in Political Science at the University of Chicago

Postdoctoral Researcher Position at the University of Chicago:

<https://democracy.uchicago.edu/>

The Chicago Center on Democracy at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for a postdoctoral scholar to work on issues of democratic engagement in transnational settings, with a focus on Latin America. This 14-month grant-funded position will support the international project "Global Governance, Trust and Democratic Engagement in Past and Present" (GLO), working under the guidance of Professor Susan Stokes at the University of Chicago, as part of an international team with collaborators from Canada, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.

Drawing on insights from history, international relations, political science and sociology, GLO pursues two major lines of inquiry. First, it examines campaigns that sought to create, reform, transform, or abolish international organizations. In doing so, it highlights the democratic potentials and shortcomings of international organizations, while tracing broader efforts to democratize international relations. Second, the project investigates attempts by non-governmental organizations and social movements to enlist the support of international bodies, partly in response to the obstacles they encountered domestically.

This is an in-person position at the University of Chicago. The position description and application instructions can be found here: <https://democracy.uchicago.edu/files/2025/01/UChicago-global-governance-postdoc-posting-250113-1.pdf>

Applications are strongly preferred by February 2nd, 2025. Please reach out to democracy@uchicago.edu with any additional questions, and kindly share with anyone who might be interested.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Date Posted: 1/21/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15356

Quinnipiac University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor of Political Science

The Department of Philosophy and Political Science in the College of Arts & Sciences at Quinnipiac University seeks a dynamic, student-centered Political Scientist to teach at the undergraduate level. We are looking for applicants in the field of American Politics who specialize in ethnic/racial politics. We are also open to candidates specializing in other areas of American Politics whose expertise meaningfully intersects with race and ethnic politics. Candidates using theoretical, quantitative, interpretive, or historical approaches are equally welcome. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Teaching Professor, with expectations for teaching (four courses per semester), advising students, and engaging in service activities and committees that strengthen the program, department, college, and university community. Our student-centered department has a strong sense of community, and our faculty are highly collaborative in both teaching and research. We welcome and encourage applications from candidates of all backgrounds.

The anticipated start date is August 2025.

About the College:

The College of Arts & Sciences is a vibrant and inclusive community dedicated to providing an immersive and distinctive educational experience. Known for our inclusive teaching, faculty mentorship, and high-impact experiences, our programs integrate career planning and skill development into a broad education tailored to meet the needs and challenges of the 21st century. Our students emerge as ethical and intellectual leaders, capable of critical and independent thinking, equipped to collaborate on solutions to pressing global issues, and prepared for success in their personal, professional, and civic lives. The College of Arts and Sciences offers 25 undergraduate majors, 34 undergraduate minors, an MS in Molecular and Cell Biology, 6 undergraduate and 1 graduate certificates, and 13 undergraduate/graduate dual-degree programs.

About Quinnipiac:

Quinnipiac University is a private, coeducational institution located 90 minutes north of New York City and two hours from Boston. The university currently has an enrollment of 9,000 students in more than 130 degree programs through its Schools of Business, Communications, Education, Computing, and Engineering, Health Sciences, Law, Medicine, Nursing, and the College of Arts and Sciences. Our 21 Division I teams have achieved remarkable success, boasting multiple conference titles. This includes a 2023 NCAA National Championship win in ice hockey, a three-time defending national champion women's rugby team, and a trip to the Sweet 16 for our women's basketball team. The Quinnipiac University Poll is nationally recognized as a leader in public opinion research, and the university is consistently recognized by U.S. News & World Report and Princeton Review's "The Best 388 Colleges." The university is in the midst of program expansion and renewal for both traditional and adult learners, attraction of diverse communities, development of innovative corporate partnerships, and construction of an ambitious set of capital projects. For more information, please visit qu.edu. Connect with Quinnipiac on Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, TikTok and X.

Responsibilities:

Teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate students and help them achieve their academic and career goals

Teach courses in race and ethnic politics

Teach courses in the American government survey, Introduction to Political Science, American Political Movements, and occasional teaching of our undergraduate methods and senior seminars

Engage in service to support the program, department, college and university, which includes attending weekly department meetings and other college and university meetings as required

The successful candidate should be a strong communicator who is comfortable responding to requests for media interviews and commentary regarding their area of expertise

Education Requirements:

Ph.D. in political science, or a related social science, must be completed by the start of appointment

Qualifications:

Experience or a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse student populations and with the effective use of inclusive teaching practices

Demonstrated ability to teach courses in race and ethnic politics

Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrated success in teaching, preferably at the college level

Ability and interest in teaching courses in U.S. national institutions, political psychology, social movements, public policy, survey methodology/polling, or experiential learning pedagogy

Experience in curriculum design and development

Experience and interest in guiding student internships and other forms of experiential learning

Experience seeking funding to support research or teaching

Special Instructions to Applicants:

TO APPLY:

Applications must be submitted electronically to <https://career.qu.edu/ci/en-us/job/495853/fulltime-teaching-faculty-political-science> and include:

1. Letter of interest that addresses your qualifications for the position.
2. Curriculum vitae with a list of three academic/professional references who will not be contacted without your permission.
3. Teaching statement (one page preferred) that describes your approach to instruction, which includes a description of your commitment to inclusive teaching practices.
4. Sample teaching evaluations if available.

Applications received by October 21, 2024 will receive first consideration.

Quinnipiac University has a strong commitment to the principles and practices of diversity and inclusion throughout the University community and welcomes candidates who enhance that diversity.

We offer a comprehensive benefits package for full-time faculty and staff which includes tuition remission and a culture that is inclusive and driven by excellence.

Quinnipiac University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14827

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor, African American Studies and Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology

Description

Yale's Departments of African American Studies, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology invite applicants for multiple positions at the assistant professor level beginning July 2025. These positions are part of a cluster hire in African American Studies and the social sciences. The goal is to deepen empirical scholarship of Black experiences—growing the community at Yale necessary for such scholarship in the process. Applicants' research should fit within one or both of two broad subfields: 1) Racial Attitudes and Political Participation (e.g., estimating the role of prejudice in politics, topics in sexuality and gender identity, race and attitudes towards climate justice, and/or other relevant subspecializations) and 2) Race, Systems, and Institutions (e.g., the intersections of race and class, race and artificial intelligence, race relations in specific domains such as education, child welfare, public administration, and/or other relevant subspecializations). All applicants will be jointly appointed with African American Studies and either Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology and each successful applicant will work with their hiring departments to construct a mentorship plan designed to optimize the applicant's ability to navigate the resources of two departments on their path towards promotion. Candidates will be expected to teach courses whose content falls within one or both general areas of research listed above. Candidates who wish to be considered for more than one combination (e.g., African American Studies and Psychology and/or African American Studies and Sociology) should indicate this desire on the cover sheet and apply by the earliest relevant deadline below.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD (or equivalent) at time of hire.

Application Instructions

Yale seeks outstanding applicants who will advance our mission of understanding Black experiences across a broad range of disciplines.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Political Science, please apply by September 15, 2024.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Sociology, please apply by October 1, 2024.

For both the Af-Am/PoliSci and Af-Am/Soc applicants, review of applications in these areas will begin immediately after the deadlines and you will be informed no later than the end of November about the status of your application.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Psychology, please apply by November 1, 2024.

For these applicants, review of applications in these areas will also begin immediately after the deadline, and you will be informed by early February about the status of your application.

For questions, please contact Senior Administrative Assistant, Ms. Vanessa Epps @vanessa.epps@yale.edu. Applicants must submit the following materials for full consideration to URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/151852>

Cover Letter – Indicate your desired department affiliations (African American Studies and Political Science, Psychology, and/or Sociology) and broad area(s) of research.

Sample Works – For applicants wishing to be considered jointly with Political Science and/or Sociology, submit up to two samples of original research. For applicants wishing to be considered jointly with Psychology, submit three samples of original research.

Research Statement – Describe your most significant scientific discoveries and accomplishments to date as well as your goals for your future research program in a supportive environment like Yale. (2 pages max)

Mentoring and Teaching – Describe your philosophy, experience, and plans for mentoring and teaching undergraduate and graduate students. (1 page max)

Curriculum Vitae – Include your most recent CV with links to publications (or website).

Letters of Recommendation – Please arrange for three referees to upload letters of recommendation by the due date. Recommenders are encouraged to upload them directly.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2025

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14685

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Racial and Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in racial and ethnic politics. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151793. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14630

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire multiple faculty members with expertise in American Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any area of American Politics. Candidates will be expected to teach courses in American Politics commensurate with their experience. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151671>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14618

Simmons University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

ABOUT SIMMONS

Located in Boston's historic Fenway area, Simmons has a strong tradition of empowering women and challenging traditional gender roles. Simmons University was one of the first higher education institutions to prepare women to become leaders and has evolved to become a university offering a women's undergraduate program and graduate programs open to all.

You're joining our community at an especially exciting time as one of our strategic goals is to become the most inclusive campus in New England. You'll find that people who work here are truly committed to our mission of preparing students to become champions of social justice and leaders in their professions and their communities. This commitment and pride make for a dynamic workplace. Simmons University is committed to inclusive excellence in all aspects of an individual's community experience.

As a university committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, Simmons encourages applications from all under-represented groups. Simmons is committed to creating, developing, promoting, and enhancing inclusive hiring practices—at all levels, for all positions—ensuring diverse talent pools and the delivery of a consistent positive candidate experience. Simmons is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to continuing to develop a more diverse faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum.

ABOUT OPPORTUNITY

The Department of Politics and Policy in the Gwen Ifill School of Media, Humanities, and Social Sciences at Simmons University invites candidates to submit materials for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American politics.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of effective teaching and scholarship. Multiple areas of expertise within the field of American politics will be considered, including American political institutions, political parties, elections, ideology, voting behavior, and public law. Applicants must be able to teach introduction to American politics, as well as a broad range of electives, including state and local government, Congress and the presidency, and constitutional law, among others. The ability to teach in our Master of Public Policy program is preferred, though not required.

PRIMARY DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

- Carrying a 6-course teaching load per academic year.
- Participating in the ongoing creation of explicit and implicit curricula in consultation with faculty and program leadership.
- Conducting research and scholarship.
- Demonstrate service to the department, school, and university through committee work.

ACADEMIC RESPONSIBILITY

- Serve as instructor for on-ground and online courses.
- Design individual courses and classes.

- Support course development and revision schedule for classes.
- Participate in ongoing Department curricular planning and periodic program review of on-ground and online classes.

STUDENT ADVISING & ENGAGEMENT

- Serve as primary faculty contact for matriculated students, including monitoring academic status, resolving student concerns, and verifying graduation requirements.
- Ensure advising processes are carried out alongside Department Chair and academic advising team and monitor students' course plans and progress towards their degree objectives.

OTHER DUTIES

- Assume other duties as assigned by the Dean and Department Chair.

TERMS OF SERVICE

- The position will be a 10-month, full-time, tenure-track faculty appointment.
- This position is campus based in Boston, Massachusetts.

QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in Political Science or a related discipline required
- Demonstrated record of excellent teaching
- Demonstrated record of excellent scholarship
- A robust scholarly agenda
- Effective communication and organizational skills.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS

A Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing the following:

- 1) Cover letter addressing qualifications listed above;
- 2) Current curriculum vitae;
- 3) 1-2-page statement of research;
- 4) 1-2-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy

Three letters of recommendation should be sent separately to Lena Zuckerwise, Chair of the Department of Politics and Policy: lena.zuckerwise@simmons.edu.

To apply, submit your application materials via the Simmons University Careers portal: https://simmons.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Simmons-Careers/job/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics_R10176

Review of Applications will begin on September 15th.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14477

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Visiting Full-Time Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics/Latin American Politics

The Department of Political Science

Visiting Full-Time Faculty Position in Comparative Politics

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a visiting full-time faculty position in comparative politics for the 2025-2026 academic year to begin in August 2025. Candidates should specialize in Latin America. Candidates will be expected to offer two sections of Latin American Politics (19 students) and one section of Introduction to Comparative Politics (27 students) in the fall. In the spring, candidates will offer two sections of Introduction to Comparative Politics and an upper-level course (19 students). This is a one-year, full-time position owing to a faculty leave. You can learn more about Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross at <https://www.holycross.edu/academics/programs/political-science>.

Visiting full-time faculty teach 3 courses each semester and are eligible to apply for support to present at a conference or attend a professional development program through the Provost's Supplemental Research Fund. The College will support reimbursement of relocation costs within its published policies. All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and include full benefits.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching and inclusive pedagogies as informed by current practice and scholarship in the field. Candidates should have experience as an instructor or teaching assistant for introductory courses in comparative politics and Latin American Politics. A preference will be given to candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment; however, advanced ABD candidates with appropriate teaching experience will be considered.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please submit a letter of application; a current curriculum vitae; a statement on teaching philosophy and interests; graduate transcripts (Ph.D. preferred); and two confidential letters of recommendation. In addition, candidates may, at their discretion, include sample comparative politics and Latin American politics syllabi.

In your cover letter, please address the ways you might contribute to and further the College's mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college, and its core commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion (<http://www.holycross.edu/mission>, <http://holycross.edu/campus-life/diversity-and-inclusion>).

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to <https://apply.interfolio.com/169557>.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. For full consideration, please apply by July 3, 2025. Questions about this search may be directed to Prof. Denis Kennedy, Chair of Political Science, at dkennedy@holycross.edu.

COLLEGE OF THE HOLY CROSS

College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,200 students and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts—New England's second-largest city.

The College seeks faculty members who demonstrate an enduring commitment to academic excellence and inclusive excellence and who embrace the educational benefits of a richly diverse community. Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium. To learn more about faculty life at the College, applicants are encouraged to visit <http://holycross.edu/join>.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/24/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15630

Princeton University

Rank: Associate Research Scholar

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Open

The Princeton Society of Fellows in the Liberal Arts, an interdisciplinary group of scholars in the humanities and social sciences, invites applications for the 2026-2029 fellowship competition. Applications are welcome for the following fellowships:

Two or three Open Fellowships in any discipline represented in the Society

One Fellowship in Humanistic Studies

One Fellowship in East Asian Studies

Applicants may be considered for more than one fellowship category pertinent to their research and teaching. The Society's website (sf.princeton.edu) provides additional details on the fellowships, eligibility, disciplines, and application dossier, and we recommend that applicants review this information before submitting an application.

Appointed as Associate Research Scholars in the Council of the Humanities for three years, fellows pursue their research, attend weekly seminars and teach in academic departments. In each of the first two years, fellows teach one undergraduate course per semester, pending approval by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty; in their third year, they teach only one course in either semester. When teaching, fellows will carry the secondary rank of Lecturer.

Applicants holding the Ph.D. at the time of application must have received the degree after January 1, 2024. Applicants not yet holding the Ph.D. are expected to have completed a substantial portion of the dissertation – at least half – at the time of application. Successful candidates must fulfill all requirements for the Ph.D., including filing of the dissertation, by June 15, 2026. Candidates for/recipients of doctoral degrees in Education, Jurisprudence, and from Princeton University are not eligible. Applicants may apply only once to the Princeton Society of Fellows.

Selection is based on exceptional scholarly achievement and evidence of unusual promise, range and quality of teaching experience, and potential contributions to an interdisciplinary community. The Society of Fellows seeks a diverse and international pool of applicants.

Applicants are asked to submit an application by August 5, 2025 (11:59 p.m. ET) to the online portal at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/38581>.

The salary range is $101,000 – $105,000. The number of fellowships offered each year is contingent on funding. The work location for these positions is in-person on campus at Princeton University, and the positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: 8/5/2025

Date Posted: 6/23/2025

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15627

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Professor of Practice - Advertising

Location: Syracuse, NY

Pay Range: $80,000 - $95,000

Pay Determination: Salary offers at Syracuse University will be based on education, experience, and relevant skills, as well as the academic or professional discipline of the position in the context of the home department, school, or college. Salary offers may also be influenced by prior relevant work or industry experience, where applicable. Faculty pay ranges are for 8.5 months' salary unless otherwise specified.

FLSA Status: Exempt

Hours: As determined by department chair and associate dean. Office hours are required.

Job Type: Full Time

Rank: Professor of Practice

Campus:

Unionized Position Code: Not Applicable

Job Description:

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University invites applications for a Professor of Practice position in Advertising who can bring visibility to the School and our students. The job starts in August, 2025.

The successful candidate will teach both strategy courses, primarily in Media Planning, Creative Strategy and Advertising Campaign Development or other specialized skills to enhance the curriculum.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree is required.
- Master's degree preferred.

Job Specific Qualifications: Compelling candidates will show:

- Enthusiasm and promise for exemplary teaching, whether through prior teaching experience or professional mentoring roles supervising young advertising practitioners.

- Evidence they can build close connections with the advertising industry, bringing cutting-edge knowledge to classroom, and sharpening students skillsets that meet industry demands.
- Applicants with media planning experience are particularly desirable.
- University teaching experience is preferred, but not mandatory.
- The successful candidate will have extensive experience working on major national brands either in advertising agencies or client-side media.

Responsibilities:

A Professor-of-Practice will teach three courses per semester. Teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate Media Planning, Creative Strategy Development, and campaign development. Courses the new hire might teach include multiple sections of ADV 301, 208, 507 and 425. (<http://coursecatalog.syr.edu/content.php?catoid=32&navoid=4136>) and other courses in the graduate level that complement the individual's expertise.

The position expects connecting the Media and Strategy ad community with our advertising students. This could involve activities such as, inviting Media professionals to campus as speakers in the Eric Mower Advertising Forum, to help keep the curriculum current.

Physical Requirements: Not Applicable

Tools/Equipment: Not Applicable

Application Instructions:

Applicants must submit the following documents for consideration:

- 1) Curriculum Vitae/Resume
- 2) Cover Letter, expressing interest and fit for the position
- 3) One philosophy statement that addresses each of these three areas: a. Teaching – The Newhouse School prides itself on the high quality of education it provides and its ability to get students job-ready Day One. Please describe your teaching interests and philosophy of how students best learn. b. Statement on contribution to University mission - Please describe how your past experience has prepared you to contribute to the School's and the University's strategic commitments to creating a campus that is welcoming to all. c. Creative Activity - The Newhouse School values creative activity. Creative activity can include, as examples, industry trade or consumer media/news articles, and media production, development or multimedia storytelling (photo/video, film, sound, web design, apps, scriptwriting). Please describe how your experience will help you contribute to the University and School's commitment to research and creative initiatives.
- 4) List of at least three references with knowledge of your work
- 5) An optional field for your creative portfolio for consideration

For more information contact Edward Russell, Search Committee Chair, Advertising Department Chair, S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Syracuse University. Phone: 315-443-4045. Email: edrussel@syr.edu

About Advertising Department The department has about 350 majors coming from across the U.S. and around the world. In the past eight years, our advertising students won more than 1,200 creative awards including the 2025 Cannes Future Lions Grand Prix (<https://newhouse.syracuse.edu/news/how-2-newhouse-students-won-the-top-student-creative-advertising-award-in-the-world-the-cannes-future-lions-grand-prix/>), One Show, Addy's, D&AD New Blood, New York Festivals, Creativity International Awards, Communication Arts Advertising Annual, Communication Arts Student Showcase,

Lurzer's Archive, ADDYS and other creative competitions. Plus, the IAB recognized Newhouse Advertising as one of top 5 Digital Advertising programs nationwide. The strategy track students have won the national AAF National Student Advertising Competition (NSAC) twice and District Two competition numerous times. The Media students have been named Media Fellows by the Washington Media Scholars Foundation. Media. The NewHouse (TNH) is one of the largest student-run advertising agencies in the country. TNH has won both national competitions and international competitions including the GM Marketing Challenge; the Honda Social Media Challenge; and the Qatar FIFA 2022 Advertising Competition. ADV full-time faculty are composed of nationally accomplished professionals and outstanding scholars who are tirelessly devoted to student success (see info @<https://newhouse.syr.edu/academics/advertising/faculty/>). The program hosts the largest advertising speaker series in the country, the Eric Mower Advertising Forum that has welcomed over 300 top advertising professionals to campus including David Droga, Liz Taylor, Greg Hahn. (<https://newhouse.syr.edu/academics/advertising/eric-mower-advertising-forum/>)
About the Newhouse School

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University trains the next generation of communications leaders, preparing students to not only enter a rapidly changing media industry, but to shape its future. Called one of the "very best schools" in its field by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC) in an April 2023 reaccreditation report, Newhouse has been lauded for providing an excellent educational experience due to its outstanding students, faculty, staff, leadership and facilities, as well as financial stability and a deep curriculum. The Newhouse School is committed to expanding academic excellence through research and creative activity, as well as community engagement and professional opportunities to help students develop their skill set outside the classroom. Newhouse is home to approximately 2,100 undergraduates, 200 residential master's degree students, 200 online master's degree students and 15 doctoral degree students. They are among the best in the country, having secured a place in the class through a highly competitive admissions process. The typical admitted first-year student has a 3.9 GPA.

The school's 250,000-square-foot, three-building complex is a leading-edge learning environment where students are exposed to top-notch tools and technologies used by professionals in the field. Features include Dick Clark Studios, a high-tech entertainment production facility that rivals many Hollywood studios; the Diane and Bob Miron Digital News Center, complete with a contemporary news set, a virtual studio that accommodates green screen production and state-of-the-art lighting systems and cameras; the Alan Gerry Center for Media Innovation, a creative hub where Newhouse expertise in content development and production meets the latest media technology and programming trends; the Emerging Insights Lab, a state-of-the-art social media command center; and the Collaborative Media Room, home to the student-produced multimedia news site, The NewsHouse.

To learn more about the Newhouse School, visit <https://newhouse.syr.edu>.

About Syracuse University:

Syracuse University is a private, international research university with distinctive academics, diversely unique offerings, and an undeniable spirit. Located in the geographic heart of New York State, with a global footprint, and over 150 years of history, Syracuse University offers a quintessential college experience.

The scope of Syracuse University is a testament to its strengths: a pioneering history dating back to 1870; a choice of more than 200 majors, 100 minors, and 200 advanced degree programs offered across the University's 13 schools and colleges; over 15,000 undergraduates and over 6,000 graduate students; more than a quarter of a million alumni in 160 countries; and a student population from all 50 U.S. states and 123 countries. For more information, please visit <http://www.syracuse.edu>.

About the Syracuse area:

Syracuse is a medium-sized city situated in the geographic center of New York State approximately 250 miles northwest of New York City. The metro-area population totals approximately 500,000. The area offers a low cost of living and provides many social, cultural, and recreational options, including parks, museums, festivals, professional regional theater, and premier shopping venues. Syracuse and Central New York present a wide range of seasonal recreation and attractions ranging from water skiing and snow skiing, hiking in the Adirondacks, touring the historic sites, visiting wineries along the Finger Lakes, and biking on trails along the Erie Canal.

Application Deadline:

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/6303522>

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

Syracuse University has a long history of engaging veterans and the military-connected community through its educational programs, community outreach, and employment programs. After World War II, Syracuse University welcomed more than 10,000 returning veterans to our campus, and those veterans literally transformed Syracuse University into the national research institution it is today. The University's contemporary commitment to veterans builds on this historical legacy, and extends to both class-leading initiatives focused on making an SU degree accessible and affordable to the post-9/11 generation of veterans, and also programs designed to position Syracuse University as the employer of choice for military veterans, members of the Guard and Reserve, and military family members.

Copyright ©2025 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 6/11/2026

Date Posted: 6/20/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15622

Sun Yat-sen University

Rank: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the School of Government, Sun Yat-sen University, China invites applications for tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the ranks of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor. We seek outstanding political scientists with expertise in comparative politics, political science methodology, or Chinese studies to join our vibrant academic community.

1. Position Details

1.1 Ranks: Assistant Professor (tenure-track), Associate Professor (tenure-track and tenured), Professor (tenured)

1.2 Fields of Interest: Comparative Politics, Political Science Methodology, Chinese Studies

2. Qualifications

2.1 A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required.

2.2 Candidates must currently hold a post-doctoral position, an assistant professor position, or a higher academic rank.

2.3 A robust record of research and publication in one or more of the specified fields.

2.4 Demonstrated excellence in teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels.

2.5 For Associate and Professor ranks, candidates must have an established research profile with a significant publication record and evidence of academic leadership.

3. Responsibilities

3.1 Conduct high-impact research and publish in leading academic journals.

3.2 Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in political science, tailored to expertise in comparative politics, methodology, or Chinese studies.

3.3 Supervise graduate students and contribute to the development of the department's academic programs.

3.4 Participate in departmental, university, and professional service activities.

4. Why Join Us?

4.1 Competitive Salary: We offer a decent, competitive salary commensurate with experience and qualifications, ensuring that our faculty are fairly compensated for their expertise and contributions.

4.2 Exceptional Organizational Culture: Our department fosters a very good, collegial, and collaborative atmosphere where faculty are encouraged to pursue their research interests, engage in interdisciplinary collaboration, and contribute to a thriving academic community. We prioritize professional growth and work-life balance.

4.3 Unique Opportunities: Faculty at Sun Yat-sen University benefit from opportunities for international collaboration, access to cutting-edge research facilities, and a dynamic academic environment that supports innovation and excellence.

5. Application Process

This is an ongoing recruitment, and applications are welcome at any time. There is no deadline for applications; applications are accepted on a rolling basis, and reviews and interviews will be conducted periodically. Candidates are encouraged to apply whenever they are ready, as the position remains open indefinitely. Interested candidates should submit the following materials:

(1) A cover letter outlining research interests, teaching experience, and alignment with the department's priorities.

(2) A current curriculum vitae.

(3) A research statement detailing current and future research plans.

(4) A teaching statement describing teaching philosophy and experience.

(5) Two writing samples (e.g., published articles or manuscripts).

(6) Contact information for three professional references.

Applications should be submitted electronically to: soghr@mail.sysu.edu.cn.

6. About Sun Yat-sen University

Located in Guangzhou, China, Sun Yat-sen University is a prestigious, top-tier research institution renowned for its commitment to academic excellence and innovation. The School of Government is a leader in political science and public administration, fostering a dynamic environment for research, teaching, and collaboration.

7. About Guangzhou

Guangzhou, a bustling metropolis in southern China, offers a rich blend of cultural heritage, economic vitality, and modern amenities. As a key academic and economic center, it provides an attractive setting for international scholars.

For more information about the department and university, visit <http://sog.sysu.edu.cn>.

Sun Yat-sen University is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from all qualified individuals.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/17/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15615

Charles University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Digital and Empirical Constitutionalism

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Research Methods, Political Psychology, Political Philosophy & Theory

The Dean of the Faculty of Law at Charles University hereby announces

a call for applications

for a full-time or part-time position as Assistant Professor in Digital and Empirical Constitutionalism (2+2 years, with the possibility of a tenure track) at the Institute for the Interregional Study of Constitutionalism (IISC).

Charles University is the leading university in Central Europe, boasting a nearly 700-year tradition and excellent international rankings, making it one of the most reputable and prestigious universities worldwide. The Faculty of Law, established in 1348 as one of the university's four founding faculties, is now the largest accredited law faculty in the Czech Republic, with over 4,500 students.

We are seeking a candidate whose research focuses on discourse analysis in the (digital) public sphere, the role of deliberative democracy in the context of social media, and uses empirical methods in the analysis of collective identity. The successful applicant will join a multidisciplinary research team studying constitutionalism as a foundation for collective identity and community.

The initial contract will be for two years. Upon a successful review, the candidate may receive a contract extension of up to two years, with a pathway to a permanent position.

Your Tasks

1. Conduct research on following topics: (1) identity politics, the digital public sphere, and deliberative democracy; (2) constitutionalism and the construction of collective identity.

2. Use tools like text mining and machine learning to collect and analyze (social) media content, governmental documents, and legal texts (discourse analysis).

3. Program social bots on social media platforms for research purposes.

4. Design, oversee, and analyze a survey using statistical methods.

5. Collaborate closely with the research team on the conduct of the research.

6. Publish in leading academic journals.

7. Present your results at major academic conferences in the field and contribute to the work of the IISC, including developing and submitting grant proposals.

Your Profile

1. A Ph.D. degree in law, political science, philosophy, psychology, or sociology with a focus on digital technologies (such as digital humanities, digital social science, or digital psychology), or a Ph.D. in computer science (e.g., AI) with a focus on issues related to law, social sciences, or humanities.
2. Knowledge and experience with computational methods for Natural Language Processing (NLP), including text classification and analysis.
3. Expertise in the theory of social and collective identity, along with knowledge of deliberative democracy, is an advantage.
4. A solid track record of publications in peer-reviewed journals.
5. A team player with a high degree of autonomy.
6. Proficiency in English; knowledge of Arabic is a plus.
7. Willingness to reside in Prague throughout the contract.
8. While not required, knowledge of Czech or a willingness to learn it would be considered an advantage.

What We Offer

- A financially competitive salary (up to 2.300 EUR net for a full-time position, plus publication bonuses).
- Flexible working conditions.
- An opportunity to work in a dynamic, interdisciplinary research environment.
- Start date: September 2025

How to Apply

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Please submit the following documents in a single PDF file:

- A cover letter.
- Your CV.
- A relevant publication.
- Names of two referees (the referees will only be contacted with the candidate's agreement).

Applications should be emailed to Karolína Ježková (karolina.jezkova@prf.cuni.cz). Please contact Volker Kaul (kaulv@prf.cuni.cz) for any further inquiries.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 7/7/2025

Date Posted: 6/9/2025

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15606

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Science (open subfield).

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Science (open subfield)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the "FPSE") at Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in any of the following subfields of political science: Japanese Politics, Political Economy, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Formal and Quantitative Methods. We seek candidates who advance theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. Candidates should have strong methodological training and be able to advise graduate students on both substantive and methodological issues. The start date can be as early as April 1, 2026 (see below).

Teaching responsibility:

The successful candidate will teach a course in the field of empirical political science, such as "Introduction to Political Analysis," "Quantitative Political Analysis," etc. and other related courses for the School of Political Science and Economics (Undergraduate Program) and the Graduate School of Political Science, as well as research seminars.

Scheduled start of employment:

April 1, 2026, or September 1, 2026 (or a mutually agreed later date)

For more details and instructions for application, please go to the website at

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news-en/2025/06/02/24138/>

Start Date: Spring 2026

Application Deadline: 9/2/2025

Date Posted: 6/3/2025

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15599

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2025-2026 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF07149>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 16, 2025, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/29/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15598

National University of Singapore

Rank: Head of Department position (Full Professor level with tenure)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for the position of Head of Department at the rank of full professor or higher (endowed chair professor). Research and teaching specialisation is open, although candidates should contribute to one or more of the Department's four subfields: comparative politics, governance and public policy, international relations, and political theory.

The successful candidate will have an internationally recognised record of research and publication, as well as a record of very good teaching. Exceptional leadership skills are essential, as is a demonstrable commitment to intellectual and methodological pluralism. Other qualifications include evidence of substantial administrative experience; a record of promoting faculty and student success; a commitment to collegiality and diversity; and excellent interpersonal, communication, and organisational skills. The Head is expected to provide leadership to implement a strategic vision, with the support of department faculty, which advances the Department's international profile and reputation. Research and teaching expectations may be reduced (e.g. one course teaching commitment per year), given the Head's crucial service role.

Interested candidates should submit a CV, cover letter that addresses the qualifications outlined above, research statement (approx. two pages), teaching statement (approx. two pages), and names and addresses of at least four references.

Review of applications will begin in August 2025 and will continue until the position is filled. Campus visits for selected candidates will be arranged for October 2025. The position is expected to commence in January 2027. Questions about the position should be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor William Bain (wbain@nus.edu.sg).

Exceptional candidates at the rank of senior associate professor are welcome to apply, subject to being promoted to full professor upon appointment at NUS.

The Department of Political Science is a vibrant multidisciplinary community comprised of over 25 tenure- and educator-track faculty members. The Department offers degrees in Political Science and Global Studies at the undergraduate level and in Political Science at the Masters and Doctoral levels. It also partners with the International Political Science Association (IPSA) to host the IPSA-NUS Summer School in Social Science Research Methods annually. It is one of 16 departments in a large Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, which is home to a comprehensive range of programmes in Asian Studies, Humanities, Social Science, and Language Studies. The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Asia Research Institute, the Asia-Europe Foundation, the East Asian Institute, the ISEAS–Yusof Ishak Institute, among other research units inside and outside NUS, provide additional opportunities for research interaction and collaboration.

NUS offers an internationally competitive remuneration package that includes a period of subsidised housing (for non-Singaporean applicants), annual performance bonus, medical benefits, and relocation expenses (where applicable). Outstanding applicants might also be considered for endowed/chair professorship that comes with annual research support and business class travel eligibility. NUS provides significant research support, including generous start-up grants for new faculty members.

Please submit your application through the NUS Career Portal : https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job/Professor-&-Head-of-Department-%28Political-Science%29/29011-en_GB/

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have an internationally recognised record of research and publication, as well as a record of very good teaching. Exceptional leadership skills are essential, as is a strong commitment to intellectual and methodological pluralism. Other qualifications include evidence of substantial administrative experience; a record of promoting faculty and student success; a commitment to collegiality and diversity; and excellent interpersonal, communication, and organisational skills. The Head is expected to provide leadership in co-creating with department faculty to implement a strategic vision, consistent with NUS' research and teaching mission, which advances the Department's international profile and reputation. Research and teaching expectations may be reduced (e.g. one course teaching commitment per year), given the Head's crucial service role.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/27/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15591

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites application for one full-time tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all subfields, including but not limited to international relations (including non-traditional security and human security), international political economy, gender politics, global studies, and governance and public policy. We also encourage applications from candidates with research experience relating to Asia and whose backgrounds are traditionally underrepresented in the discipline.

The teaching load is three courses per academic year. Compensation is competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support. Successful candidates are expected to teach graduate and undergraduate classes and take a leading role in developing new departmental initiatives. Candidates with publications in top outlets who conduct innovative and impactful research using, eg. computational methods, may also be invited to apply for the Presidential Young Professorship. <https://www.nus.edu.sg/careers/nus-programmes/>

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.fas.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) includes scholars working in all areas of political science, as well as an interdisciplinary Global Studies programme examining the processes and effects of globalisation across political, economic, social, and cultural domains (<https://fass.nus.edu.sg/globalstudies>). Faculty and students can take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, and various research institutes including the Asia-Europe Foundation, the Institute of South Asian Studies, the East Asia Institute, and the Yusof Ishak Institute—Institute of Southeast Asian Studies among others. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a global leader in research and higher education. Singapore is a highly livable global city that is a major regional and international travel hub.

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal: https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job/Assistant-Professor-in-Political-Science/28742-en_GB/.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

1. Cover letter clearly detailing their research and teaching interests.
2. Curriculum vitae.
3. Three letters of reference. Please send all letters directly to pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.
4. A research statement of no more than 2 pages stating your research interests and research plans for the next 3 years.
5. A teaching statement of no more than 2 pages, as well as sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and/or other evidence of teaching quality.
6. Up to three writing samples

For full consideration, please submit your materials to this website by 1 July 2025. Applications received after this date may still be considered until the position is filled.

For any queries, please write to: pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/13/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15580

Western Carolina University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - International Relations/Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Western Carolina University is searching for a visiting assistant professor in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics to join our growing and accomplished faculty.

This is a fixed-term nine-month position, with a chance of renewal. The anticipated begin date is August 2025. The successful candidate will contribute to the Political Science and International Studies programs by teaching six courses per academic year, including sections of our "Exploring Global Politics" course, a core introductory class in our Political Science major. Upper-level courses within the candidate's specialization will also be part of the teaching load. The primary location of this position is the Cullowhee, NC campus. The possibility of summer teaching may also be available, but not required for this position.

Preferred qualifications include a PhD in Political Science, International Relations, International Studies, or a related discipline from an accredited institution. Advanced ABD candidates from an accredited university will also be considered. Preferred candidates will also have research and teaching expertise in the politics of the Middle East or Asia, and a demonstrated focus on these regions.

The position is open until filled and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on February 26, 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15350

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. The Department seeks applicants who can offer intermediate courses in European politics, international relations theory and/or international organization. The successful applicant may participate in the college-wide Core Cultures program or teach introductory courses in world politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or be advanced ABD in political science at the time of appointment.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College at <http://apply.interfolio.com/161830>. Review of applications will begin February 15, 2025.

Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men, and our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning." As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse staff committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 2/15/2025

Date Posted: 1/12/2025

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15335

Lehigh University

Rank: Bernard L. & Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Position: Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY. The Department of International Relations invites applications for a tenured Full Professor to fill the Bernard L.

and Bertha F. Cohen Chair, with an anticipated start date of July 2025. The position is open to all research and teaching specializations within the fields of international relations, foreign policy, and/or comparative politics.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in International Relations or a closely related field. The ideal candidate will have connections to the policy community in Washington, DC, and/or New York City and be able to assist students with internship placement.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and excellence in research. The individual hired will, specifically, be expected to teach courses in International Relations at the undergraduate level, engage in scholarly activities, and participate in departmental, college, and university service, as well as advise undergraduate internships.

Lehigh is among the few higher educational institutions in the US that has long had a separate department of IR. This allows students with a particular interest in international affairs to benefit from a concentrated, high-level program of study that few other schools offer.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly-ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for over 7,500 students. Lehigh University has some 5,800 undergraduates, 1,800 graduate students, and nearly 600 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA, a vibrant and historic area. Over 840,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, however, applications should be received by October 11, 2024. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/28335>. Candidates should submit the following materials:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Research statement that describes past scholarly contributions and future research directions

Teaching statement that describes instructional philosophy and courses that the candidate would want to teach or develop

Name and contact information for three references

A statement on contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) that describes knowledge, prior DEI experience, and the candidate's future plans for enhancing community and culture at Lehigh (the Lehigh ADVANCE Center's guide for understanding and preparing such statements is available here)

All inquiries regarding the search should be directed to Ms. Edann Brady at emb703@lehigh.edu or 610-758-3390.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14800

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2025. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Jackson School of Global Affairs, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. This search includes additional resources in two targeted areas within this broader search area. The first is for an assistant professor with expertise in African Politics, who will teach at least one course cross-listed with, and contribute to, Yale's Council on African Studies. The second is for a candidate who works on Environmental Politics, jointly appointed with the Jackson School of Global Affairs. Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in areas of political science commensurate with their expertise. Candidates jointly appointed with Jackson will also teach courses in Jackson's undergraduate and graduate curriculum. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151662>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14619

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

University of London, SOAS

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

Job title: Lecturer (Assistant Professor)(Teaching) Politics of China

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Fixed Term-2025-2026

Grade: Grade 8

Salary: £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 (pro-rata 0.5FTE) per annum

Location: London

Hours: Part-Time (0.5FTE)

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

SOAS is committed to both research intensity and student learning in conjunction with international partnerships that respond to global challenges.

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading, research-led department, ranked 3rd in the world for academic reputation (QS World University Rankings / Politics 2025).

The Department is known for its combination of both academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East). Our MA programme in International Studies and Diplomacy is widely recognised for its distinctive approach to policy-oriented postgraduate training, with a global focus that also covers the role of the US, Europe, and multilateral institutions in partnership with emerging powers. Preparation for careers in international affairs has long been a key strength of the Department.

About the Role:

The Department of Politics and International Studies is pleased to invite applications for a part-time fixed-term Lecturer (Assistant Professor) post focused on Domestic Politics in China (0.5 FTE Teaching 2025-26).

The appointee will strengthen and work with the Department's active group of East Asia-focused scholars, contributing to the Department's undergraduate and postgraduate degrees as well as our online and Executive Education programmes.

Specifically, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise both undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations, and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

What We Offer:

We are committed to providing a supportive and rewarding work environment. In addition to a competitive salary, we offer a comprehensive range of benefits designed to enhance your well-being and work-life balance:

Generous Holiday Entitlement: Benefit from 44 days of holiday (30 days annual leave, plus bank holidays and 6 closure days over Christmas and Easter) to ensure ample time for rest and relaxation.

Flexible Working Arrangements: We recognise the importance of flexibility and offer options to help you manage your professional and personal commitments effectively.

Generous occupational pension scheme: To provide financial security for your future

Learning and Development: We are dedicated to your professional growth and development and offer diverse learning and development opportunities to enhance your skills and advance your career.

Health and Well-being Initiatives: Take advantage of our cycle to work scheme, eye tests, and season ticket loan to support your health and mobility.

Enhanced Family Leave: We offer enhanced maternity, paternity & partner leave, and shared parental leave to support you during significant life events.

Employee Assistance Programme: Access our confidential EAP for advice and support whenever needed.

Discounted Gym Membership: Maintain your fitness with our discounted gym membership.

We would particularly welcome applications from candidates from working class, first generation Higher Education, Black, Asian, other minority ethnic and underrepresented groups from within the UK and beyond. All appointment decisions will be made on merit, following a fair and competitive process.

How to Apply:

Please complete the online application form and upload your CV publications, and a supporting statement

Closing date: 15th July 2025

Interviews to be held: TBC

Use of AI

While AI tools can be beneficial, we value the personal touch and authenticity in job applications. We encourage you to highlight your unique experience, knowledge, skills, and abilities, ensuring all information is accurate. Please use AI tools responsibly and with integrity throughout the application and selection process.

Further information

Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006.

We are able to offer sponsorship for candidates who do not currently possess the right to work in the UK.

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact us via the HR Contact Form | SOAS

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/23/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15625

University of Tennessee

Rank: Assistant Director of National Security & Foreign Affairs, Baker School - UTK

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

The Howard H. Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, seeks applications for a full-time Assistant Director at the Center for National Security & Foreign Affairs (NSFA) at the Baker School. We seek candidates with national security and/or foreign affairs expertise who can help lead the Center's efforts to deliver high quality student experience through undergraduate, graduate, and executive education, both in person and online. The successful candidate will also contribute to the Center's policy engagement work through research and public engagement activities.

The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs and a Master of Public Policy (MPP) with concentrations in national security and nuclear policy, among other focus areas.

This position will play a central role in shaping and expanding the Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs' (NSFA) impact on national security, foreign policy, and public engagement. Working closely with the Director, the Assistant Director will help build a nationally recognized hub for scholarship, student development, and public policy engagement in national security and foreign affairs. This position is responsible for advancing the Center's vision to become a dynamic platform for connecting students, faculty, policymakers, and the public through rigorous research, strategic partnerships, and experiential learning. The successful candidate will contribute to the development of the Center's policy engagement through the execution of research projects, conferences, policy dialogues, and public events that reflect the Center's commitment to addressing today's most pressing national security and foreign policy challenges. The candidate will work with NSFA-affiliated faculty and student research assistants on research projects, policy briefs, and reports related to national security and foreign affairs. The candidate will also help build the Center's presence as a trusted, nonpartisan contributor to state, national, and international policy conversations. This position will work closely with the NSFA Director and the Baker School's Student Success team to engage and mentor students interested in careers in state and federal government, the private sector, think tanks, and other organizations in the fields of national security, foreign policy, nuclear policy, and related fields. This includes developing and delivering training, supporting professional development experiences such as internships, fellowships, study abroad opportunities (including the Baker School's program in Japan), Washington, D.C. trips, guest speaker events, and wargaming simulations. The position will help expand and deepen these opportunities to build a robust professional pathway for students entering the field. This is a forward-facing role for a strategic builder, ideally suited for someone committed to educating future public servants, producing policy-relevant research, and strengthening the bridge between academia and the national policymaking community.

Responsibilities

POLICY ENGAGEMENT (50%)

- Assists in developing and implementing strategic planning objectives, initiatives, and activities for the center.
- Identifies opportunities for externally funded research from foundations, government agencies, and/or corporate entities.
- Participates in the development and submission of proposals.
- Proposes and produces research-based policy briefs and reports about topics relevant to NSFA expertise.
- Participates in the planning and execution of funded and unfunded research projects.
- Supervises student research assistants while providing direction and mentorship.
- Participates in periodic meetings with university partners, external partners, and other stakeholders to discuss joint issues and initiatives.
- Participates in periodic management meetings to relay information about center updates and issues.
- Clearly and effectively communicates research findings through presentations to funders, professional audiences, and/or policymakers and other audiences.
- Interacts and networks within the Baker School, with NSFA affiliates and fellows, and across campus to seek potential collaborators and develop potential research projects.

STUDENT MENTORSHIP & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT (50%)

- Develops and delivers presentations at high schools and regional colleges about national security, foreign affairs, and/or nuclear policy to grow interest in the undergraduate and graduate programs at the Baker School.
- Develop and deliver training for students and outside stakeholders for policy education and professional development.
- Collaborates with the NSFA Director and the school's office of Student Success to develop and implement national security and foreign affairs-related experiences for students, both within and outside the classroom, including student travel.

- Identify, plan, and organize support for professional development experiences such as internships, fellowships, study abroad opportunities (including the Baker School's program in Japan), Washington, D.C. trips, guest speaker events, and crisis or wargaming simulations.
- Advises students on academic and career matters.
- Maintains regular office hours for student interaction.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications

Education:

Candidates must hold a master's degree in political science, public policy, international relations, defense or security studies, or a related field.

Experience:

- Experience in government, public policy, national security, international security, think tanks, non-governmental organizations, international organizations, teaching or research in public policy / foreign policy schools, or related career areas.
- Experience in working on research related to national security, foreign affairs, and related topics.

Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

- Knowledge of applicable policy processes and actors in national security and foreign affairs.
- Ability to work independently and in collaborative multidisciplinary teams.
- Ability to develop, plan, and implement short- and long-range goals.
- Excellent communication, interpersonal, and presentation skills.
- Commitment to teaching excellence and student success.
- Strong knowledge of field concepts, practices, procedures, and professional standards in national security and foreign affairs.
- Strong research design and analytical skills.
- Commitment to continuous professional development.

A PhD in political science, public policy, international relations, defense/security studies, or a related field

Preferred Qualifications

Education: A PhD in political science, public policy, international relations, defense/security studies, or a related field

Experience: Experience in higher education teaching. Strong publication record in relevant field

Work Location

- Knoxville, TN
- On-site
- Remote work may be available on either Thursday or Friday with the permission of the position supervisor and consistent with the institution's regulations. This may be impacted by in-person responsibilities and events that conflict with this schedule.

UT market range:

- MR 11

Applicants should submit the materials below:

- Cover letter explaining research experience, any teaching experience, any policy experience, any relevant qualifications, and interest in the position
- CV
- Graduate transcripts

- Writing samples of policy related research
- Teaching evaluations (if available)
- List of three (3) references

About the Howard H. Baker Jr. School for Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School)

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School for Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) was established in 2023 to honor the distinguished life and legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan. Located in a 51,000-sq. In a purpose-built facility, the Baker School evolved from the Baker Center, which operated as a think tank producing research, public engagement programming, and an active set of student programs for twenty years. The Baker School now offers degree programs and developed its research initiatives into independent research centers - NSFA and the Center for Transportation, Energy, and Environmental Policy (CETEP). In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which encourages civic knowledge and participation among UT students and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each team member is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission, and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work continually evolves to meet changing needs.

About Us

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, has shaped leaders, change-makers, and innovative thinkers since its founding in 1794. The university is home to more than 38,000 students and 10,000 statewide employees—the Volunteers—who uphold the university's tradition of lighting the way for others through leadership and service.

UT Knoxville offers over 900 programs of study across 14 degree-granting colleges and schools. As Tennessee's flagship land-grant university, its footprint spans the entire state. The university holds the highest Carnegie classification for research activity and has deep partnerships with industry leaders and the US Department of Energy's largest multidisciplinary laboratory, Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The Knoxville campus serves and recruits for UT Knoxville, including the Institute of Agriculture and the Space Institute, as well as the UT Institute of Public Service.

UT Knoxville considers its employees its number one asset. With values that focus on work-life balance, compensation, and innovation leadership, all Vols are supported to advance professionally. Employees have access to career development and coaching, continued education, and an extensive list of development and training possibilities. The Volunteer employee experience implements structures and practices that attract and retain a diverse community and that support a culture where everyone matters and belongs.

The university holds a strong commitment to its land-grant mission of learning and engagement, with a tradition of service and leadership that carries that Volunteer spirit throughout the state and around the world. It has been ranked nationally as "Best Employer for New Graduates," "One of America's Best Large Employers," and "Best Workplace for Women," and has been designated as "Best Place for Working Parents" by Forbes Magazine.

Apply today and join the Tennessee Volunteer community!

Link to apply: https://fa-ewlq-saasfaprod1.fa.ocs.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX_1/job/3454/?utm_medium=jobshare&utm_source=External+Job+Share

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/23/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15626

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Professor of Practice - Advertising

Location: Syracuse, NY

Pay Range: $80,000 - $95,000

Pay Determination: Salary offers at Syracuse University will be based on education, experience, and relevant skills, as well as the academic or professional discipline of the position in the context of the home department, school, or college. Salary offers may also be influenced by prior relevant work or industry experience, where applicable. Faculty pay ranges are for 8.5 months' salary unless otherwise specified.

FLSA Status: Exempt

Hours: As determined by department chair and associate dean.
Office hours are required.

Job Type: Full Time

Rank: Professor of Practice

Campus:

Unionized Position Code: Not Applicable

Job Description:

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University invites applications for a Professor of Practice position in Advertising who can bring visibility to the School and our students. The job starts in August, 2025.

The successful candidate will teach both strategy courses, primarily in Media Planning, Creative Strategy and Advertising Campaign Development or other specialized skills to enhance the curriculum.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree is required.
- Master's degree preferred.

Job Specific Qualifications: Compelling candidates will show:

- Enthusiasm and promise for exemplary teaching, whether through prior teaching experience or professional mentoring roles supervising young advertising practitioners.
- Evidence they can build close connections with the advertising industry, bringing cutting-edge knowledge to classroom, and sharpening students skillsets that meet industry demands.
- Applicants with media planning experience are particularly desirable.

- University teaching experience is preferred, but not mandatory.
- The successful candidate will have extensive experience working on major national brands either in advertising agencies or client-side media.

Responsibilities:

A Professor-of-Practice will teach three courses per semester. Teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate Media Planning, Creative Strategy Development, and campaign development. Courses the new hire might teach include multiple sections of ADV 301, 208, 507 and 425. (<http://coursecatalog.syr.edu/content.php?catoid=32&navoid=4136>) and other courses in the graduate level that complement the individual's expertise.

The position expects connecting the Media and Strategy ad community with our advertising students. This could involve activities such as, inviting Media professionals to campus as speakers in the Eric Mower Advertising Forum, to help keep the curriculum current.

Physical Requirements: Not Applicable

Tools/Equipment: Not Applicable

Application Instructions:

Applicants must submit the following documents for consideration:

1) Curriculum Vitae/Resume 2) Cover Letter, expressing interest and fit for the position 3) One philosophy statement that addresses each of these three areas: a. Teaching – The Newhouse School prides itself on the high quality of education it provides and its ability to get students job-ready Day One. Please describe your teaching interests and philosophy of how students best learn. b. Statement on contribution to University mission - Please describe how your past experience has prepared you to contribute to the School's and the University's strategic commitments to creating a campus that is welcoming to all. c. Creative Activity - The Newhouse School values creative activity. Creative activity can include, as examples, industry trade or consumer media/news articles, and media production, development or multimedia storytelling (photo/video, film, sound, web design, apps, scriptwriting). Please describe how your experience will help you contribute to the University and School's commitment to research and creative initiatives. 4) List of at least three references with knowledge of your work 5) An optional field for your creative portfolio for consideration

For more information contact Edward Russell, Search Committee Chair, Advertising Department Chair, S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Syracuse University. Phone: 315-443-4045. Email: edrussel@syr.edu

About Advertising Department The department has about 350 majors coming from across the U.S. and around the world. In the past eight years, our advertising students won more than 1,200 creative awards including the 2025 Cannes Future Lions Grand Prix (<https://newhouse.syracuse.edu/news/how-2-newhouse-students-won-the-top-student-creative-advertising-award-in-the-world-the-cannes-future-lions-grand-prix/>), One Show, Addy's, D&AD New Blood, New York Festivals, Creativity International Awards, Communication Arts Advertising Annual, Communication Arts Student Showcase, Lurzer's Archive, ADDYS and other creative competitions. Plus, the IAB recognized Newhouse Advertising as one of top 5 Digital Advertising programs nationwide. The strategy track students have won the national AAF National Student Advertising Competition (NSAC) twice and District Two competition numerous times. The Media students have been named Media Fellows by the Washington Media Scholars Foundation. Media. The NewHouse (TNH) is one of the largest student-run advertising agencies in the country. TNH has won both national competitions and international competitions including the GM Marketing Challenge; the Honda Social Media Challenge; and the Qatar FIFA 2022 Advertising Competition. ADV full-time faculty are composed of nationally accomplished professionals and outstanding scholars who are tirelessly devoted to student success (see info @<https://newhouse.syr.edu/academics/advertising/faculty/>). The program hosts the largest advertising speaker series in the country, the Eric Mower Advertising Forum that has welcomed over 300 top advertising professionals to campus including David Droga, Liz Taylor, Greg Hahn. (<https://newhouse.syracuse.edu/academics/advertising/eric-mower-advertising-forum/>)

About the Newhouse School

The S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University trains the next generation of communications leaders, preparing students to not only enter a rapidly changing media industry, but to shape its future. Called one of the "very best schools" in its field by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC) in an April 2023 reaccreditation report, Newhouse has been lauded for providing an excellent educational experience due to its outstanding students, faculty, staff, leadership and facilities, as well as financial stability and a deep curriculum. The Newhouse School is committed to expanding academic excellence through research and creative activity, as well as community engagement and professional opportunities to help students develop their skill set outside the classroom. Newhouse is home to approximately 2,100 undergraduates, 200 residential master's degree students, 200 online master's degree students and 15 doctoral degree students. They are among the best in the country, having secured a place in the class through a highly competitive admissions process. The typical admitted first-year student has a 3.9 GPA .

The school's 250,000-square-foot, three-building complex is a leading-edge learning environment where students are exposed to top-notch tools and technologies used by professionals in the field. Features include Dick Clark Studios, a high-tech entertainment production facility that rivals many Hollywood studios; the Diane and Bob Miron Digital News Center, complete with a contemporary news set, a virtual studio that accommodates green screen production and state-of-the-art lighting systems and cameras; the Alan Gerry Center for Media Innovation, a creative hub where Newhouse expertise in content development and production meets the latest media technology and programming trends; the Emerging Insights Lab, a state-of-the-art social media command center; and the Collaborative Media Room, home to the student-produced multimedia news site, The NewsHouse.

To learn more about the Newhouse School, visit <https://newhouse.syracuse.edu>.

About Syracuse University:

Syracuse University is a private, international research university with distinctive academics, diversely unique offerings, and an undeniable spirit. Located in the geographic heart of New York State, with a global footprint, and over 150 years of history, Syracuse University offers a quintessential college experience.

The scope of Syracuse University is a testament to its strengths: a pioneering history dating back to 1870; a choice of more than 200 majors, 100 minors, and 200 advanced degree programs offered across the University's 13 schools and colleges; over 15,000 undergraduates and over 6,000 graduate students; more than a quarter of a million alumni in 160 countries; and a student population from all 50 U.S. states and 123 countries. For more information, please visit <http://www.syracuse.edu>.

About the Syracuse area:

Syracuse is a medium-sized city situated in the geographic center of New York State approximately 250 miles northwest of New York City. The metro-area population totals approximately 500,000. The area offers a low cost of living and provides many social, cultural, and recreational options, including parks, museums, festivals, professional regional theater, and premier shopping venues. Syracuse and Central New York present a wide range of seasonal recreation and attractions ranging from water skiing and snow skiing, hiking in the Adirondacks, touring the historic sites, visiting wineries along the Finger Lakes, and biking on trails along the Erie Canal.

Application Deadline:

To apply, visit <https://appptrkr.com/6303522>

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

Syracuse University has a long history of engaging veterans and the military-connected community through its educational programs, community outreach, and employment programs. After World War II, Syracuse University welcomed more than 10,000 returning veterans to our campus, and those veterans literally transformed Syracuse University into the national research institution it is today. The University's contemporary commitment to veterans builds on this historical legacy, and extends to both class-leading initiatives focused on making an SU degree accessible and affordable to the post-9/11 generation of veterans, and also programs designed to position Syracuse University as the employer of choice for military veterans, members of the Guard and Reserve, and military family members.

Copyright ©2025 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 6/11/2026

Date Posted: 6/20/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15622

Williams College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Description

The Political Science Department at Williams College seeks an Assistant Professor of Political Science with scholarly expertise in International Relations. We are especially interested in candidates whose scholarship focuses on global governance and international law. We seek a colleague who has a record or promise of excellence in research and is committed to inclusive undergraduate education. The teaching load is four courses each year (2-2); successful candidates will be able to teach Introduction to World Politics as well as additional courses in their areas of interest. This tenure track appointment will begin in the 2026–2027 academic year. We welcome applications from candidates of all backgrounds and strongly encourage individuals whose experiences and perspectives will enhance our commitment to academic excellence and innovation to apply.

The Political Science Department has a strong commitment to professional development which includes regular opportunities to present work in progress. Williams College offers additional professional development opportunities, including the College's First3 program as well as programming organized by the Rice Center for Teaching and the NCFDD, among other mentoring

Qualifications

Candidates should have the Ph.D. completed by June 2026.

Application Instructions

Application items should include: a cover letter detailing scholarly interests as well as teaching experience; a curriculum vitae; a writing sample of only one article or chapter; and three letters of recommendation. We ask you to write in your cover letter about your ability to work effectively with a student population that is broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Candidates invited to the first round of (Zoom) interviews will be asked at that time to provide sample syllabi and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

The deadline for the submission of applications is September 15, 2025 for full consideration. All application materials should be submitted through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/168214>). Fax and email applications will not be accepted. Inquiries may be sent to Erin Malloy at emb8@williams.edu. All offers of employment are contingent upon completion of a background check. Further information is available here: <https://faculty.williams.edu/prospective-faculty/background-check-policy/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2025

Date Posted: 6/19/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15618

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate formal theory and international relations

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Environmental Policy, Political Economy

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate in the fields of formal theory and international relations. The term of appointment is for one year, with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/39021> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript, and the names and contact information of three references.

Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Politics Postdoc Search, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08540.

A PhD is required.

We will be reviewing applications as they are received. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Expected Salary Range: $65,000 - $73,000

The University considers factors such as (but not limited to) scope and responsibilities of the position, candidate's qualifications, work experience, education/training, key skills, market, collective bargaining agreements as applicable, and organizational considerations when extending an offer. The posted salary range represents the University's good faith and reasonable estimate for a full-time position; salaries for part-time positions are pro-rated accordingly.

The University also offers a comprehensive benefit program to eligible employees. Please see this link for more information.

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00018

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/17/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15617

University of London, SOAS

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

Job title: Lecturer in International Relations (Teaching)

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Permanent

Grade: Grade 8

Salary: £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 (pro-rata 0.5FTE)

Location: London

Hours: Part-Time (0.5FTE)

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

SOAS is committed to both research intensity and student learning in conjunction with international partnerships that respond to global challenges.

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading, research-led department, ranked 3rd in the world for academic reputation (QS World University Rankings / Politics 2025).

The Department is known for its combination of both academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East). Our

MA programme in International Studies and Diplomacy is widely recognised for its distinctive approach to policy-oriented postgraduate training, with a global focus that also covers the role of the US, Europe, and multilateral institutions in partnership with emerging powers. Preparation for careers in international affairs has long been a key strength of the Department.

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for a permanent 0.5 FTE Lecturer in International Relations (Teaching) starting Autumn 2025.

We are looking for a scholar with demonstrated excellence in innovative forms of teaching including undergraduate, postgraduate, online, and professional training.

You can find further information on the key criteria for the role in the Job Description and Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities, which can be found on the SOAS website.

What We Offer:

We are committed to providing a supportive and rewarding work environment. In addition to a competitive salary, we offer a comprehensive range of benefits designed to enhance your well-being and work-life balance:

Generous Holiday Entitlement: Benefit from 44 days of holiday (30 days annual leave, plus bank holidays and 6 closure days over Christmas and Easter) to ensure ample time for rest and relaxation.

Flexible Working Arrangements: We recognise the importance of flexibility and offer options to help you manage your professional and personal commitments effectively.

Generous occupational pension scheme: To provide financial security for your future

Learning and Development: We are dedicated to your professional growth and development and offer diverse learning and development opportunities to enhance your skills and advance your career.

Health and Well-being Initiatives: Take advantage of our cycle to work scheme, eye tests, and season ticket loan to support your health and mobility.

Enhanced Family Leave: We offer enhanced maternity, paternity & partner leave, and shared parental leave to support you during significant life events.

Employee Assistance Programme: Access our confidential EAP for advice and support whenever needed.

Discounted Gym Membership: Maintain your fitness with our discounted gym membership.

We would particularly welcome applications from candidates from working class, first generation Higher Education, Black, Asian, other minority ethnic and underrepresented groups from within the UK and beyond. All appointment decisions will be made on merit, following a fair and competitive process.

How to Apply:

Please complete the online application form and upload your CV publications, and a supporting statement

Closing date: 15 July 2025

Interviews to be held: TBC

Use of AI

While AI tools can be beneficial, we value the personal touch and authenticity in job applications. We encourage you to highlight your unique experience, knowledge, skills, and abilities, ensuring all information is accurate. Please use AI tools responsibly and with integrity throughout the application and selection process.

Further information

Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006.

We are able to offer sponsorship for candidates who do not currently possess the right to work in the UK.

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact us via the HR Contact Form | SOAS

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/17/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15611

University College Dublin

Rank: Visiting Fellow – Centre for Sustainable Development, School of Politics and International Relations, University College Dublin, Ireland

The Centre for Sustainable Development (CSD) at the School of Politics and International Relations, University College Dublin, invites applications for a Visiting Fellowship to support the Centre's research and engagement activities. The fellowship is linked to ongoing work at the Centre on gender-responsive, climate-smart, and digitally enabled agricultural development in sub-Saharan Africa, and will complement the Centre's broader research agenda on sustainable livelihoods, inclusive innovation, and social transformation.

This 3-month fellowship is aimed at scholars with a strong publication and teaching record in fields loosely aligned with the CSD's work, including, but not limited to, development studies, agronomy, gender studies, digital agriculture, rural sociology, political economy, or ICT4D. Early Career Researchers (ECRS) and established scholars up to 15 years post-PhD are eligible.

Fellowship Details:

Duration: ~3 months

Timing: Fellows may choose one of the following periods:

1st September – 30th November

1st February – 30th April

Value: Eligible expenses up to €10,000 for the entire period of fellowship will be covered (e.g. visa, flights, accommodation, and living costs)

Location: University College Dublin (UCD), Ireland

Expectations:

The Fellow is expected to participate fully in the Centre's activities, contributing to its research, seminars, teaching, and light administrative activities as appropriate.

Application Requirements:

Applicants should submit the following in a single PDF:

Cover Letter outlining your suitability for the role, areas of expertise, and how your research aligns with the work of the Centre

Curriculum Vitae, including:

Full list of publications (please highlight three most relevant to this role)

Summary of teaching experience

Contact details for three referees (referees will only be contacted if shortlisted)

Deadline for Applications: 20th June 2025

Submit applications to: csd.contact@ucd.ie

Shortlisted candidates will be invited for an online interview. For informal inquiries, please contact Prof Supriya Garikipati ((opens in a new window)supriya.garikipati@ucd.ie).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 6/20/2025

Date Posted: 6/6/2025

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 15603

National University of Singapore

Rank: Head of Department position (Full Professor level with tenure)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for the position of Head of Department at the rank of full professor or higher (endowed chair professor). Research and teaching specialisation is open, although candidates should contribute to one or more of the Department's four subfields: comparative politics, governance and public policy, international relations, and political theory.

The successful candidate will have an internationally recognised record of research and publication, as well as a record of very good teaching. Exceptional leadership skills are essential, as is a demonstrable commitment to intellectual and methodological pluralism. Other qualifications include evidence of substantial administrative experience; a record of promoting faculty and student success; a commitment to collegiality and diversity; and excellent interpersonal, communication, and organisational skills. The Head is expected to provide leadership to implement a strategic vision, with the support of department faculty, which advances the Department's international profile and reputation. Research and teaching expectations may be reduced (e.g. one course teaching commitment per year), given the Head's crucial service role.

Interested candidates should submit a CV, cover letter that addresses the qualifications outlined above, research statement (approx. two pages), teaching statement (approx. two pages), and names and addresses of at least four references.

Review of applications will begin in August 2025 and will continue until the position is filled. Campus visits for selected candidates will be arranged for October 2025. The position is expected to commence in January 2027. Questions about the position should be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor William Bain (wbain@nus.edu.sg).

Exceptional candidates at the rank of senior associate professor are welcome to apply, subject to being promoted to full professor upon appointment at NUS.

The Department of Political Science is a vibrant multidisciplinary community comprised of over 25 tenure- and educator-track faculty members. The Department offers degrees in Political Science and Global Studies at the undergraduate level and in Political Science at the Masters and Doctoral levels. It also partners with the International Political Science Association (IPSA) to host the IPSA-NUS Summer School in Social Science Research Methods annually. It is one of 16 departments in a large Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, which is home to a comprehensive range of programmes in Asian Studies, Humanities, Social Science, and Language Studies. The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Asia Research Institute, the Asia-Europe Foundation, the East Asian Institute, the ISEAS–Yusof Ishak Institute, among other research units inside and outside NUS, provide additional opportunities for research interaction and collaboration.

NUS offers an internationally competitive remuneration package that includes a period of subsidised housing (for non-Singaporean applicants), annual performance bonus, medical benefits, and relocation expenses (where applicable). Outstanding applicants might also be considered for endowed/chair professorship that comes with annual research support and business class travel eligibility. NUS provides significant research support, including generous start-up grants for new faculty members.

Please submit your application through the NUS Career Portal : https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job/Professor-&Head-of-Department-%28Political-Science%29/29011-en_GB/

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have an internationally recognised record of research and publication, as well as a record of very good teaching. Exceptional leadership skills are essential, as is a strong commitment to intellectual and methodological pluralism. Other qualifications include evidence of substantial administrative experience; a record of promoting faculty and student success; a commitment to collegiality and diversity; and excellent interpersonal, communication, and organisational skills. The Head is expected to provide leadership in co-creating with department faculty to implement a strategic vision, consistent with NUS' research and teaching mission, which advances the Department's international profile and reputation. Research and teaching expectations may be reduced (e.g. one course teaching commitment per year), given the Head's crucial service role.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/27/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15591

Augustana University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Open

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

Position Type: Full-Time

Department: Government and International Affairs

The Department of Government and International Affairs at Augustana University invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position. The effective start date is August 20, 2025.

Responsibilities:

The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. The position involves teaching seven courses each academic year: three courses per semester, with an additional course during the three-week Interim term in January. We seek a scholar who can contribute to our efforts to enhance the variety and international content of our upper-level course offerings, as well as offer sections of our Introduction to Government courses taught within the general education curriculum. We are open to scholars approaching these tasks from the standpoint of international relations, political theory and/or law.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. completed by August 1, 2025 is strongly preferred, with evidence of teaching excellence expected.

Interacting with students, faculty and leadership from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, along with a deep appreciation and respect for academic principles and culture, must be a top value of the candidate.

Application Procedure:

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. Interested applicants are asked to submit the below application materials in one document to our career center portal. If assistance is needed in the application process, please reach out to humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: augie.edu. Questions may be directed to Dr. Emily Wanless, department chair, at ewanless@augie.edu.

*Letter of interest

*Curriculum vitae

*Statement of teaching philosophy

*Evidence of teaching effectiveness

*Phone numbers and email addresses of three current professional references

Augustana University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Title IX Employer. Applicants must comply with the Immigration Reform and Control Act and may be required to submit official transcripts upon employment. Finalist candidates must satisfactorily complete a pre-employment background check.

About Augustana University:

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15584

University of London, SOAS

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

Job title: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £51,248.57 - £60,268.57 per annum incl. London Allowance

Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

SOAS is committed to both research intensity and student learning in conjunction with international partnerships that respond to global challenges.

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading, research-led department, ranked 3rd in the world for academic reputation (QS World University Rankings / Politics 2025).

The Department is known for its combination of both academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East). Our MA programme in International Studies and Diplomacy is widely recognised for its distinctive approach to policy-oriented postgraduate training, with a global focus that also covers the role of the US, Europe, and multilateral institutions in partnership with emerging powers. Preparation for careers in international affairs has long been a key strength of the Department.

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for a permanent Lecturer in International Relations starting in Autumn 2025 or as soon as possible thereafter.

We are looking for a scholar with a promising publication record and an active research agenda, as well as demonstrated excellence in innovative forms of teaching including undergraduate, postgraduate, online, and professional training.

You can find further information on the key criteria for the role in the Job Description and Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities, on the SOAS website.

What We Offer:

We are committed to providing a supportive and rewarding work environment. In addition to a competitive salary, we offer a comprehensive range of benefits designed to enhance your well-being and work-life balance:

Generous Holiday Entitlement: Benefit from 44 days of holiday (30 days annual leave, plus bank holidays and 6 closure days over Christmas and Easter) to ensure ample time for rest and relaxation.

Flexible Working Arrangements: We recognise the importance of flexibility and offer options to help you manage your professional and personal commitments effectively.

Generous occupational pension scheme: To provide financial security for your future

Learning and Development: We are dedicated to your professional growth and development and offer diverse learning and development opportunities to enhance your skills and advance your career.

Health and Well-being Initiatives: Take advantage of our cycle to work scheme, eye tests, and season ticket loan to support your health and mobility.

Enhanced Family Leave: We offer enhanced maternity, paternity & partner leave, and shared parental leave to support you during significant life events.

Employee Assistance Programme: Access our confidential EAP for advice and support whenever needed.

Discounted Gym Membership: Maintain your fitness with our discounted gym membership.

We would particularly welcome applications from candidates from working class, first generation Higher Education, Black, Asian, other minority ethnic and underrepresented groups from within the UK and beyond. All appointment decisions will be made on merit, following a fair and competitive process.

How to Apply:

<https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/>

Closing date: 15 August 2025

Interviews to be held: TBC

Use of AI

While AI tools can be beneficial, we value the personal touch and authenticity in job applications. We encourage you to highlight your unique experience, knowledge, skills, and abilities, ensuring all information is accurate. Please use AI tools responsibly and with integrity throughout the application and selection process.

Further information

Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006.

We are able to offer sponsorship for candidates who do not currently possess the right to work in the UK.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/16/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15583

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites application for one full-time tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all subfields, including but not limited to international relations (including non-traditional security and human security), international political economy, gender politics, global studies, and governance and public policy. We also encourage applications from candidates with research experience relating to Asia and whose backgrounds are traditionally underrepresented in the discipline.

The teaching load is three courses per academic year. Compensation is competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support. Successful candidates are expected to teach graduate and undergraduate classes and take a leading role in developing new departmental initiatives. Candidates with publications in top outlets who conduct innovative and impactful research using, eg. computational methods, may also be invited to apply for the Presidential Young Professorship. <https://www.nus.edu.sg/careers/nus-programmes/>

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.fas.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) includes scholars working in all areas of political science, as well as an interdisciplinary Global Studies programme examining the processes and effects of globalisation across political, economic, social, and cultural domains (<https://fass.nus.edu.sg/globalstudies>). Faculty and students can take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, and various research institutes including the Asia-Europe Foundation, the Institute of South Asian Studies, the East Asia Institute, and the Yusof Ishak Institute—Institute of Southeast Asian Studies among others. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a global leader in research and higher education. Singapore is a highly livable global city that is a major regional and international travel hub.

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal: https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job/Assistant-Professor-in-Political-Science/28742-en_GB/.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

1. Cover letter clearly detailing their research and teaching interests.
2. Curriculum vitae.
3. Three letters of reference. Please send all letters directly to pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.
4. A research statement of no more than 2 pages stating your research interests and research plans for the next 3 years.
5. A teaching statement of no more than 2 pages, as well as sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and/or other evidence of teaching quality.
6. Up to three writing samples

For full consideration, please submit your materials to this website by 1 July 2025. Applications received after this date may still be considered until the position is filled.

For any queries, please write to: pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/13/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15580

University of Toronto

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Chinese Politics or Chinese Political Economy

The Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy is looking to hire a Postdoctoral Fellow to support Professor Lynette Ong at the China Governance Lab.

Area of Research: Chinese Politics or Chinese Political Economy

Description of Duties: To conduct research related to Chinese politics and/or political economy, including collecting and analyzing Chinese government and social media data, and author academic publications. To take charge of research projects, including leading a team of student researchers, and execute deliverables as instructed by supervisor. Opportunities for collaboration with supervisor. Possible areas of specialization: state-business relations, public opinion, conflict studies, and governance.

Salary: $65,000 per year, plus standard benefits

Closing Date: Application opens MAY 15, 2025 and will close once the position is filled

Supervisor: Professor Lynette Ong, Distinguished Professor of Chinese Politics, University of Toronto

Expected Start Date: July 1, 2025

Required Qualifications: Candidates must have a PhD, with a strong background in quantitative methods, including computational social science. Knowledge of Chinese politics, and proficiency in Mandarin Chinese are also required.

Application Instructions: All individuals interested in the position must submit the following documents by the closing date to Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca using the subject line "Postdoc – [Your Name]":

- a. A cover letter outlining how you meet the qualifications for the position
- b. Your academic CV
- c. A research sample that showcases your research ability and method skills (e.g., a dissertation chapter, a conference paper, or a published article)
- d. The names and contact information for three academic referees (Your referees will only be contacted once you've advanced to the interview round)

Term: 1 year with a renewal opportunity for a second year

FTE: This is a full-time position. The normal hours of work are 40 hours per week for a full-time postdoctoral fellow, recognizing that the needs of the employee's research and training and the needs of the supervisor's research program may require flexibility in the performance of the employee's duties and hours of work.

If you have any questions about this opportunity, please connect with Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca.

Employment as a Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Toronto is covered by the terms of the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement. This job is posted in accordance with the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons, persons of colour, women, Indigenous Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 7/1/2025

Date Posted: 5/8/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15577

Western Carolina University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - International Relations/Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Western Carolina University is searching for a visiting assistant professor in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics to join our growing and accomplished faculty.

This is a fixed-term nine-month position, with a chance of renewal. The anticipated begin date is August 2025. The successful candidate will contribute to the Political Science and International Studies programs by teaching six courses per academic year, including sections of our "Exploring Global Politics" course, a core introductory class in our Political Science major. Upper-level courses within the candidate's specialization will also be part of the teaching load. The primary location of this position is the Cullowhee, NC campus. The possibility of summer teaching may also be available, but not required for this position.

Preferred qualifications include a PhD in Political Science, International Relations, International Studies, or a related discipline from an accredited institution. Advanced ABD candidates from an accredited university will also be considered. Preferred candidates will also have research and teaching expertise in the politics of the Middle East or Asia, and a demonstrated focus on these regions.

The position is open until filled and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on February 26, 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15350

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. The Department seeks applicants who can offer intermediate courses in European politics, international relations theory and/or international organization. The successful applicant may participate in the college-wide Core Cultures program or teach introductory courses in world politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or be advanced ABD in political science at the time of appointment.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College at <http://apply.interfolio.com/161830>. Review of applications will begin February 15, 2025.

Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men, and our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning." As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse staff committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 2/15/2025

Date Posted: 1/12/2025

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15335

Yale University

Rank: Identity & Conflict Lab: Postdoctoral Associate, 2025-26

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks to appoint up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2025-2026 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year conditional on successful performance. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2025.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war.

Postdoctoral associates will work in one of ICL's ongoing projects in the following two thematic areas: (1) measuring norms of good citizenship across countries; (2) conducting experimental interventions to reduce native-immigrant conflict in Europe with a primary focus on Greece; and (3) analyzing sources of the escalation of foreign policy disputes. Postdoctoral associates may also be asked to contribute to projects in other areas/ongoing projects on a variety of different topics related to the broad theme of "identity and conflict." Most of the research currently in progress uses quantitative methods, with an emphasis on experimental methods. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will be expected to work three days/week on ICL projects under the direction of Professor Nicholas Sambanis and can pursue their own research for the remainder of their work time.

Job responsibilities may include the following: Collect and clean data; program complex surveys in Qualtrics; prepare IRB applications; manage logistical details of field projects; prepare scripts and do-files for statistical analysis in Stata and R; prepare visualizations of quantitative data/results; draft short reports with project results; assist with the drafting of grant proposals; review/comment projects by other ICL affiliates; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Associates may be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders and agencies that enable the ICL's work by preparing power-point presentations of ICL projects and drafting non-technical summaries of results from different projects. Associates will also assist with preparing replication files for published studies, and help manage the ICL website and seminar series.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be asked to co-organize with the Director the ICL's annual conference or the workshop, which holds meetings throughout the year. Associates will be expected to give at least one presentation of their research at the workshop or at a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director. They would also be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary for this position is commensurate with experience and complies with the Yale Office of Postdoctoral Affairs compensation policy and includes a benefits package.

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2023, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2025. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 25, 2023. Applications will be received until December 15, 2024. Successful applicants will be contacted by mid-January 2025.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is expertise in programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. They should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and respond to feedback quickly. Applicants must be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/158750>

Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

If you have questions, please email the ICL Director at nicholas.sambanis@yale.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/12/2025

Date Posted: 11/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15189

Lehigh University

Rank: Bernard L. & Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Position: Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY. The Department of International Relations invites applications for a tenured Full Professor to fill the Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair, with an anticipated start date of July 2025. The position is open to all research and teaching specializations within the fields of international relations, foreign policy, and/or comparative politics.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in International Relations or a closely related field. The ideal candidate will have connections to the policy community in Washington, DC, and/or New York City and be able to assist students with internship placement.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and excellence in research. The individual hired will, specifically, be expected to teach courses in International Relations at the undergraduate level, engage in scholarly activities, and participate in departmental, college, and university service, as well as advise undergraduate internships.

Lehigh is among the few higher educational institutions in the US that has long had a separate department of IR. This allows students with a particular interest in international affairs to benefit from a concentrated, high-level program of study that few other schools offer.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly-ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for over 7,500 students. Lehigh University has some 5,800 undergraduates,

1,800 graduate students, and nearly 600 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA, a vibrant and historic area. Over 840,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, however, applications should be received by October 11, 2024. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/28335>. Candidates should submit the following materials:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Research statement that describes past scholarly contributions and future research directions

Teaching statement that describes instructional philosophy and courses that the candidate would want to teach or develop

Name and contact information for three references

A statement on contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) that describes knowledge, prior DEI experience, and the candidate's future plans for enhancing community and culture at Lehigh (the Lehigh ADVANCE Center's guide for understanding and preparing such statements is available here)

All inquiries regarding the search should be directed to Ms. Edann Brady at emb703@lehigh.edu or 610-758-3390.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14800

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in international relations. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151783>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14625

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2025. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Jackson School of Global Affairs, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. This search includes additional resources in two targeted areas within this broader search area. The first is for an assistant professor with expertise in African Politics, who will teach at least one course cross-listed with, and contribute to, Yale's Council on African Studies. The second is for a candidate who works on Environmental Politics, jointly appointed with the Jackson School of Global Affairs. Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in areas of political science commensurate with their expertise. Candidates jointly appointed with Jackson will also teach courses in Jackson's undergraduate and graduate curriculum. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151662>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14619

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, South Asian Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in South Asian Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any major subfield(s) of political science, with reference to the domestic and/or international politics of one or more of the following countries: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka. Expected teaching, commensurate with the candidate's expertise, will be in South Asian Politics. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151100>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14620

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

METHODOLOGY

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate formal theory and international relations

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Environmental Policy, Political Economy

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate in the fields of formal theory and international relations. The term of appointment is for one year, with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/39021> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript, and the names and contact information of three references.

Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Politics Postdoc Search, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08540.

A PhD is required.

We will be reviewing applications as they are received. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Expected Salary Range: $65,000 - $73,000

The University considers factors such as (but not limited to) scope and responsibilities of the position, candidate's qualifications, work experience, education/training, key skills, market, collective bargaining agreements as applicable, and organizational considerations when extending an offer. The posted salary range represents the University's good faith and reasonable estimate for a full-time position; salaries for part-time positions are pro-rated accordingly.

The University also offers a comprehensive benefit program to eligible employees. Please see this link for more information.

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00018

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/17/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15617

Sun Yat-sen University

Rank: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the School of Government, Sun Yat-sen University, China invites applications for tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the ranks of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor. We seek outstanding political scientists with expertise in comparative politics, political science methodology, or Chinese studies to join our vibrant academic community.

1. Position Details

1.1 Ranks: Assistant Professor (tenure-track), Associate Professor (tenure-track and tenured), Professor (tenured)

1.2 Fields of Interest: Comparative Politics, Political Science Methodology, Chinese Studies

2. Qualifications

2.1 A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required.

2.2 Candidates must currently hold a post-doctoral position, an assistant professor position, or a higher academic rank.

2.3 A robust record of research and publication in one or more of the specified fields.

2.4 Demonstrated excellence in teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels.

2.5 For Associate and Professor ranks, candidates must have an established research profile with a significant publication record and evidence of academic leadership.

3. Responsibilities

3.1 Conduct high-impact research and publish in leading academic journals.

3.2 Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in political science, tailored to expertise in comparative politics, methodology, or Chinese studies.

3.3 Supervise graduate students and contribute to the development of the department's academic programs.

3.4 Participate in departmental, university, and professional service activities.

4. Why Join Us?

4.1 Competitive Salary: We offer a decent, competitive salary commensurate with experience and qualifications, ensuring that our faculty are fairly compensated for their expertise and contributions.

4.2 Exceptional Organizational Culture: Our department fosters a very good, collegial, and collaborative atmosphere where faculty are encouraged to pursue their research interests, engage in interdisciplinary collaboration, and contribute to a thriving academic community. We prioritize professional growth and work-life balance.

4.3 Unique Opportunities: Faculty at Sun Yat-sen University benefit from opportunities for international collaboration, access to cutting-edge research facilities, and a dynamic academic environment that supports innovation and excellence.

5. Application Process

This is an ongoing recruitment, and applications are welcome at any time. There is no deadline for applications; applications are accepted on a rolling basis, and reviews and interviews will be conducted periodically. Candidates are encouraged to apply whenever they are ready, as the position remains open indefinitely. Interested candidates should submit the following materials:

(1) A cover letter outlining research interests, teaching experience, and alignment with the department's priorities.

(2) A current curriculum vitae.

(3) A research statement detailing current and future research plans.

(4) A teaching statement describing teaching philosophy and experience.

(5) Two writing samples (e.g., published articles or manuscripts).

(6) Contact information for three professional references.

Applications should be submitted electronically to: soghr@mail.sysu.edu.cn.

6. About Sun Yat-sen University

Located in Guangzhou, China, Sun Yat-sen University is a prestigious, top-tier research institution renowned for its commitment to academic excellence and innovation. The School of Government is a leader in political science and public administration, fostering a dynamic environment for research, teaching, and collaboration.

7. About Guangzhou

Guangzhou, a bustling metropolis in southern China, offers a rich blend of cultural heritage, economic vitality, and modern amenities. As a key academic and economic center, it provides an attractive setting for international scholars.

For more information about the department and university, visit <http://sog.sysu.edu.cn>.

Sun Yat-sen University is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from all qualified individuals.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/17/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15615

Charles University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Digital and Empirical Constitutionalism

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Research Methods, Political Psychology, Political Philosophy & Theory

The Dean of the Faculty of Law at Charles University hereby announces

a call for applications

for a full-time or part-time position as Assistant Professor in Digital and Empirical Constitutionalism (2+2 years, with the possibility of a tenure track) at the Institute for the Interregional Study of Constitutionalism (IISC).

Charles University is the leading university in Central Europe, boasting a nearly 700-year tradition and excellent international rankings, making it one of the most reputable and prestigious universities worldwide. The Faculty of Law, established in 1348 as one of the university's four founding faculties, is now the largest accredited law faculty in the Czech Republic, with over 4,500 students.

We are seeking a candidate whose research focuses on discourse analysis in the (digital) public sphere, the role of deliberative democracy in the context of social media, and uses empirical methods in the analysis of collective identity. The successful applicant will join a multidisciplinary research team studying constitutionalism as a foundation for collective identity and community.

The initial contract will be for two years. Upon a successful review, the candidate may receive a contract extension of up to two years, with a pathway to a permanent position.

Your Tasks

1. Conduct research on following topics: (1) identity politics, the digital public sphere, and deliberative democracy; (2) constitutionalism and the construction of collective identity.
2. Use tools like text mining and machine learning to collect and analyze (social) media content, governmental documents, and legal texts (discourse analysis).
3. Program social bots on social media platforms for research purposes.
4. Design, oversee, and analyze a survey using statistical methods.
5. Collaborate closely with the research team on the conduct of the research.
6. Publish in leading academic journals.
7. Present your results at major academic conferences in the field and contribute to the work of the IISC, including developing and submitting grant proposals.

Your Profile

1. A Ph.D. degree in law, political science, philosophy, psychology, or sociology with a focus on digital technologies (such as digital humanities, digital social science, or digital psychology), or a Ph.D. in computer science (e.g., AI) with a focus on issues related to law, social sciences, or humanities.
2. Knowledge and experience with computational methods for Natural Language Processing (NLP), including text classification and analysis.
3. Expertise in the theory of social and collective identity, along with knowledge of deliberative democracy, is an advantage.
4. A solid track record of publications in peer-reviewed journals.
5. A team player with a high degree of autonomy.
6. Proficiency in English; knowledge of Arabic is a plus.
7. Willingness to reside in Prague throughout the contract.
8. While not required, knowledge of Czech or a willingness to learn it would be considered an advantage.

What We Offer

- A financially competitive salary (up to 2.300 EUR net for a full-time position, plus publication bonuses).
- Flexible working conditions.
- An opportunity to work in a dynamic, interdisciplinary research environment.
- Start date: September 2025

How to Apply

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Please submit the following documents in a single PDF file:

- A cover letter.
- Your CV.
- A relevant publication.
- Names of two referees (the referees will only be contacted with the candidate's agreement).

Applications should be emailed to Karolína Ježková (karolina.jezkova@prf.cuni.cz). Please contact Volker Kaul (kaulv@prf.cuni.cz) for any further inquiries.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 7/7/2025

Date Posted: 6/9/2025

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15606

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Science (open subfield).

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Science (open subfield)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the "FPSE") at Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in any of the following subfields of political science: Japanese Politics, Political Economy, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Formal and Quantitative Methods. We seek candidates who advance theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. Candidates should have strong methodological training and be able to advise graduate students on both substantive and methodological issues. The start date can be as early as April 1, 2026 (see below).

Teaching responsibility:

The successful candidate will teach a course in the field of empirical political science, such as "Introduction to Political Analysis," "Quantitative Political Analysis," etc. and other related courses for the School of Political Science and Economics (Undergraduate Program) and the Graduate School of Political Science, as well as research seminars.

Scheduled start of employment:

April 1, 2026, or September 1, 2026 (or a mutually agreed later date)

For more details and instructions for application, please go to the website at

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news-en/2025/06/02/24138/>

Start Date: Spring 2026

Application Deadline: 9/2/2025

Date Posted: 6/3/2025

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15599

University of Southern California

Rank: Open Rank Tenure Track Faculty Position

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC) in Los Angeles invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in American Politics as part of a major hiring initiative.

We seek candidates with a strong substantive research program in any domain of American politics, whose work advances theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield.

Candidates are expected to have strong methodological training, and their methodological skills, ability to advise graduate students on methodological issues and teach graduate classes in the Department's core methods sequence will be a consideration. A strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate education is also expected.

The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will start March 24, 2025 and will continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/open-rank-faculty-position-in-american-politics/1209/77699335312> . Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

The annual base salary range for this position is $100,510 - $281,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal records in a manner consistent with applicable laws and regulations, including the Los Angeles County Fair Chance Ordinance for employers and the Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance, and with due consideration for patient and student safety. Please refer to the Background Screening Policy Appendix D for specific employment screen implications for the position for which you are applying.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/11/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15504

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Weidenbaum Center Postdoctoral Fellowship

We are pleased to announce a new Postdoctoral Fellowship in Survey Research through the Weidenbaum Center. This fellowship allows new Ph.D.s and early career scholars the opportunity to contribute to cutting-edge research using high-quality survey data collected by the Weidenbaum Center. This fellowship is uniquely situated at the intersection of academic and public-facing scholarship, allowing the fellow to pursue a multitude of career paths, contribute to research that directly affects important issues in American politics, and increase visibility of their research.

The Weidenbaum Center at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications from recent Ph.D. graduates for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship. The fellowship will run for 12 months, starting on or around July 1, 2025, with the possibility of a one-year renewal.

The Weidenbaum Center has supported survey data collection efforts through The American Panel Survey (TAPS), The American Social Survey (TASS), and the Weidenbaum Center Survey (WCS). The Center's most recent efforts have focused on the launch of the WCS, which is fielded three times each year, includes a sample of 3,000 respondents (2,000 general US adult population and oversample of 1,000 African Americans), with each survey paired with voter file data and web-tracking data for a subset of respondents. For more information on survey work supported by the Center, please visit: <https://wc.wustl.edu/weidenbaum-center-survey-work>.

The Fellow will work collaboratively with Taylor Carlson, graduate student fellows, and other Weidenbaum Center affiliates to support the launch of the Weidenbaum Center Survey and other data collection efforts through the Center. The Fellow will assist with the launch of an online dashboard that allows people to analyze and download the survey data, write public-facing reports describing key findings from the data, draft survey instruments, create publicly available data repositories, and conduct both coauthored and independent academic research.

We are seeking an individual with social science research interests who will advance the Center's mission by engaging in collaborative and independent research and who will enjoy the opportunity to contribute to public scholarship (blog posts, reports, website graphics). We are especially interested in candidates with training in survey methodology and experience with public-facing scholarship (e.g., op-eds). Candidates should detail their experience in these areas in their cover letters and showcase any of these interests in the writing sample. We anticipate that the Fellow will spend most of their time working on Center-related and coauthored projects with Taylor Carlson and other Center affiliates.

Qualifications

We invite applications from qualified candidates who will have a PhD in hand by the time of the appointment, are no more than four years from the granting of their Ph.D. at the time of the submission, and who do not yet hold tenure-track academic positions.

Applications are evaluated against a broad set of criteria with special consideration given to contributions the candidate can make to academic diversity in our University community and more specifically to the study of survey methodology or addressing contemporary issues in American society with survey data.

Application Instructions

Proposal Submission Deadline: We will begin reviewing applications on February 7 and anticipate scheduling Zoom interviews as early as late February.

Proposal Format:

Applications should include the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Research statement not to exceed 2000 words describing the dissertation project and other research

- Writing sample
- Three letters of reference
- The cover letter should be addressed to Taylor Carlson

NOTE: Please apply through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/161709>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/15/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15339

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Formal Theory

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track appointment in formal theory. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151776>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14624

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

NON-ACADEMIC

OPEN

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Searcy Family Dean of the College of Arts and Science

Vanderbilt University, a world-class research university based in Nashville, Tennessee, seeks a visionary and collaborative leader to serve as the next Searcy Family Dean of the College of Arts and Science (A+S). This is a pivotal moment for the college and an extraordinary opportunity to shape the future of liberal arts education at one of the country's most dynamic universities. The new dean will lead an ambitious academic community focused on excellence, innovation, and bold ideas, as evident in the university's motto, Crescere aude: "Dare to grow."

As Vanderbilt's most academically diverse college and one of four founding schools, A+S plays a foundational role in the university's mission. A+S offers more than 100 majors and minors across the arts, humanities, social sciences, and sciences; it is home to approximately 630 full-time faculty, 230 staff, 4,000 undergraduate students, and 670 graduate students. As the interdisciplinary core of Vanderbilt, A+S faculty and students collaborate extensively with all of Vanderbilt's other schools and colleges. The college's reputation is reflected in its faculty, which includes internationally recognized scholars, numerous members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Medicine, and the National Academy of Sciences; winners of the Pulitzer Prize; and recipients of Carnegie, Guggenheim, and MacArthur fellowships.

Under its current leadership, the college has invested in and dramatically expanded its research footprint, growing external grant funding from $35 million to $56 million. The college launched bold infrastructure projects, reimaged its undergraduate core curriculum, increased graduate student stipends, and strengthened a sense of belonging while increasing access to its services and programs. It also played a central role in Vanderbilt's Dare to Grow campaign, which has surpassed a fundraising goal of $3.2 billion, with A+S surpassing its set goal of $420 million and continuing to outpace expectations.

The next Dean will inherit a college that is collegial, ambitious, and fiscally sound—with a $283 million budget and debt-free operations. They will be charged with defining the future of interdisciplinary liberal arts and sciences education and research in the 21st Century, not only at Vanderbilt but as a model for other universities. They will build and advance an ambitious vision for A+S's long-term excellence, one that reinforces its role as the intellectual heart of the university. This includes further elevating interdisciplinary collaboration, investing in academic and physical infrastructure, and accelerating discovery across all fields—from the humanities and social sciences to physical, life, and lab sciences. This is an exceptional opportunity for a collaborative, strategic, and intellectually engaged leader to work in close partnership with faculty, students, staff, and senior leadership. The next dean should exhibit exceptional listening and communication skills, interpersonal and political acumen, managerial sophistication, financial stewardship, fundraising abilities, and a commitment to shared governance.

TO APPLY

A search committee has been established and is supported by Isaacson, Miller, the national search firm. Confidential nominations, inquiries, and applications may be directed in confidence to:

Katie Rockman and Anita Tien, Partners

Andy Marshall, Managing Associate

www.imsearch.com/open-searches/vanderbilt-university-college-arts-sciences/dean

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/26/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15639

Princeton University

Rank: Associate Research Scholar

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Open

The Princeton Society of Fellows in the Liberal Arts, an interdisciplinary group of scholars in the humanities and social sciences, invites applications for the 2026-2029 fellowship competition. Applications are welcome for the following fellowships:

Two or three Open Fellowships in any discipline represented in the Society

One Fellowship in Humanistic Studies

One Fellowship in East Asian Studies

Applicants may be considered for more than one fellowship category pertinent to their research and teaching. The Society's website (sf.princeton.edu) provides additional details on the fellowships, eligibility, disciplines, and application dossier, and we recommend that applicants review this information before submitting an application.

Appointed as Associate Research Scholars in the Council of the Humanities for three years, fellows pursue their research, attend weekly seminars and teach in academic departments. In each of the first two years, fellows teach one undergraduate course per semester, pending approval by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty; in their third year, they teach only one course in either semester. When teaching, fellows will carry the secondary rank of Lecturer.

Applicants holding the Ph.D. at the time of application must have received the degree after January 1, 2024. Applicants not yet holding the Ph.D. are expected to have completed a substantial portion of the dissertation – at least half – at the time of application. Successful candidates must fulfill all requirements for the Ph.D., including filing of the dissertation, by June 15, 2026. Candidates for/recipients of doctoral degrees in Education, Jurisprudence, and from Princeton University are not eligible. Applicants may apply only once to the Princeton Society of Fellows.

Selection is based on exceptional scholarly achievement and evidence of unusual promise, range and quality of teaching experience, and potential contributions to an interdisciplinary community. The Society of Fellows seeks a diverse and international pool of applicants.

Applicants are asked to submit an application by August 5, 2025 (11:59 p.m. ET) to the online portal at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/38581>.

The salary range is $101,000 – $105,000. The number of fellowships offered each year is contingent on funding. The work location for these positions is in-person on campus at Princeton University, and the positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: 8/5/2025

Date Posted: 6/23/2025

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15627

Texas A&M University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science, Bush School of Government & Public Service at Texas A&M University (<http://bush.tamu.edu/pols>) is recruiting 3 tenured full-time, nine-month positions which are open with respect to subfields. This search is for the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service to the profession. Strong research and teaching interests across traditional subfields of political science will be highly valued. All appointees are expected to be committed to teaching and research of the highest quality. The expected starting date for this position is August 1, 2026. The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas was founded in 1997 under President George H. W. Bush's philosophy that "public service is a noble calling." <https://bush.tamu.edu/>

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in political science or a related field.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/169060 1) cover letter 2) curriculum vitae, 3) personal statement, (your statement should include your philosophy and plans for teaching, research and service), 4) provide contact information for five professional references. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The review of applications will begin on September 15, 2025, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
Equal Opportunity/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15623

Ashoka University

Rank: Visiting Faculty Positions in Political Science (2025-2026)

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for multiple Visiting Faculty positions (open rank) for the 2025-2026 academic year. We prefer candidates who can teach the entire academic year, but are open to candidate who are available for only either the Monsoon semester (25 August – 13 December 2025) or the Spring semester (19 January – 9 May 2026). Please indicate your availability in your cover letter.

Successful candidates are expected to have a strong teaching record and a competitive research profile. We prefer candidates with a completed PhD, but are willing to consider advanced PhD students with a strong teaching record as instructor of record. The successful applicant will have a 2/2 teaching load in addition to light administrative and advising duties. Instruction will be in-person.

While we look for candidates in any subfield of Political Science, at least one of the positions will be filled by a candidate who can teach quantitative and/or qualitative research methods. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis.

Please submit:

- A cover letter including teaching interests.
- Your curriculum vitae (CV).
- One writing sample.
- (Optional) A teaching statement.

Applications must be submitted by 15 July 2025 but are considered on a rolling basis. Any queries can be directed to hod.pol@ashoka.edu.in. Please submit your applications through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/168894>

About Ashoka

Founded in 2014, Ashoka University is a rapidly growing private liberal arts university dedicated to providing students with an innovative interdisciplinary liberal arts education and an inclusive place to research, think deeply and critically, and express themselves creatively. The university currently offers 12 pure and 9 interdisciplinary majors as well as 17 minor programmes. It is also home to a number of interdisciplinary educational and research centres.

Ashoka is located in Sonapat, India, about 40 km (25 mi) North of New Delhi, India's vibrant capital city. Ashoka has near-campus faculty residence facilities and it is also accessible from Delhi via a regular shuttle that runs between campus and the Jahangirpuri metro station. The campus is home to over 3000 students from 28 states and Union Territories in India as well as 21 other countries. The student to faculty ratio is approximately 11:1.

The Department of Political Science has 10 permanent members with research interests which include but are not limited to Indian politics, comparative politics, peace and conflict studies, political economy, political theory, history of political thought, and legal theory. The Department has a major and minor and contributes to the Politics, Philosophy, and Economics major.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15608

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in AI, Policy and Society

Subfield(s): Open, Public Policy, Public Administration

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

Job Description:

Visiting Assistant Professor in Artificial Intelligence, Policy, and Society

Purdue's Political Science Department is seeking a visiting assistant professor for the 2025-2026 academic year to teach master's level core courses AI policy, governance, and social impacts in the university-wide Master of Science in Artificial Intelligence degree. The position begins in August 2025 and, with approval, may be held remotely from locations within the United States. The position may be renewable for an additional year, contingent on budget approval.

This person in this position will teach a four-course equivalency per semester of online master's level courses in areas related to AI governance, public policy, and social impacts of AI. This position also contributes to the administrative management of the core courses and assists with updating course material. Purdue offers a supportive environment with many opportunities for professional development.

Qualifications

Qualified candidates must hold a master's degree in political science, public policy, public administration, or a closely related field. Preferred: A PhD or at least three years of relevant job experience in addition to a masters degree. Candidates must have academic expertise and/or work experience related to one or more of the following areas: public policy, public administration, social and policy impacts of artificial intelligence, or use of AI tools in the workplace. Applicants should have evidence of successful post-secondary teaching experience.

The Department, College, and University

Purdue University is Indiana's public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. Purdue is home to over 44,000 undergraduate students and 12,000 graduate students. Purdue is in West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

The Department of Political Science, home to 27 faculty and over thirty-five PhD students, offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees. We are a welcoming and supportive community for visiting faculty and post-docs, with regular opportunities for professional development through mentoring, workshops, research labs, and an active speaker series. The Department is part of the College of Liberal Arts, a leader in developing innovative programs such as the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders.

Applications

Application materials must be submitted electronically via <https://careers.purdue.edu/> with job id #37523.

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter that describes their qualifications for the position, 2) a CV, and 3) a brief teaching portfolio with evidence of post-secondary teaching experience. Candidates who advance in the process will be required to submit additional materials including names of references and transcripts. A background check is required for employment in this position.

Review of applications will begin July 6, 2025, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $55,000 – $57,000 for the academic year.

Candidates must have the ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2025

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15604

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Science (open subfield).

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Science (open subfield)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the "FPSE") at Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in any of the following subfields of political science: Japanese Politics, Political Economy, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Formal and Quantitative Methods. We seek candidates who advance theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. Candidates should have strong methodological training and be able to advise graduate students on both substantive and methodological issues. The start date can be as early as April 1, 2026 (see below).

Teaching responsibility:

The successful candidate will teach a course in the field of empirical political science, such as "Introduction to Political Analysis," "Quantitative Political Analysis," etc. and other related courses for the School of Political Science and Economics (Undergraduate Program) and the Graduate School of Political Science, as well as research seminars.

Scheduled start of employment:

April 1, 2026, or September 1, 2026 (or a mutually agreed later date)

For more details and instructions for application, please go to the website at

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news-en/2025/06/02/24138/>

Start Date: Spring 2026

Application Deadline: 9/2/2025

Date Posted: 6/3/2025

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15599

Augustana University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Open

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

Position Type: Full-Time

Department: Government and International Affairs

The Department of Government and International Affairs at Augustana University invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position. The effective start date is August 20, 2025.

Responsibilities:

The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. The position involves teaching seven courses each academic year: three courses per semester, with an additional course during the three-week Interim term in January. We seek a scholar who can contribute to our efforts to enhance the variety and international content of our upper-level course offerings, as well as offer sections of our Introduction to Government courses taught within the general education curriculum. We are open to scholars approaching these tasks from the standpoint of international relations, political theory and/or law.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. completed by August 1, 2025 is strongly preferred, with evidence of teaching excellence expected.

Interacting with students, faculty and leadership from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, along with a deep appreciation and respect for academic principles and culture, must be a top value of the candidate.

Application Procedure:

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. Interested applicants are asked to submit the below application materials in one document to our career center portal. If assistance is needed in the application process, please reach out to humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: augie.edu. Questions may be directed to Dr. Emily Wanless, department chair, at ewanless@augie.edu.

*Letter of interest

*Curriculum vitae

*Statement of teaching philosophy

*Evidence of teaching effectiveness

*Phone numbers and email addresses of three current professional references

Augustana University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Title IX Employer. Applicants must comply with the Immigration Reform and Control Act and may be required to submit official transcripts upon employment. Finalist candidates must satisfactorily complete a pre-employment background check.

About Augustana University:

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15584

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY IN ST. LOUIS–Professor
- Ordered Liberty Project

Washington University invites applications for multiple endowed professorships from tenured faculty whose research and teaching engage with the principles of classical liberalism, including the rule of law, free markets, regulatory reform, and government accountability. We seek scholars with a strong record of rigorous research, employing advanced doctrinal or empirical methods to explore fundamental questions related to democratic governance, private ordering, individual liberties, economic regulation, and the institutional foundations of a free society. This search is open to tenured scholars across disciplines, including but not limited to law, economics, political science, sociology, philosophy, and business. Appointments will be made at the rank of Full Professor and begin as early as the spring semester of 2026.

Qualifications

For a law appointment, a JD (or the equivalent international credential), JSD, or Ph.D. is required at the time of appointment. For an appointment outside of law, a Ph.D. in a relevant field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Application Instructions

Application materials should include a cover letter that addresses how their research and teaching align with the goals of the search and indicates the department they would most like to join. Applications should also include a CV and a list of references. Materials should be submitted via Interfolio.

Consideration of applications will begin May 1 and will be considered on a rolling basis.

Please apply via Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/166960>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15582

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites application for one full-time tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all subfields, including but not limited to international relations (including non-traditional security and human security), international political economy, gender politics, global studies, and governance and public policy. We also encourage applications from candidates with research experience relating to Asia and whose backgrounds are traditionally underrepresented in the discipline.

The teaching load is three courses per academic year. Compensation is competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support. Successful candidates are expected to teach graduate and undergraduate classes and take a leading role in developing new departmental initiatives. Candidates with publications in top outlets who conduct innovative and impactful research using, eg. computational methods, may also be invited to apply for the Presidential Young Professorship. <https://www.nus.edu.sg/careers/nus-programmes/>

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.fas.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) includes scholars working in all areas of political science, as well as an interdisciplinary Global Studies programme examining the processes and effects of globalisation across political, economic, social, and cultural domains (<https://fass.nus.edu.sg/globalstudies>). Faculty and students can take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, and various research institutes including the Asia-Europe Foundation, the Institute of South Asian Studies, the East Asia Institute, and the Yusof Ishak Institute—Institute of Southeast Asian Studies among others. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a global leader in research and higher education. Singapore is a highly livable global city that is a major regional and international travel hub.

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal: https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job/Assistant-Professor-in-Political-Science/28742-en_GB/.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

1. Cover letter clearly detailing their research and teaching interests.
2. Curriculum vitae.
3. Three letters of reference. Please send all letters directly to pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.
4. A research statement of no more than 2 pages stating your research interests and research plans for the next 3 years.
5. A teaching statement of no more than 2 pages, as well as sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and/or other evidence of teaching quality.
6. Up to three writing samples

For full consideration, please submit your materials to this website by 1 July 2025. Applications received after this date may still be considered until the position is filled.

For any queries, please write to: pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/13/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15580

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Position Description

Professor Hélène Landemore seeks a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2025. Professor Landemore seeks someone capable of helping her conduct research on the ethics and politics of Artificial Intelligence. The research associate will work on various editorial projects (books, articles, edited volumes) and help professor Landemore organize conferences and workshops. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant.

Qualifications

A background in political theory/philosophy is preferred; additional background in computer science, engineering, or economics would be a plus. Excellent organizational skills and editorial experience are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Application Instructions

Applications should include the following:

- A cover letter indicating your interest in the Post-doctoral Fellowship
- CV
- One scholarly writing sample (in English)
- PhD program transcript
- Two letters of recommendation (uploaded by letter writers in interfolio)
- The review process will begin April 1, 2025.

<http://apply.interfolio.com/164436>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/8/2026

Date Posted: 3/8/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15497

University of Rochester

Rank: Political Science, Philosophy, and Economics Instructional Track

Political Science, Philosophy, and Economics

The University of Rochester's Department of Political Science invites applications from candidates for a full-time, instructional-track position that is open with regard to rank, starting July 1, 2025. The initial appointment is for one year with subsequent reappointment on a four-year cycle, conditional on a successful first year. The position involves a mix of teaching and administrative responsibilities, which will contribute broadly to undergraduate training in political science, and will support our major in Politics, Philosophy, and Economics (PPE).

We seek candidates who can contribute to teaching in a selection of the following areas: political philosophy, constitutional law, environmental policy, public economics, and race and ethnic politics. Qualified candidates must be able to teach two required courses for the PPE major: a 4-credit seminar course (Politics, Philosophy, and Economics: How to Change the World), and a 2-credit student-paper presentation seminar. Teaching responsibilities will be four 4-credit courses and the one 2-credit course, for a total of 4.5 courses, each academic year.

Administrative duties consist of being part of our advising team (including major declarations and degree audits for majors run by the department), with special responsibility for the PPE major. The administrative duties will be the equivalent of 1.5 courses over the academic year.

The position is open to candidates from diverse intellectual backgrounds, including economics, law, philosophy, political science, and public policy.

Salary: $70,000-$80,000. The referenced pay range represents the full base range of pay for this job. Individual salaries will be determined within the job's salary range and established based on market data, experience and expertise of the individual, and internal equity considerations.

All applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, three letters of recommendation, and sample syllabi (if available). Candidates without a prior academic appointment should include a graduate transcript.

The University of Rochester is firmly committed to advancing equity and fostering an inclusive and diverse community. We ask candidates to include a statement discussing the ways in which their experiences will shape their pursuits as a member of our faculty and help them add to the University's core values of Meliora (ever better).

Materials should be submitted online at: www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting. For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department, go to: <http://www.sas.rochester.edu/psc/>. We will begin reviewing applications in March 2025.

The University of Rochester is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education.

EOE / Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/17/2025

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15435

University of South Carolina

Rank: Professional Track Instructor

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a full-time instructor position to begin August 16, 2025. Area of specialization is open, but the successful candidate will be able to teach Introduction to Global Politics, Introduction to Politics, and/or American National Government, as well as other classes in their field of interest. The position is a 9-month appointment with a teaching load of 8 courses for the academic year (4 each semester). This is an annual appointment that may be renewed, contingent upon satisfactory performance, departmental needs, and the availability of funding. The university provides opportunities for promotion to higher professional track ranks for eligible instructors. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the start date of appointment.

From the Upstate to the Lowcountry, the University of South Carolina system is transforming the lives of South Carolinians through the impact of our eight institutions and 20 locations throughout the state. More than 50,000 students are enrolled at one of eight institutions, including the research campus in Columbia and comprehensive four-year universities in Aiken, Upstate and Beaufort. In addition, our Palmetto College campuses in Salkehatchie, Union, Lancaster, and Sumter enable students to earn associate or bachelor's degrees through a combination of in-person, online or blended learning. All of our system institutions place strong emphasis on service — helping to build healthier, more educated communities in South Carolina and beyond.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

The University of South Carolina is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Institution. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of age, ancestry, citizenship status, color, disability, ethnicity, familial status, gender (including transgender), gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, pregnancy (false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, childbirth, recovery therefrom or related medical conditions, breastfeeding), race, religion (including religious dress and grooming practices), sex, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other bases under federal, state, local law, or regulations.

How to Apply

Applicants must submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; teaching statement; graduate transcript; and contact information (including telephone number and email address) for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation (which must be submitted on appropriate letterhead). Review of applications will begin on March 17th 2025, and the position will remain open until filled. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu> (see here for direct link: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/183076>)

Please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Neal Woods (woodsn@mailbox.sc.edu) with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/14/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15431

Western Carolina University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - American Government & Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Western Carolina University is searching for a visiting assistant professor with a specialization in American politics (subfield open) to join our growing and accomplished faculty.

This is a fixed-term nine-month position with the potential for summer teaching. The anticipated start date is August 2025. The successful candidate will contribute to the Political Science program by teaching six courses per academic year on our Cullowhee, NC campus, including sections of our "Introduction to American Government" course, a core course for our Political Science major and a key component in the University's general education program. Upper-level courses within the candidate's specialization may also be part of the teaching load.

Minimum qualifications include candidates that are advanced ABD with a minimum of 18 graduate credit hours in Political Science from an accredited university.

Preferred qualifications include a PhD in Political Science from an accredited institution, prior teaching experience at the university level, and a promising research agenda in American government or politics.

Candidates will apply online: <https://jobs.wcu.edu/postings/29969>

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on or about March 5, 2025.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/7/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15406

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

The Program on Ethics, Politics, and Economics sponsors interdisciplinary teaching and research in the Social Sciences and Humanities at Yale. The program offers two postdoctoral positions to support outstanding scholars starting their academic careers. We seek scholars whose work spans disciplinary boundaries and integrates empirical, analytical, and normative concerns to shed light on substantial social problems.

We welcome applications from new PhDs in political science, economics, philosophy, business, and related social sciences working on furthering our understanding of complex social realities from an interdisciplinary perspective. This year, we are particularly interested in supporting scholars who are examining political economy problems.

The positions allow new PhD's to develop a strong research program in a stimulating collegial environment alongside faculty across the social sciences and humanities at Yale University. In addition to conducting their research, postdocs are expected to teach one interdisciplinary undergraduate seminar, be available to meet undergraduate students of the EP&E major, and assist with advising majors on their senior essays.

Positions are for one year, renewable to two, at a salary of $70,000 with Yale health benefits. Applicants should have completed PhD requirements by September 2025.

Applications should include the following:

- A cover letter indicating your interest in the Post-doctoral Fellowship
- CV
- Job Market Paper or at least one scholarly writing sample (in English)

- PhD program transcript

- A preliminary syllabus for an interdisciplinary undergraduate course that integrates material from at least two of the following: Political Science, Economics, and Ethics.

- Two letters of recommendation (uploaded by letter writers in interfolio) Please submit application materials electronically to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/160735>. The review process will begin January 5, 2025. We will continue to accept applications until the position has been filled. Please direct inquiries to Ana De La O, Director of Ethics, Politics, and Economics, ana.delao@yale.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/12/2025

Date Posted: 12/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15282

Fudan University

Rank: Distinguished Professors/Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer

Areas Expertise: Open for all candidates who have expertise in computational political science, computational social sciences, AI for social research with strong publication records.

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time positions at the top rank of Distinguished Professors/Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is Open for all candidates who have expertise in computational political science, computational social sciences, AI for social research with strong publication records. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong publication records and their potentials to continue their scholarship during their tenure, and employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the fields, and well recognized as leading scholars in the fields of their research. Applicants are expected to continue publishing research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI), and contribute to the annual research projects at Fudan IAS and to the disciplinary development at Fudan University. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press.

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
3. A brief statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Two published journal articles in PDF;
2. An extensive/detailed curriculum vitae; including honors and awards in disciplines, list of publications, information of three references. Letters of recommendation may be requested.

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended rank/position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14923

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time “Post-doc fellows” at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open for all candidates who have expertise in computational political science, computational social sciences, AI for social research with strong publication records. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China’s top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review’s editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;

4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Spring

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14924

OTHER

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher Position in Business Power, Self-Regulation and Public Opinion at Departments of Sociology and Political Science, University of Copenhagen

The Employment Relations Research Centre (FAOS) at the Department of Sociology at the University of Copenhagen invites applications for a fixed-term postdoctoral researcher position (2 years) starting on 1 October 2025, or as soon as possible thereafter.

This position is part of the BIZPOWER (Business Power in the Politics of Wage Inequality and Climate Change) project, which investigates how businesses use self-regulation (S-R) to influence public opinion and preempt statutory regulation. The postdoctoral researcher will primarily contribute to Work Package 1 (WP1), which focuses on survey experiments measuring the impact of S-R on public support for wage and climate policies.

The project is led by Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen and is funded by the Independent Research Fund Denmark. The research team consists of another postdoctoral researcher who will conduct comparative case studies of Germany and Denmark (WP2-3) and the P.I.

Job Description

In a context of multiple global crises—COVID-19, increased inequality, and climate change—citizens are looking to political leaders and the state to solve problems and protect them. The increased role of the state might fundamentally change the conditions under which business operates around the world.

This project investigates how business actors manage the regulatory challenge in two of the most pressing structural transformations in the 21st century – the rising inequality and climate change. It poses the following research question: Under what conditions can business be powerful in the high-salience politics of wage inequality and carbon emissions?

The postdoctoral researcher will be responsible for designing, implementing, and analyzing survey experiments that assess how business self-regulation influences public opinion on wage inequality and carbon emissions regulation.

Key tasks:

Designing survey experiments that test whether S-R affects public support for stricter government regulation.

Developing experimental treatments.
 Managing data collection in collaboration with survey providers in Denmark and Germany.
 Analyzing survey data using quantitative methods such as conjoint analysis, regression modeling, and causal inference techniques.
 Writing academic articles based on the survey findings for submission to top sociology/political science journals.
 Presenting research findings at international conferences (e.g., APSA, EPSA, SASE, CES).

This position is ideal for a researcher with a strong background in survey methodology, experimental design, and statistical analysis who is interested in business power, self-regulation, and public opinion in policymaking.

The post-doctoral researcher position is a full-time research position and does not involve any teaching obligations.

For further information, including more details on BIZPOWER, please contact Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen (cli@faos.dk).

Qualifications

We seek candidates with the following qualifications:

A PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Economics, or a related field (completed or near completion).

Strong expertise in survey experiments, causal inference, and statistical modeling.

Experience in political behavior, regulatory politics, or business-government relations.

Proficiency in data analysis software (e.g., R, Stata, or Python).

Interest in comparative politics and political economy, preferably in European wage regulation and climate policy.

Fluency in English is required; proficiency in Danish or German is an advantage.

Work Environment & Research Team

The postdoctoral researcher will work closely with Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen, another postdoc and an international advisory board, including leading scholars from Harvard University, MIT, Boston University, University of Konstanz, and Stanford University.

The University of Copenhagen provides a dynamic interdisciplinary research environment, offering access to state-of-the-art research infrastructure for qualitative and comparative political research.

The project will provide opportunities for collaboration on high-impact publications, networking with leading experts in business power and public policy, and participation in international research events.

Application Process

Submit a complete application at our online portal. Click on the "Apply now" icon at the bottom of the page to apply. The documents must be in Adobe PDF or Word.

Applicants must submit the following documents:

Cover Letter detailing research interests and fit for the project.

CV including a list of publications.

Diplomas (master's and PhD)

Research Statement (max. 2 pages) outlining past experience and future research agenda.

Two Writing Samples (published papers or dissertation chapters).

Terms of Employment

Further information on qualification requirements as postdoc can be found in the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities 2019 here: Bekendtgørelse om stillingsstruktur for videnskabeligt personale ved universiteter (in Danish only).

Terms of appointment and salary is in accordance with the Danish Confederation of Professional Associations (Akademikerne).

The salary range starts at DKK approx. 38,700 per month + a 17.1 % contribution to the pension scheme. It is possible to negotiate salary supplements on an annual basis.

The recruitment process

Further information on the recruitment process at University of Copenhagen can be found here: <https://employment.ku.dk/faculty/recruitment-process/>

An Equal Opportunity Workplace

The University of Copenhagen is committed in its pursuit of academic excellence to equality of opportunity and to creating an inclusive working environment and therefore encourages all qualified candidates to apply, regardless of personal background, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, ethnicity etc. For more on the diverse working place environment at the University and the University's participation in the HRS4R HR Excellence in Research, see <https://employment.ku.dk/working-at-ucph/eu-charter-for-researchers/>

International applicant?

The University of Copenhagen offers a broad variety of services for international researchers and accompanying families, including support before and during your relocation and career counselling to expat partners. Please find more information about these services as well as information on entering and working in Denmark here: <https://ism.ku.dk/>

Contact information

For further information please contact Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen at cli@faos.dk.

Information about the recruitment process is available from HR, e-mail: HR-soendre@adm.ku.dk - please refer to ID number: 211-2193/25-2I #2.

We look forward to receiving your application!

The closing date for applications is 20 August 2025 at 23:59 CEST.

Applications or enclosures received thereafter will not be considered.

Apply

<https://candidate.hr-manager.net/ApplicationInit.aspx?cid=1307&ProjectId=164158&DepartmentId=18991&MediaId=4638&SkipAdvertisement=true>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2025

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15634

University of Tennessee

Rank: Assistant Director of National Security & Foreign Affairs, Baker School - UTK

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

The Howard H. Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, seeks applications for a full-time Assistant Director at the Center for National Security & Foreign Affairs (NSFA) at the Baker School. We seek candidates with national security and/or foreign affairs expertise who can help lead the Center's efforts to deliver high quality student experience through undergraduate, graduate, and executive education, both in person and online. The successful candidate will also contribute to the Center's policy engagement work through research and public engagement activities.

The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs and a Master of Public Policy (MPP) with concentrations in national security and nuclear policy, among other focus areas.

This position will play a central role in shaping and expanding the Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs' (NSFA) impact on national security, foreign policy, and public engagement. Working closely with the Director, the Assistant Director will help build a nationally recognized hub for scholarship, student development, and public policy engagement in national security and foreign affairs. This position is responsible for advancing the Center's vision to become a dynamic platform for connecting students, faculty, policymakers, and the public through rigorous research, strategic partnerships, and experiential learning. The successful candidate will contribute to the development of the Center's policy engagement through the execution of research projects, conferences, policy dialogues, and public events that reflect the Center's commitment to addressing today's most pressing national security and foreign policy challenges. The candidate will work with NSFA-affiliated faculty and student research assistants on research projects, policy briefs, and reports related to national security and foreign affairs. The candidate will also help build the Center's presence as a trusted, nonpartisan contributor to state, national, and international policy conversations. This position will work closely with the NSFA Director and the Baker School's Student Success team to engage and mentor students interested in careers in state and federal government, the private sector, thinktanks, and other organizations in the fields of national security, foreign policy, nuclear policy, and related fields. This includes developing and delivering training, supporting professional development experiences such as internships, fellowships, study abroad opportunities (including the Baker School's program in Japan), Washington, D.C. trips, guest speaker events, and wargaming simulations. The position will help expand and deepen these opportunities to build a robust professional pathway for students entering the field. This is a forward-facing role for a strategic builder, ideally suited for someone committed to educating future public servants, producing policy-relevant research, and strengthening the bridge between academia and the national policymaking community.

Responsibilities

POLICY ENGAGEMENT (50%)

- Assists in developing and implementing strategic planning objectives, initiatives, and activities for the center.

- Identifies opportunities for externally funded research from foundations, government agencies, and/or corporate entities.
- Participates in the development and submission of proposals.
- Proposes and produces research-based policy briefs and reports about topics relevant to NSFA expertise.
- Participates in the planning and execution of funded and unfunded research projects.
- Supervises student research assistants while providing direction and mentorship.
- Participates in periodic meetings with university partners, external partners, and other stakeholders to discuss joint issues and initiatives.
- Participates in periodic management meetings to relay information about center updates and issues.
- Clearly and effectively communicates research findings through presentations to funders, professional audiences, and/or policymakers and other audiences.
- Interacts and networks within the Baker School, with NSFA affiliates and fellows, and across campus to seek potential collaborators and develop potential research projects.

STUDENT MENTORSHIP & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT (50%)

- Develops and delivers presentations at high schools and regional colleges about national security, foreign affairs, and/or nuclear policy to grow interest in the undergraduate and graduate programs at the Baker School.
- Develop and deliver training for students and outside stakeholders for policy education and professional development.
- Collaborates with the NSFA Director and the school's office of Student Success to develop and implement national security and foreign affairs-related experiences for students, both within and outside the classroom, including student travel.
- Identify, plan, and organize support for professional development experiences such as internships, fellowships, study abroad opportunities (including the Baker School's program in Japan), Washington, D.C. trips, guest speaker events, and crisis or wargaming simulations.
- Advises students on academic and career matters.
- Maintains regular office hours for student interaction.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications

Education:

Candidates must hold a master's degree in political science, public policy, international relations, defense or security studies, or a related field.

Experience:

- Experience in government, public policy, national security, international security, think tanks, non-governmental organizations, international organizations, teaching or research in public policy / foreign policy schools, or related career areas.
- Experience in working on research related to national security, foreign affairs, and related topics.

Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

- Knowledge of applicable policy processes and actors in national security and foreign affairs.
- Ability to work independently and in collaborative multidisciplinary teams.
- Ability to develop, plan, and implement short- and long-range goals.

- Excellent communication, interpersonal, and presentation skills.
- Commitment to teaching excellence and student success.
- Strong knowledge of field concepts, practices, procedures, and professional standards in national security and foreign affairs.
- Strong research design and analytical skills.
- Commitment to continuous professional development.

A PhD in political science, public policy, international relations, defense/security studies, or a related field

Preferred Qualifications

Education: A PhD in political science, public policy, international relations, defense/security studies, or a related field

Experience: Experience in higher education teaching. Strong publication record in relevant field

Work Location

- Knoxville, TN
- On-site
- Remote work may be available on either Thursday or Friday with the permission of the position supervisor and consistent with the institution's regulations. This may be impacted by in-person responsibilities and events that conflict with this schedule.

UT market range:

- MR 11

Applicants should submit the materials below:

- Cover letter explaining research experience, any teaching experience, any policy experience, any relevant qualifications, and interest in the position
- CV
- Graduate transcripts
- Writing samples of policy related research
- Teaching evaluations (if available)
- List of three (3) references

About the Howard H. Baker Jr. School for Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School)

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School for Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) was established in 2023 to honor the distinguished life and legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan. Located in a 51,000-sq. ft. purpose-built facility, the Baker School evolved from the Baker Center, which operated as a think tank producing research, public engagement programming, and an active set of student programs for twenty years. The Baker School now offers degree programs and developed its research initiatives into independent research centers - NSFA and the Center for Transportation, Energy, and Environmental Policy (CETEP). In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which encourages civic knowledge and participation among UT students and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each team member is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission, and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work continually evolves to meet changing needs.

About Us

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, has shaped leaders, change-makers, and innovative thinkers since its founding in 1794. The university is home to more than 38,000 students and 10,000 statewide employees—the Volunteers—who uphold the university's tradition of lighting the way for others through leadership and service.

UT Knoxville offers over 900 programs of study across 14 degree-granting colleges and schools. As Tennessee's flagship land-grant university, its footprint spans the entire state. The university holds the highest Carnegie classification for research activity and has deep partnerships with industry leaders and the US Department of Energy's largest multidisciplinary laboratory, Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The Knoxville campus serves and recruits for UT Knoxville, including the Institute of Agriculture and the Space Institute, as well as the UT Institute of Public Service.

UT Knoxville considers its employees its number one asset. With values that focus on work-life balance, compensation, and innovation leadership, all Vols are supported to advance professionally. Employees have access to career development and coaching, continued education, and an extensive list of development and training possibilities. The Volunteer employee experience implements structures and practices that attract and retain a diverse community and that support a culture where everyone matters and belongs.

The university holds a strong commitment to its land-grant mission of learning and engagement, with a tradition of service and leadership that carries that Volunteer spirit throughout the state and around the world. It has been ranked nationally as "Best Employer for New Graduates," "One of America's Best Large Employers," and "Best Workplace for Women," and has been designated as "Best Place for Working Parents" by Forbes Magazine.

Apply today and join the Tennessee Volunteer community!

Link to apply: https://fa-ewlq-saasfaprod1.fa.ocs.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX_1/job/3454/?utm_medium=jobshare&utm_source=External+Job+Share

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/23/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15626

McGill University

Rank: Canada Excellence Research Chair (CERC) in Computational Social Science, AI, and Democracy

Canada Excellence Research Chair (CERC) in Computational Social Science, AI, and Democracy

The Department of Political Science, the Max Bell School of Public Policy, and the School of Computer Science at McGill University invite applications for the Canada Excellence Research Chair in Computational Social Science, AI, and Democracy

McGill University's Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for a nomination to a Canada Excellence Research Chair (CERC) in the area of Computational Social Science, AI, and Democracy. The CERC program supports Canadian universities in their efforts to build on Canada's growing reputation as a global leader in research and innovation. The program supports world-renowned researchers and their teams to establish ambitious research programs at Canadian universities. These awards are among the most prestigious and generous available globally.

Following a highly competitive and rigorous selection process involving peer review, CERCs are appointed for a period of eight years in values of $8 million or $4 million (over the entire award period). These awards are not renewable. The two award values recognize the varying costs of research across different research disciplines and aim to be inclusive of diverse areas of research. Accepted CERC chairholders are McGill professors during and after the award period.

Conditional on the approval of the nominee by CERC, the ideal CERC Chairholder will be appointed as a tenured Associate or Full Professor at the Department of Political Science, with potential cross-appointments in the Max Bell School of Public Policy and the School of Computer Science. The candidate for the CERC in Computational Social Science, AI, and Democracy is expected to be a leader in exploring the complex interactions between digital media systems, democratic participation and governance, artificial intelligence, and the proliferation of misinformation. This interdisciplinary role will focus on how digital media — including AI-driven technologies and social media platforms — are reshaping public discourse and engagement as well as democratic accountability. This position will combine the analytical power of data science and algorithmic research with the fields of democratic theory, political science, and public policy.

Ideally, the candidate has expertise and interest in innovative research using computational methods such as machine learning (ML), natural language processing (NLP), multi-modal large language model algorithms (LLMs), network analysis, and/or data mining to study the influence of digital media and AI technologies on democratic engagement and governance, for example on fair elections, social mobilization, and the spread of uncivil discourse and information manipulation. The candidate could contribute to the theorizing on the ethical and political implications of AI technologies, for example involving transparency, democratic accountability, and the protection of democratic values. Ideally, the selected candidate runs a lab or research group affiliated with the chair. The Chairholder may serve as the focal point between the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship (CSDC), the Centre for Media, Technology and Democracy, and the Media Ecosystem Observatory, at McGill University.

Applicants from the academic sector must currently be at the rank of Full Professor or be an Associate Professor who is expected to be promoted to Full Professor within 2 years. Applicants from outside academia should have qualifications and a track record that will enable them to be appointed at the level of Full Professor within 2 years. As per McGill University requirements, successful applicants will have a doctoral degree (or equivalent) in the relevant discipline.

Equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) is a foundational principle in the CERC program. To achieve its research excellence-based objectives and outcomes, the program requires the participation and contributions of students, trainees, and researchers from underrepresented groups. These groups include, but are not limited to, racialized minorities, Indigenous Peoples, persons with disabilities, women, and individuals from LGBTQ2+ communities.

The CERC nominee will thus be expected to possess the skills needed to recruit, teach, and mentor a diverse group of researchers and trainees, reflecting McGill's commitments to equity and diversity as set out in core institutional documents including McGill's Equity, Diversity & Inclusion (EDI) Strategic Plan, Taskforce on Indigenous Studies and Indigenous Education, Action Plan to Address Anti-Black Racism, and McGill Accessibility Strategy.

We welcome and encourage applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. CERC guidelines state that researchers who are currently at another Canadian institution are eligible as candidates if there is demonstrable net benefit to the country in moving the researcher from one Canadian institution to another. Enquiries from potential applicants are welcome and will be treated in strict confidence. Enquiries can be directed to Prof. Dietlind Stolle – dietlind.stolle@mcgill.ca.

Applications must be submitted on-line through Workday: https://mcgill.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/McGill_Careers/job/Leacock-Building/Canada-Excellence-Research-Chair--CERC--in-Computational-Social-Science--AI--and-Democracy_JR0000066958-1. Use a personal email address when creating an account in Workday. Applications should include (i) a cover letter describing their research program, (ii) a curriculum vitae, (iii) a teaching statement, (iv) names and contact information of 3 references.

Please submit your application within 30 days of this publication date (June 24, 2025).

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 7/24/2025

Date Posted: 6/21/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15624

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Visiting Researcher

The Benson Center for the Study of Western Civilization at the University of Colorado Boulder invites applications for sabbatical researchers to visit and serve as Sabbatical Fellows on an ongoing basis. Faculty in fields or with sabbatical projects relating to politically heterodox programs, ideas and activities are especially encouraged to apply. Sabbatical Fellows are expected to make progress on a substantial research project during their time in residence. In addition, they are encouraged to participate in the various activities of the Center, including faculty and student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures. Sabbatical Fellows will be appointed as a Visiting Researcher, given office space in the Center, and University of Colorado privileges.

This position is eligible for a multi-line hire with two separate start dates. Applicants for spring 2026 and any portion of the academic year 2026-27 will be considered. Please indicate your preferred timeline in your application materials.

CU is an Equal Opportunity Employer and complies with all applicable federal, state, and local laws governing nondiscrimination in employment. We are committed to creating a workplace where all individuals are treated with respect and dignity, and we encourage individuals from all backgrounds to apply, including protected veterans and individuals with disabilities.

What Your Key Responsibilities Will Be

Work on faculty research that relates to the Benson Center's mission to promote critical reflection on the distinctive traditions and political perspectives that characterize Western Civilization. The visiting researcher will be asked to participate in Center activities throughout the academic year. Faculty in fields or with sabbatical projects related to conservative programs, projects, and/or activities of the Center are eligible to apply.

What We Can Offer

Applicants should make every effort to bring their own funding to remain in residence. If such support is not possible, candidates with part-time support can apply for additional support from the Benson Center to match the home institution's contribution (for instance, one semester of salary support to match the home institution's sabbatical salary, plus a yearlong appointment in the Benson Center). If external funding is not available, the Benson Center will provide a monthly salary between $6,000 - $10,000 for a full-time position, dependent on experience. Relocation expenses may be available, as well as dedicated funds to support travel and research expenses. Signing bonus and incentive pay may be available, depending on the candidate's experience and Center funding. Benefits will be provided for 50% time or greater appointments, including medical, dental, and life insurance, as well as tax deferred annuity (optional savings plans – 403B, 457, 401k). An Eco Pass (for the bus system) will also be provided.

The University of Colorado offers excellent benefits, including medical, dental, retirement, paid time off, tuition benefit and ECO Pass. The University of Colorado Boulder is one of the largest employers in Boulder County and offers an inspiring higher education environment.

What We Require

Completed Ph.D., or a doctoral degree in progress with a dissertation defense date scheduled.

Special Instructions

Note: Application materials will not be accepted via email. For consideration, please apply through CU Boulder Jobs using the URL provided below.

Application Link: <https://jobs.colorado.edu/jobs/JobDetail/Visiting-Researcher/64222>.

For full consideration, please apply by 10/15/2025. Position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Spring 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2025

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 15621

Northwestern University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Environmental Policy and Culture Program (EPC) at Northwestern University invites applications for two (2) full-time, two-year visiting assistant professorships, to begin September 1, 2025. EPC is an interdisciplinary undergraduate program with over 100 majors and minors, focusing on social scientific and humanistic approaches to environmental subjects.

These positions are open in terms of period and geographic focus, but we are especially interested in interdisciplinary approaches to environmental justice-driven decision-making and storytelling; policy and governance at local, national, and international scales; and environmental ethics. We are also interested in professional or applied knowledge and experience. The VAPs will each teach five courses a year, at least three of which should be distinct classes (some classes could be taught twice in the same year). The VAPs will also be encouraged to take part in the life of the program, including attending program events, mentoring students, and other forms of community building.

The positions come with access to significant course development funding and we encourage candidates to think creatively about guest speakers, classroom technology, student experiences outside of the classroom, and other course enhancements.

Candidates should have received a PhD in a humanities or social science field, or have equivalent professional experience, by the position start date, and have some experience teaching at the college level.

To apply please provide a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching experience, and the names and email addresses of two references using Northwestern's Faculty Recruiting Portal. In order to receive full consideration, applications must be received by July 7, 2025.

More information and application link available here: <https://epc.northwestern.edu/about/news/2025/visiting-assistant-professor-position.html>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 7/7/2025

Date Posted: 6/10/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15607

The American University in Cairo

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science with emphasis on the Middle East (Fall 2025)

Company Description:

The American University in Cairo (AUC) has a rich legacy that dates back 100 years. Founded in 1919 as an English-language university based on high standards of conduct and scholarship, AUC remains a vibrant institution that contributes to the intellectual growth, discipline, and character of the future leaders of Egypt and the region. AUC emphasizes a liberal arts education, with all undergraduate students studying a common set of courses in the humanities and the natural and social sciences as part of the University's Core Curriculum. The AUC Libraries contain the largest English-language research collection in the region and are an active and integral part of the University's pursuit of excellence in all academic and scholarly programs. Located in one of the most interesting and important cities in the world - at the nexus of Africa, the Middle East, Asia, and Europe, and the center of events of the Arab world - AUC is chartered and accredited in the United States and Egypt. AUC is an English-medium institution.

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an assistant professor position in Political Science with an emphasis on the Middle East starting Fall 2025. The position is on a 2-year fixed-term contract. Teaching responsibilities include a combination of courses at the BA and MA levels in Political Science, Comparative Politics of the Middle East, Introduction to Political Science, Research Methods, International Politics of the Middle East, and Comparative Theory. Responsibilities include supervision of MA theses, teaching at the BA and MA levels, and research and service to the department and the university. The search committee is eager to receive applications from individuals who demonstrate excellence in teaching and have an active research agenda. Candidates with experience in and familiarity with the North American higher educational system are preferred.

Requirements:

A PhD is required at the time of appointment. Teaching experience is required. Candidates should have an ongoing research program and publications.

Additional Information:

Priority will be given to applications received by January 1, 2026. The position is open until filled.

Application Instructions:

Applicants must submit the following documents via the online system:

(a) an updated CV; (b) a letter of interest addressing the required qualifications; (c) a completed AUC Personnel Information Form (PIF); (d) a statement of teaching philosophy; (e) copies of recent student evaluations; (f) an example of a recent publication relevant to the position; and (g) letters of reference from at least three referees familiar with the applicant's professional background sent directly to polsref@aucegypt.edu.

Candidates are encouraged to submit their applications by January 1, 2026, to ensure full consideration. The committee will begin reviewing applications after this date; however, applications will continue to be accepted until a qualified applicant pool has been achieved or until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to: Dr. Nadine Sika, Chair, nadinesika@aucegypt.edu; Dr. Dina Hosni, Assistant to Chair, dina_h@aucegypt.edu; or visit the department's website at: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Apply Here: <https://www.click2apply.net/81ZLqLCDKagWOsobjURor7PI272631808>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 7/3/2025

Date Posted: 6/3/2025

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15600

Lehigh University

Rank: Bernard L. & Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Position: Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY. The Department of International Relations invites applications for a tenured Full Professor to fill the Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair, with an anticipated start date of July 2025. The position is open to all research and teaching specializations within the fields of international relations, foreign policy, and/or comparative politics.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in International Relations or a closely related field. The ideal candidate will have connections to the policy community in Washington, DC, and/or New York City and be able to assist students with internship placement.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and excellence in research. The individual hired will, specifically, be expected to teach courses in International Relations at the undergraduate level, engage in scholarly activities, and participate in departmental, college, and university service, as well as advise undergraduate internships.

Lehigh is among the few higher educational institutions in the US that has long had a separate department of IR. This allows students with a particular interest in international affairs to benefit from a concentrated, high-level program of study that few other schools offer.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly-ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for over 7,500 students. Lehigh University has some 5,800 undergraduates, 1,800 graduate students, and nearly 600 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA, a vibrant and historic area. Over 840,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, however, applications should be received by October 11, 2024. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28335>. Candidates should submit the following materials:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Research statement that describes past scholarly contributions and future research directions

Teaching statement that describes instructional philosophy and courses that the candidate would want to teach or develop

Name and contact information for three references

A statement on contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) that describes knowledge, prior DEI experience, and the candidate's future plans for enhancing community and culture at Lehigh (the Lehigh ADVANCE Center's guide for understanding and preparing such statements is available here)

All inquiries regarding the search should be directed to Ms. Edann Brady at emb703@lehigh.edu or 610-758-3390.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024
Salary: Above $159,999
eJobs ID: 14800

POLITICAL THEORY

University of Michigan

Rank: WCEE Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Political Theory

The Weiser Center for Europe and Eurasia seeks to hire a scholar of contemporary Russia for a two-year WCEE Postdoctoral Fellowship, from August 2026 to July 2028. We encourage applications from specialists on Russia proper as well as those who focus on Russia's interactions with its neighbors (the Baltic states, Moldova, Belarus, Ukraine, the Caucasus, Central Asia, Mongolia, China, Japan). Candidates should have a PhD completed, or nearly completed, in the social sciences and/or cultural studies, broadly construed. We are especially interested in scholars who will complement and add to the coverage offered by our existing faculty.

WCEE Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in the center's events, present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, and teach one course per year at the University of Michigan while in full-time residency.

Eligibility:

Eligibility is restricted to applicants who have obtained their PhD no earlier than January 1, 2024. Current doctoral candidates are eligible to apply but must have defended and filed their dissertations by July 31, 2026.

Benefits:

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $60,000 and up to $10,000 in research funds during the postdoctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning August 1, 2026 through July 31, 2028). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Application materials:

Candidates should submit the following via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/169185>):

- A research proposal (2000 words maximum) that describes your intellectual objectives and concrete plan for the fellowship duration
- Curriculum Vitae
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter or peer-reviewed journal article (50 pages maximum)
- Teaching statement with potential course topics
- Two letters of recommendation

To be assured full consideration, fellowship applications should be received by October 15, 2025, 11:59 PM EST. Successful applicants will be notified by December 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15610

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher Position in Business Power, Self-Regulation and Public Opinion at Departments of Sociology and Political Science, University of Copenhagen

The Employment Relations Research Centre (FAOS) at the Department of Sociology at the University of Copenhagen invites applications for a fixed-term postdoctoral researcher position (2 years) starting on 1 October 2025, or as soon as possible thereafter.

This position is part of the BIZPOWER (Business Power in the Politics of Wage Inequality and Climate Change) project, which investigates how businesses use self-regulation (S-R) to influence public opinion and preempt statutory regulation. The postdoctoral researcher will primarily contribute to Work Package 1 (WP1), which focuses on survey experiments measuring the impact of S-R on public support for wage and climate policies.

The project is led by Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen and is funded by the Independent Research Fund Denmark. The research team consists of another postdoctoral researcher who will conduct comparative case studies of Germany and Denmark (WP2-3) and the P.I.

Job Description

In a context of multiple global crises—COVID-19, increased inequality, and climate change—citizens are looking to political leaders and the state to solve problems and protect them. The increased role of the state might fundamentally change the conditions under which business operates around the world.

This project investigates how business actors manage the regulatory challenge in two of the most pressing structural transformations in the 21st century – the rising inequality and climate change. It poses the following research question: Under what conditions can business be powerful in the high-salience politics of wage inequality and carbon emissions?

The postdoctoral researcher will be responsible for designing, implementing, and analyzing survey experiments that assess how business self-regulation influences public opinion on wage inequality and carbon emissions regulation.

Key tasks:

Designing survey experiments that test whether S-R affects public support for stricter government regulation.

Developing experimental treatments.

Managing data collection in collaboration with survey providers in Denmark and Germany.

Analyzing survey data using quantitative methods such as conjoint analysis, regression modeling, and causal inference techniques.

Writing academic articles based on the survey findings for submission to top sociology/political science journals.

Presenting research findings at international conferences (e.g., APSA, EPSA, SASE, CES).

This position is ideal for a researcher with a strong background in survey methodology, experimental design, and statistical analysis who is interested in business power, self-regulation, and public opinion in policymaking.

The post-doctoral researcher position is a full-time research position and does not involve any teaching obligations.

For further information, including more details on BIZPOWER, please contact Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen (cli@faos.dk).

Qualifications

We seek candidates with the following qualifications:

A PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Economics, or a related field (completed or near completion).

Strong expertise in survey experiments, causal inference, and statistical modeling.

Experience in political behavior, regulatory politics, or business-government relations.

Proficiency in data analysis software (e.g., R, Stata, or Python).

Interest in comparative politics and political economy, preferably in European wage regulation and climate policy.

Fluency in English is required; proficiency in Danish or German is an advantage.

Work Environment & Research Team

The postdoctoral researcher will work closely with Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen, another postdoc and an international advisory board, including leading scholars from Harvard University, MIT, Boston University, University of Konstanz, and Stanford University.

The University of Copenhagen provides a dynamic interdisciplinary research environment, offering access to state-of-the-art research infrastructure for qualitative and comparative political research.

The project will provide opportunities for collaboration on high-impact publications, networking with leading experts in business power and public policy, and participation in international research events.

Application Process

Submit a complete application at our online portal. Click on the "Apply now" icon at the bottom of the page to apply. The documents must be in Adobe PDF or Word.

Applicants must submit the following documents:

Cover Letter detailing research interests and fit for the project.

CV including a list of publications.

Diplomas (master's and PhD)

Research Statement (max. 2 pages) outlining past experience and future research agenda.

Two Writing Samples (published papers or dissertation chapters).

Terms of Employment

Further information on qualification requirements as postdoc can be found in the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities 2019 here: Bekendtgørelse om stillingsstruktur for videnskabeligt personale ved universiteter (in Danish only).

Terms of appointment and salary is in accordance with the Danish Confederation of Professional Associations (Akaademikerne).

The salary range starts at DKK approx. 38,700 per month + a 17.1 % contribution to the pension scheme. It is possible to negotiate salary supplements on an annual basis.

The recruitment process

Further information on the recruitment process at University of Copenhagen can be found here: <https://employment.ku.dk/faculty/recruitment-process/>

An Equal Opportunity Workplace

The University of Copenhagen is committed in its pursuit of academic excellence to equality of opportunity and to creating an inclusive working environment and therefore encourages all qualified candidates to apply, regardless of personal background, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, ethnicity etc. For more on the diverse working place environment at the University and the University's participation in the HRS4R HR Excellence in Research, see <https://employment.ku.dk/working-at-ucph/eu-charter-for-researchers/>

International applicant?

The University of Copenhagen offers a broad variety of services for international researchers and accompanying families, including support before and during your relocation and career counselling to expat partners. Please find more information about these services as well as information on entering and working in Denmark here: <https://ism.ku.dk/>

Contact information

For further information please contact Associate Professor Christian Lyhne Ibsen at cli@faos.dk.

Information about the recruitment process is available from HR, e-mail: HR-soendre@adm.ku.dk - please refer to ID number: 211-2193/25-2I #2.

We look forward to receiving your application!

The closing date for applications is 20 August 2025 at 23:59 CEST.

Applications or enclosures received thereafter will not be considered.

Apply

<https://candidate.hr-manager.net/ApplicationInit.aspx?cid=1307&ProjectId=164158&DepartmentId=18991&MediaId=4638&SkipAdvertisement=true>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2025

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15634

Princeton University

Rank: Associate Research Scholar

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Open

The Princeton Society of Fellows in the Liberal Arts, an interdisciplinary group of scholars in the humanities and social sciences, invites applications for the 2026-2029 fellowship competition. Applications are welcome for the following fellowships:

Two or three Open Fellowships in any discipline represented in the Society

One Fellowship in Humanistic Studies

One Fellowship in East Asian Studies

Applicants may be considered for more than one fellowship category pertinent to their research and teaching. The Society's website (sf.princeton.edu) provides additional details on the fellowships, eligibility, disciplines, and application dossier, and we recommend that applicants review this information before submitting an application.

Appointed as Associate Research Scholars in the Council of the Humanities for three years, fellows pursue their research, attend weekly seminars and teach in academic departments. In each of the first two years, fellows teach one undergraduate course per semester, pending approval by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty; in their third year, they teach only one course in either semester. When teaching, fellows will carry the secondary rank of Lecturer.

Applicants holding the Ph.D. at the time of application must have received the degree after January 1, 2024. Applicants not yet holding the Ph.D. are expected to have completed a substantial portion of the dissertation – at least half – at the time of application. Successful candidates must fulfill all requirements for the Ph.D., including filing of the dissertation, by June 15, 2026. Candidates for/recipients of doctoral degrees in Education, Jurisprudence, and from Princeton University are not eligible. Applicants may apply only once to the Princeton Society of Fellows.

Selection is based on exceptional scholarly achievement and evidence of unusual promise, range and quality of teaching experience, and potential contributions to an interdisciplinary community. The Society of Fellows seeks a diverse and international pool of applicants.

Applicants are asked to submit an application by August 5, 2025 (11:59 p.m. ET) to the online portal at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/38581>.

The salary range is $101,000 – $105,000. The number of fellowships offered each year is contingent on funding. The work location for these positions is in-person on campus at Princeton University, and the positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2026
Application Deadline: 8/5/2025
Date Posted: 6/23/2025
Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 15627

Middlebury College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure-track position in political philosophy beginning fall 2026. We seek broadly trained candidates prepared to teach the introductory and advanced courses in the history of political philosophy. Appointment will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarly potential.

As part of a full teaching load, the candidate will also occasionally contribute to Middlebury's First Year Seminar Program and Winter Term course offerings. All faculty at Middlebury are also expected to contribute to service to the College including, but not limited to, committee membership and, once tenured, serving as Director or Chair of a Program or Department when asked.

Middlebury College is a top-tier liberal arts college with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching and research. It is also an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a truly open, and supportive learning, teaching, and working environment. The College hires faculty from a myriad of life experiences, cultures, frames of reference, social identities, and learning perspectives to help cultivate and advance innovation in our curriculum and to provide a rich and varied educational experience to our talented and distinguished student body. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Middlebury College uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Email and paper applications will not be accepted. At Middlebury, we strive to make our campus a respectful, engaged community that embraces difference, and a full range of views and opinions, with all the complexity and individuality each person brings. Through Interfolio submit: a letter of application addressed to the search committee chair, Professor Murray Dry; a curriculum vitae; a sample of scholarly production; undergraduate and graduate transcripts; a statement of teaching and research plans; and three current letters of recommendation, at least two of which must speak to teaching ability/promise. More information is available at <https://apply.interfolio.com/169061> and <https://www.middlebury.edu/academics/ps>. Review of applications begins September 15, 2025 and will continue until the position is filled. This is a full time, benefits eligible, salaried position with a hiring range of $88,963 – $100,129 per year.

Offers of employment are contingent on completion of a background check. Information on our background check policy can be found here: <http://go.middlebury.edu/backgroundchecks>.

Start Date: Fall 2026
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/12/2025
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15609

Charles University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Digital and Empirical Constitutionalism

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Political Theory
Specializations: Research Methods, Political Psychology, Political Philosophy & Theory

The Dean of the Faculty of Law at Charles University hereby announces

a call for applications

for a full-time or part-time position as Assistant Professor in Digital and Empirical Constitutionalism (2+2 years, with the possibility of a tenure track) at the Institute for the Interregional Study of Constitutionalism (IISC).

Charles University is the leading university in Central Europe, boasting a nearly 700-year tradition and excellent international rankings, making it one of the most reputable and prestigious universities worldwide. The Faculty of Law, established in 1348 as one of the university's four founding faculties, is now the largest accredited law faculty in the Czech Republic, with over 4,500 students.

We are seeking a candidate whose research focuses on discourse analysis in the (digital) public sphere, the role of deliberative democracy in the context of social media, and uses empirical methods in the analysis of collective identity. The successful applicant will join a multidisciplinary research team studying constitutionalism as a foundation for collective identity and community.

The initial contract will be for two years. Upon a successful review, the candidate may receive a contract extension of up to two years, with a pathway to a permanent position.

Your Tasks

1. Conduct research on following topics: (1) identity politics, the digital public sphere, and deliberative democracy; (2) constitutionalism and the construction of collective identity.
2. Use tools like text mining and machine learning to collect and analyze (social) media content, governmental documents, and legal texts (discourse analysis).
3. Program social bots on social media platforms for research purposes.
4. Design, oversee, and analyze a survey using statistical methods.
5. Collaborate closely with the research team on the conduct of the research.
6. Publish in leading academic journals.
7. Present your results at major academic conferences in the field and contribute to the work of the IISC, including developing and submitting grant proposals.

Your Profile

1. A Ph.D. degree in law, political science, philosophy, psychology, or sociology with a focus on digital technologies (such as digital humanities, digital social science, or digital psychology), or a Ph.D. in computer science (e.g., AI) with a focus on issues related to law, social sciences, or humanities.
2. Knowledge and experience with computational methods for Natural Language Processing (NLP), including text classification and analysis.
3. Expertise in the theory of social and collective identity, along with knowledge of deliberative democracy, is an advantage.
4. A solid track record of publications in peer-reviewed journals.
5. A team player with a high degree of autonomy.
6. Proficiency in English; knowledge of Arabic is a plus.
7. Willingness to reside in Prague throughout the contract.
8. While not required, knowledge of Czech or a willingness to learn it would be considered an advantage.

What We Offer

- A financially competitive salary (up to 2.300 EUR net for a full-time position, plus publication bonuses).
- Flexible working conditions.
- An opportunity to work in a dynamic, interdisciplinary research environment.
- Start date: September 2025

How to Apply

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Please submit the following documents in a single PDF file:

- A cover letter.
- Your CV.
- A relevant publication.
- Names of two referees (the referees will only be contacted with the candidate's agreement).

Applications should be emailed to Karolína Ježková (karolina.jezkova@prf.cuni.cz). Please contact Volker Kaul (kaulv@prf.cuni.cz) for any further inquiries.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 7/7/2025

Date Posted: 6/9/2025

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15606

Institute for Advanced Study

Rank: Faculty Position - School of Social Science

The Institute for Advanced Study invites nominations and applications for a professorial position in the School of Social Science. The Institute seeks a distinguished scholar in political theory/political science whose research interests are varied in scope, and whose area of concentration includes the study of the development and functioning of contemporary industrial societies.

All specializations will be considered for candidates with exceptional scholarly accomplishments. This tenured position requires a distinguished record of achievement and clear potential for continued significant contributions. Successful candidates will demonstrate the ability to engage in interdisciplinary exchanges and meaningfully interact with visiting postdoctoral members.

Please submit all inquiries, nominations, and applications to: School of Social Science Institute for Advanced Study Einstein Drive Princeton, NJ 08540 or sssappqueries@ias.edu. Applications must be received by August 1, 2025, and should include a curriculum vitae with publication list. All communications will be held in strict confidence.

The anticipated pay range for this position is $425,000 to $450,000. We offer a comprehensive benefits package including medical, dental and vision insurance, life insurance, short- and long-term disability coverage, flexible spending accounts, paid holidays, paid time off, tuition assistance, retirement plans, and an employee assistance program.

The Institute for Advanced Study is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 8/1/2025

Date Posted: 6/4/2025

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 15601

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2025-2026 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF07149>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 16, 2025, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/29/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15598

University of Houston

Rank: Visiting Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure track, Professor of Practice position for the academic year Fall 2025 - Spring 2026. We seek applicants who have research and teaching interests in Political Theory. Special consideration will be given to those whose research agendas will add to the department's existing strengths in this subfield and have potential for collaboration with a variety of current faculty. Successful candidates will demonstrate a clear commitment to undergraduate teaching. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is 494091. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation.

The direct link to the position is here: <https://careers.uh.edu/jobs/professor-of-practice-political-theory-houston-texas-united-states>

For further information, please contact Professor Jeffrey Church, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at jchurch@uh.edu.

Qualifications: PhD in Political Science preferred; MA in Political Science with three years of experience.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 undergraduate majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

Official transcripts are required for a faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of the final candidates. All positions at the University of Houston-System are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check.

The University of Houston System and its universities are an Equal Opportunity Institution.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2025

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15588

Augustana University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Open

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

Position Type: Full-Time

Department: Government and International Affairs

The Department of Government and International Affairs at Augustana University invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position. The effective start date is August 20, 2025.

Responsibilities:

The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. The position involves teaching seven courses each academic year: three courses per semester, with an additional course during the three-week Interim term in January. We seek a scholar who can contribute to our efforts to enhance the variety and international content of our upper-level course offerings, as well as offer sections of our Introduction to Government courses taught within the general education curriculum. We are open to scholars approaching these tasks from the standpoint of international relations, political theory and/or law.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. completed by August 1, 2025 is strongly preferred, with evidence of teaching excellence expected.

Interacting with students, faculty and leadership from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, along with a deep appreciation and respect for academic principles and culture, must be a top value of the candidate.

Application Procedure:

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. Interested applicants are asked to submit the below application materials in one document to our career center portal. If assistance is needed in the application process, please reach out to humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: augie.edu. Questions may be directed to Dr. Emily Wanless, department chair, at ewanless@augie.edu.

*Letter of interest

*Curriculum vitae

*Statement of teaching philosophy

*Evidence of teaching effectiveness

*Phone numbers and email addresses of three current professional references

Augustana University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Title IX Employer. Applicants must comply with the Immigration Reform and Control Act and may be required to submit official transcripts upon employment. Finalist candidates must satisfactorily complete a pre-employment background check.

About Augustana University:

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15584

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Energy & Environmental Economics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Political Theory

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in energy and environmental economics. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly focus on energy markets, climate finance, and climate policy design. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics with a field specialization in energy and environmental economics.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-energy-environmental-economics>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15146

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Normative Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Normative Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any area of political theory. The candidate will be asked to teach courses in political theory commensurate with their expertise. The initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151667>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 8/15/2025
Date Posted: 8/15/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14645

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor in the field of Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in political theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin in the fall semester of 2025. We are a small theory group that works closely with our empirically oriented colleagues: we are thus especially interested in scholars whose research speaks to pressing political problems, including but not limited to racial and gender-based justice, environmental justice, global justice, democratic erosion, populism, protest, and the political and ethical challenges posed by AI and other emerging technologies.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before October 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151789>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14629

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor – International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: International Security, Public Finance & Budgeting, Leadership Studies

Job Description

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for multiple tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. One position will be in international security (political science-international relations or other relevant disciplines), which is broadly defined to include traditional and emerging security issues. For the other two positions—in public policy and public administration—the areas of interest are open; however, there is a particular interest in candidates with research and teaching expertise in public budgeting and finance, social policy and administration, leadership in public service, decentralization and local governance, and Technology/AI.

Job Qualifications

The ideal candidate will have:

- a PhD conferred by 1 August 2026 in the fields of international relations, political science, public policy, public administration, or related disciplines;
- publications in quality peer-reviewed journals in their field and/or a strong pipeline of working papers;
- a clear research identity and trajectory to become an independent scholar;
- research that is relevant to contemporary issues in Asia and/or Southeast Asia;
- demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in the public policy school environment; and
- a willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via AcademicJobsOnline (AJO) <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/30182>. The deadline for submitting the package is September 1, 2025.

The package should include:

1. A cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A research statement that outlines your past, current, and future research agenda
4. A teaching statement outlining your pedagogical philosophy and practices, courses taught, and, where available, evidence of teaching effectiveness.
5. Up to two writing samples (please clearly denote which is your primary sample, which can be a job market paper or chapter(s) from a book project)
6. Names and contact information of three referees. Referees will be contacted automatically via AJO with instructions to upload their letters of recommendation.

The cover letter, research statement and teaching statement should each be a maximum of two pages, double-spaced.

Members of the hiring committee will be attending the APSA Annual Conference in Vancouver and will be available for an informational session and preliminary interviews. Shortlisted candidates who are unable to meet at APSA will be contacted separately over email. If you have any questions, you may contact Ms Sarah Seow, Senior Manager, Academic Affairs, LKYSPP at email: sarah@nus.edu.sg.

Additional Information

About the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2026).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about LKYSPP, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/25/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15632

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor – Public Administration/Public Management

Job Description

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP) at the National University of Singapore (NUS) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Public Administration/Public Management. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching expertise in public budgeting and finance, social policy and administration, leadership in public service, decentralization and local governance, and Technology/AI.

Job Qualifications

The ideal candidate will have:

- a PhD conferred by 1 August 2026 in the fields of public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or a related discipline at the time of appointment;
- publications in quality peer-reviewed journals in their field and/or a strong pipeline of working papers;
- a clear research identity and trajectory to become an independent scholar;
- research that is relevant to contemporary issues in Asia and/or Southeast Asia;
- demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in the public policy school environment; and
- a willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) via AcademicJobsOnline (AJO) <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/30180>.

The package should include:

1. A cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A research statement that outlines your past, current, and future research agenda
4. A teaching statement outlining your pedagogical philosophy and practices, courses taught, and, where available, evidence of teaching effectiveness.

5. Up to two writing samples (please clearly denote which is your primary sample, which can be a job market paper or chapter(s) from a book project)
6. Names and contact information of three referees. Referees will be contacted automatically via AJO with instructions to upload their letters of recommendation.

The cover letter, research statement and teaching statement should each be a maximum of two pages, double-spaced.

Applications submitted prior to September 15, 2025 will receive preference; but the review of applications will continue until positions are filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified. Initial face-to-face conversations may be conducted at the Asian Association for Public Administration Conference in October 2025 in Beijing, or at other relevant international conferences in 2025. Promising candidates not attending these events will be invited to a Zoom conversation. If you have any questions, you may contact Ms Sarah Seow, Senior Manager, Academic Affairs, LKYSPP at email: sarah@nus.edu.sg.

Additional Information

About the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2026).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about LKYSPP, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/25/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15631

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in AI, Policy and Society

Subfield(s): Open, Public Policy, Public Administration

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

Job Description:

Visiting Assistant Professor in Artificial Intelligence, Policy, and Society

Purdue's Political Science Department is seeking a visiting assistant professor for the 2025-2026 academic year to teach master's level core courses AI policy, governance, and social impacts in the university-wide Master of Science in Artificial Intelligence degree. The position begins in August 2025 and, with approval, may be held remotely from locations within the United States. The position may be renewable for an additional year, contingent on budget approval.

This person in this position will teach a four-course equivalency per semester of online master's level courses in areas related to AI governance, public policy, and social impacts of AI. This position also contributes to the administrative management of the core courses and assists with updating course material. Purdue offers a supportive environment with many opportunities for professional development.

Qualifications

Qualified candidates must hold a master's degree in political science, public policy, public administration, or a closely related field. Preferred: A PhD or at least three years of relevant job experience in addition to a masters degree. Candidates must have academic expertise and/or work experience related to one or more of the following areas: public policy, public administration, social and policy impacts of artificial intelligence, or use of AI tools in the workplace. Applicants should have evidence of successful post-secondary teaching experience.

The Department, College, and University

Purdue University is Indiana's public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. Purdue is home to over 44,000 undergraduate students and 12,000 graduate students. Purdue is in West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

The Department of Political Science, home to 27 faculty and over thirty-five PhD students, offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees. We are a welcoming and supportive community for visiting faculty and post-docs, with regular opportunities for professional development through mentoring, workshops, research labs, and an active speaker series. The Department is part of the College of Liberal Arts, a leader in developing innovative programs such as the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders.

Applications

Application materials must be submitted electronically via <https://careers.purdue.edu/> with job id #37523.

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter that describes their qualifications for the position, 2) a CV, and 3) a brief teaching portfolio with evidence of post-secondary teaching experience. Candidates who advance in the process will be required to submit additional materials including names of references and transcripts. A background check is required for employment in this position.

Review of applications will begin July 6, 2025, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $55,000 – $57,000 for the academic year.

Candidates must have the ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2025

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15604

Tufts University

Rank: Part-Time Lecturer in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position to teach two in-person undergraduate courses in American politics during the 2025-2026 academic year. Both courses can be in the same semester (fall or spring), or the applicant can propose teaching one course per semester.

Qualifications

We welcome applications across the American politics subfield, though we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach a course on the U.S. Congress and/or the U.S. Presidency. Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science or related field required. College/university teaching experience strongly preferred.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio at: apply.interfolio.com/165149. Please submit a dossier including a cover letter that includes a discussion of teaching interests and/or experience, curriculum vitae, draft syllabus for at least one proposed course, and one letter of recommendation.

The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Abdulahi Salam, Administrative Coordinator, at Abdulahi.Salam@tufts.edu with any questions. More information about our department can be found here: <https://as.tufts.edu/politicalscience/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/28/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15566

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Energy & Environmental Economics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Political Theory

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in energy and environmental economics. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly focus on energy markets, climate finance, and climate policy design. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics with a field specialization in energy and environmental economics.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-energy-environmental-economics>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15146

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Public Finance

Subfield(s): Administration, Public Administration, Public Policy

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond. The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public finance. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly address public finance topics. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics with a field specialization in public finance

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-public-finance>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15145

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Public Management

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond. The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management. We welcome candidates from any subfield of public management, including those with research interests that intersect with political science, decision science, and/or economics. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in management science, political science, or similar disciplines with a track record of research on public management topics.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-public-management>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15147

PUBLIC LAW

University of Michigan

Rank: WCEE Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Political Theory

The Weiser Center for Europe and Eurasia seeks to hire a scholar of contemporary Russia for a two-year WCEE Postdoctoral Fellowship, from August 2026 to July 2028. We encourage applications from specialists on Russia proper as well as those who focus on Russia's interactions with its neighbors (the Baltic states, Moldova, Belarus, Ukraine, the Caucasus, Central Asia, Mongolia, China, Japan). Candidates should have a PhD completed, or nearly completed, in the social sciences and/or cultural studies, broadly construed. We are especially interested in scholars who will complement and add to the coverage offered by our existing faculty.

WCEE Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in the center's events, present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, and teach one course per year at the University of Michigan while in full-time residency.

Eligibility:

Eligibility is restricted to applicants who have obtained their PhD no earlier than January 1, 2024. Current doctoral candidates are eligible to apply but must have defended and filed their dissertations by July 31, 2026.

Benefits:

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $60,000 and up to $10,000 in research funds during the postdoctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning August 1, 2026 through July 31, 2028). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Application materials:

Candidates should submit the following via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/169185>):

- A research proposal (2000 words maximum) that describes your intellectual objectives and concrete plan for the fellowship duration

- Curriculum Vitae
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter or peer-reviewed journal article (50 pages maximum)
- Teaching statement with potential course topics
- Two letters of recommendation

To be assured full consideration, fellowship applications should be received by October 15, 2025, 11:59 PM EST. Successful applicants will be notified by December 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15610

Baylor University

Rank: Lecturer, Non-Tenure-Track, American Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Congress, Political Parties & Organizations

To apply, go to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/167836>

Description:

The Department of Political Science at Baylor University seeks a full-time, Regular Lecturer in American Politics to begin August 2026. The primary teaching responsibility will be teaching a general education course (PSC 1387: The U.S. Constitution, Its Interpretation, and the American Political Experience). Opportunities to teach courses in Congress, the Supreme Court, political parties, or state politics may also be available.

Regular Lecturer appointments are renewable full-time, benefits-eligible, teaching-focused positions with six-year promotion paths to Senior Lecturer for successful candidates and twelve-year promotion paths to Teaching Professor for highly successful candidates. For more information, see Baylor University's Policy on Full-Time Lecturers, Senior Lecturers, and Teaching Professors.

Complete applications must be submitted by 11pm Central Daylight Time on October 31, 2025.

About Baylor University:

Baylor University is located in Waco, Texas and is the oldest college in the state. It has a diverse student population of 21,000 and is recognized as one of the top universities in the nation, achieving R1 institution status by the Carnegie Classification in January 2022. Baylor also made it to the honor roll of "Great Colleges to Work For" from The Chronicle of Higher Education. It offers competitive salaries and benefits, allowing faculty and staff to live in one of the fastest-growing parts of the state. Baylor's new strategic plan, Baylor in Deeds, guides the University as it continues to fulfill its mission of educating men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Qualifications:

Candidate must have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field by the time of appointment. Teaching experience is preferred.

Application Instructions. To apply, candidates should submit:

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae

3. Statement of teaching philosophy
4. Teaching portfolio (including student evaluations and sample syllabi, if available)
5. Three letters of recommendation
6. Transcript from highest degree granting institution (unofficial copy acceptable)
7. Completed self-disclosed Religious Affiliation Form (found in Interfolio)

If you have questions about the position, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Dave Bridge (David_Bridge@baylor.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: 10/31/2025

Date Posted: 6/6/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15605

Baylor University

Rank: Lecturer, Full-Time, Temporary - Political Science

To apply, go to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/164380>

Applications will be reviewed as they are received.

Baylor University: Office of the Provost: Arts and Sciences: Arts and Sciences - Humanities and Social Sciences: Political Science

This is a temporary lecturer position with full-time responsibilities teaching courses in the Department of Political Science during the 2025-2026 academic year. Primary teaching responsibilities will be the core curriculum common course, PSC 1387 The U.S. Constitution, Its Interpretation, and the American Constitutional Experience. We especially welcome applicants with research or undergraduate teaching experience in American politics, public law, or political or constitutional theory. An ability to teach introductory courses in another subfield of political science is welcome but not required. Finalists will be required to attend an on-campus interview with University administration. Employment will be contingent upon the successful completion of a background check.

Located in Waco, Texas, Baylor University is the oldest college in Texas. With a population of 21,000 diverse students, Baylor is one of the top universities in the nation, having been named an R1 institution by the Carnegie Classification in January 2022. Baylor is also on the honor roll of the "Great Colleges to Work For" from The Chronicle of Higher Education; Baylor offers competitive salaries and benefits while allowing faculty and staff to live in one of the fastest-growing parts of the state. Our strategic plan, Illuminate, guides the University as we continue to live up to Baylor's mission of educating men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Qualifications

The successful applicant must hold an advanced degree in the teaching discipline, preferably the Ph.D., by the start date of the appointment. Teaching experience is preferred.

The following application materials should be submitted through Interfolio:

- (1) a cover/application letter,
- (2) current curriculum vitae,

- (3) an official transcript of the highest degree completed (if a Ph.D. or other advanced degree is in progress, a transcript showing hours completed toward the Ph.D. is also required)

All applicants must complete the self-disclosed Religious Affiliation Form in Interfolio.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/21/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15523

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor-in-Residence, Public Law, Department of Political Science

https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNLV-External/job/UNLV1-Main-Campus-Las-Vegas/Assistant-Professor-in-Residence--Public-Law--Department-of-Political-Science--R0146179-_R0146179

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, invites applications from well-qualified individuals for an Assistant Professor-in-Residence of Public Law starting in the fall semester of 2025. At UNLV, faculty-in-residence are full-time, non-tenure-track, instruction-intensive faculty members with a promotional track from Assistant Professor-in-Residence, to Associate Professor-in-Residence, to Professor-in-Residence. Faculty-in-Residence in the Department of Political Science participate in departmental meetings and committees, and they contribute to departmental deliberation and decision making on most matters. Job responsibilities include teaching twelve credits in each of the fall and spring semesters, which may include a mixture of in-person and online classes. In addition to teaching introductory courses in American politics, the successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in the American judicial process and various topics in constitutional law from a social science perspective. Other responsibilities include mentoring undergraduate students and providing appropriate levels of service at the department, college, and university levels. The department is interested in candidates whose professional experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/5/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15398

Dickinson College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Law/Law and Society)

The Political Science and Law & Policy programs at Dickinson College seek applications for a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor of law and society. A successful applicant will have research and teaching interests in either law and society or in comparative law. This position is for one year with the possibility of renewal and carries a five-course (annual) teaching load. The department expects the successful candidate to be a committed, collaborative, and imaginative scholar with a Ph.D. in hand by September 2025.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia. Students, faculty, and staff often enjoy the food, art, entertainment, and cultural enrichment of these major hubs and/or New York City. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate. Applicants may highlight their ongoing or anticipated contributions to promoting equity and inclusion in their materials. Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically via <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>.

Review of applications will begin February 1, 2025. Candidates should submit via QUEST (online application system) at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>; please include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Review of applications will begin at the start of February and will continue until the position is filled. Please address questions to the department chair, J. Toby Reiner at: reinerj@dickinson.edu.

Dickinson College is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We strive to foster an inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive together. Accordingly, we encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15333

Dickinson College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (US Public Law)

The Political Science and Law & Policy programs at Dickinson College seek applications for a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor of American Public Law. A successful applicant will have research and teaching interests in either constitutional law or the judiciary. The ability to teach either American politics or political theory at introductory level is a plus. This position is for one year with the possibility of renewal and carries a five-course (annual) teaching load. The department expects the successful candidate to be a committed, collaborative, and imaginative scholar with a Ph.D. in hand by September 2025.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia. Students, faculty, and staff often enjoy the food, art, entertainment, and cultural enrichment of these major hubs and/or New York City. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate. Applicants may highlight their ongoing or anticipated contributions to promoting equity and inclusion in their materials.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically via <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>. Review of applications will begin February 1, 2025. Candidates should submit via QUEST (online application system) at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>; please include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Review of applications will begin at the start of February and will continue until the position is filled. Please address questions to the department chair, J. Toby Reiner at: reinerj@dickinson.edu. Dickinson College is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We strive to foster an inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive together. Accordingly, we encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15332

PUBLIC POLICY

University of Michigan

Rank: WCEE Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Political Theory

The Weiser Center for Europe and Eurasia seeks to hire a scholar of contemporary Russia for a two-year WCEE Postdoctoral Fellowship, from August 2026 to July 2028. We encourage applications from specialists on Russia proper as well as those who focus on Russia's interactions with its neighbors (the Baltic states, Moldova, Belarus, Ukraine, the Caucasus, Central Asia, Mongolia, China, Japan). Candidates should have a PhD completed, or nearly completed, in the social sciences and/or cultural studies, broadly construed. We are especially interested in scholars who will complement and add to the coverage offered by our existing faculty.

WCEE Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in the center's events, present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, and teach one course per year at the University of Michigan while in full-time residency.

Eligibility:

Eligibility is restricted to applicants who have obtained their PhD no earlier than January 1, 2024. Current doctoral candidates are eligible to apply but must have defended and filed their dissertations by July 31, 2026.

Benefits:

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $60,000 and up to $10,000 in research funds during the postdoctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning August 1, 2026 through July 31, 2028). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Application materials:

Candidates should submit the following via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/169185>):

- A research proposal (2000 words maximum) that describes your intellectual objectives and concrete plan for the fellowship duration
- Curriculum Vitae
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter or peer-reviewed journal article (50 pages maximum)

- Teaching statement with potential course topics
- Two letters of recommendation

To be assured full consideration, fellowship applications should be received by October 15, 2025, 11:59 PM EST. Successful applicants will be notified by December 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15610

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor – International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: International Security, Public Finance & Budgeting, Leadership Studies

Job Description

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for multiple tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. One position will be in international security (political science-international relations or other relevant disciplines), which is broadly defined to include traditional and emerging security issues. For the other two positions—in public policy and public administration—the areas of interest are open; however, there is a particular interest in candidates with research and teaching expertise in public budgeting and finance, social policy and administration, leadership in public service, decentralization and local governance, and Technology/AI.

Job Qualifications

The ideal candidate will have:

- a PhD conferred by 1 August 2026 in the fields of international relations, political science, public policy, public administration, or related disciplines;
- publications in quality peer-reviewed journals in their field and/or a strong pipeline of working papers;
- a clear research identity and trajectory to become an independent scholar;
- research that is relevant to contemporary issues in Asia and/or Southeast Asia;
- demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in the public policy school environment; and
- a willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via AcademicJobsOnline (AJO) <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/30182>. The deadline for submitting the package is September 1, 2025.

The package should include:

1. A cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A research statement that outlines your past, current, and future research agenda

4. A teaching statement outlining your pedagogical philosophy and practices, courses taught, and, where available, evidence of teaching effectiveness.
5. Up to two writing samples (please clearly denote which is your primary sample, which can be a job market paper or chapter(s) from a book project)
6. Names and contact information of three referees. Referees will be contacted automatically via AJO with instructions to upload their letters of recommendation.

The cover letter, research statement and teaching statement should each be a maximum of two pages, double-spaced.

Members of the hiring committee will be attending the APSA Annual Conference in Vancouver and will be available for an informational session and preliminary interviews. Shortlisted candidates who are unable to meet at APSA will be contacted separately over email. If you have any questions, you may contact Ms Sarah Seow, Senior Manager, Academic Affairs, LKYSPP at email: sarah@nus.edu.sg.

Additional Information

About the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2026).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about LKYSPP, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/25/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15632

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor – Public Administration/Public Management

Job Description

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP) at the National University of Singapore (NUS) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Public Administration/Public Management. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching expertise in public budgeting and finance, social policy and administration, leadership in public service, decentralization and local governance, and Technology/AI.

Job Qualifications

The ideal candidate will have:

- a PhD conferred by 1 August 2026 in the fields of public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or a related discipline at the time of appointment;
- publications in quality peer-reviewed journals in their field and/or a strong pipeline of working papers;
- a clear research identity and trajectory to become an independent scholar;
- research that is relevant to contemporary issues in Asia and/or Southeast Asia;
- demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in the public policy school environment; and
- a willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) via AcademicJobsOnline (AJO) <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/30180>.

The package should include:

1. A cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A research statement that outlines your past, current, and future research agenda
4. A teaching statement outlining your pedagogical philosophy and practices, courses taught, and, where available, evidence of teaching effectiveness.
5. Up to two writing samples (please clearly denote which is your primary sample, which can be a job market paper or chapter(s) from a book project)
6. Names and contact information of three referees. Referees will be contacted automatically via AJO with instructions to upload their letters of recommendation.

The cover letter, research statement and teaching statement should each be a maximum of two pages, double-spaced.

Applications submitted prior to September 15, 2025 will receive preference; but the review of applications will continue until positions are filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified. Initial face-to-face conversations may be conducted at the Asian Association for Public Administration Conference in October 2025 in Beijing, or at other relevant international conferences in 2025. Promising candidates not attending these events will be invited to a Zoom conversation. If you have any questions, you may contact Ms Sarah Seow, Senior Manager, Academic Affairs, LKYSP at email: sarah@nus.edu.sg.

Additional Information

About the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

LKYSP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2026).

LKYSP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about LKYSP, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 6/25/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15631

University of Tennessee

Rank: Assistant Director of National Security & Foreign Affairs, Baker School - UTK

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

The Howard H. Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, seeks applications for a full-time Assistant Director at the Center for National Security & Foreign Affairs (NSFA) at the Baker School. We seek candidates with national security and/or foreign affairs expertise who can help lead the Center's efforts to deliver high quality student experience through undergraduate, graduate, and executive education, both in person and online. The successful candidate will also contribute to the Center's policy engagement work through research and public engagement activities.

The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs and a Master of Public Policy (MPP) with concentrations in national security and nuclear policy, among other focus areas.

This position will play a central role in shaping and expanding the Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs' (NSFA) impact on national security, foreign policy, and public engagement. Working closely with the Director, the Assistant Director will help build a nationally recognized hub for scholarship, student development, and public policy engagement in national security and foreign affairs. This position is responsible for advancing the Center's vision to become a dynamic platform for connecting students, faculty, policymakers, and the public through rigorous research, strategic partnerships, and experiential learning. The successful candidate will contribute to the development of the Center's policy engagement through the execution of research projects, conferences, policy dialogues, and public events that reflect the Center's commitment to addressing today's most pressing national security and foreign policy challenges. The candidate will work with NSFA-affiliated faculty and student research assistants on research projects, policy briefs, and reports related to national security and foreign affairs. The candidate will also help build the Center's presence as a trusted, nonpartisan contributor to state, national, and international policy conversations. This position will work closely with the NSFA Director and the Baker School's Student Success team to engage and mentor students interested in careers in state and federal government, the private sector, thinktanks, and other organizations in the fields of national security, foreign policy, nuclear policy, and related fields. This includes developing and delivering training, supporting professional development experiences such as internships, fellowships, study abroad opportunities (including the Baker School's program in Japan), Washington, D.C. trips, guest speaker events, and wargaming simulations. The position will help expand and deepen these opportunities to build a robust professional pathway for students entering the field. This is a forward-facing role for a strategic builder, ideally suited for someone committed to educating future public servants, producing policy-relevant research, and strengthening the bridge between academia and the national policymaking community.

Responsibilities

POLICY ENGAGEMENT (50%)

- Assists in developing and implementing strategic planning objectives, initiatives, and activities for the center.
- Identifies opportunities for externally funded research from foundations, government agencies, and/or corporate entities.
- Participates in the development and submission of proposals.
- Proposes and produces research-based policy briefs and reports about topics relevant to NSFA expertise.
- Participates in the planning and execution of funded and unfunded research projects.
- Supervises student research assistants while providing direction and mentorship.
- Participates in periodic meetings with university partners, external partners, and other stakeholders to discuss joint issues and initiatives.
- Participates in periodic management meetings to relay information about center updates and issues.
- Clearly and effectively communicates research findings through presentations to funders, professional audiences, and/or policymakers and other audiences.
- Interacts and networks within the Baker School, with NSFA affiliates and fellows, and across campus to seek potential collaborators and develop potential research projects.

STUDENT MENTORSHIP & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT (50%)

- Develops and delivers presentations at high schools and regional colleges about national security, foreign affairs, and/or nuclear policy to grow interest in the undergraduate and graduate programs at the Baker School.
- Develop and deliver training for students and outside stakeholders for policy education and professional development.
- Collaborates with the NSFA Director and the school's office of Student Success to develop and implement national security and foreign affairs-related experiences for students, both within and outside the classroom, including student travel.
- Identify, plan, and organize support for professional development experiences such as internships, fellowships, study abroad opportunities (including the Baker School's program in Japan), Washington, D.C. trips, guest speaker events, and crisis or wargaming simulations.
- Advises students on academic and career matters.
- Maintains regular office hours for student interaction.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications

Education:

Candidates must hold a master's degree in political science, public policy, international relations, defense or security studies, or a related field.

Experience:

- Experience in government, public policy, national security, international security, think tanks, non-governmental organizations, international organizations, teaching or research in public policy / foreign policy schools, or related career areas.

- Experience in working on research related to national security, foreign affairs, and related topics.

Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

- Knowledge of applicable policy processes and actors in national security and foreign affairs.
- Ability to work independently and in collaborative multidisciplinary teams.
- Ability to develop, plan, and implement short- and long-range goals.
- Excellent communication, interpersonal, and presentation skills.
- Commitment to teaching excellence and student success.
- Strong knowledge of field concepts, practices, procedures, and professional standards in national security and foreign affairs.
- Strong research design and analytical skills.
- Commitment to continuous professional development.

A PhD in political science, public policy, international relations, defense/security studies, or a related field

Preferred Qualifications

Education: A PhD in political science, public policy, international relations, defense/security studies, or a related field

Experience: Experience in higher education teaching. Strong publication record in relevant field

Work Location

- Knoxville, TN
- On-site
- Remote work may be available on either Thursday or Friday with the permission of the position supervisor and consistent with the institution's regulations. This may be impacted by in-person responsibilities and events that conflict with this schedule.

UT market range:

- MR 11

Applicants should submit the materials below:

- Cover letter explaining research experience, any teaching experience, any policy experience, any relevant qualifications, and interest in the position
- CV
- Graduate transcripts
- Writing samples of policy related research
- Teaching evaluations (if available)
- List of three (3) references

About the Howard H. Baker Jr. School for Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School)

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School for Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) was established in 2023 to honor the distinguished life and legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan. Located in a 51,000-sq. In a purpose-built facility, the Baker School evolved from the Baker Center, which operated as a think tank producing research, public engagement programming, and an active set of student programs for twenty years. The Baker School now offers degree programs and developed its research initiatives into independent research centers - NSFA and the Center for Transportation, Energy, and Environmental Policy (CETEP). In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which encourages civic knowledge and participation among UT students and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each team member is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission, and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work continually evolves to meet changing needs.

About Us

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, has shaped leaders, change-makers, and innovative thinkers since its founding in 1794. The university is home to more than 38,000 students and 10,000 statewide employees—the Volunteers—who uphold the university's tradition of lighting the way for others through leadership and service.

UT Knoxville offers over 900 programs of study across 14 degree-granting colleges and schools. As Tennessee's flagship land-grant university, its footprint spans the entire state. The university holds the highest Carnegie classification for research activity and has deep partnerships with industry leaders and the US Department of Energy's largest multidisciplinary laboratory, Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The Knoxville campus serves and recruits for UT Knoxville, including the Institute of Agriculture and the Space Institute, as well as the UT Institute of Public Service.

UT Knoxville considers its employees its number one asset. With values that focus on work-life balance, compensation, and innovation leadership, all Vols are supported to advance professionally. Employees have access to career development and coaching, continued education, and an extensive list of development and training possibilities. The Volunteer employee experience implements structures and practices that attract and retain a diverse community and that support a culture where everyone matters and belongs.

The university holds a strong commitment to its land-grant mission of learning and engagement, with a tradition of service and leadership that carries that Volunteer spirit throughout the state and around the world. It has been ranked nationally as "Best Employer for New Graduates," "One of America's Best Large Employers," and "Best Workplace for Women," and has been designated as "Best Place for Working Parents" by Forbes Magazine.

Apply today and join the Tennessee Volunteer community!

Link to apply: https://fa-ewlq-saasfaprod1.fa.ocs.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX_1/job/3454/?utm_medium=jobshare&utm_source=External+Job+Share

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/23/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15626

Northwestern University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Environmental Policy and Culture Program (EPC) at Northwestern University invites applications for two (2) full-time, two-year visiting assistant professorships, to begin September 1, 2025. EPC is an interdisciplinary undergraduate program with over 100 majors and minors, focusing on social scientific and humanistic approaches to environmental subjects.

These positions are open in terms of period and geographic focus, but we are especially interested in interdisciplinary approaches to environmental justice-driven decision-making and storytelling; policy and governance at local, national, and international scales; and environmental ethics. We are also interested in professional or applied knowledge and experience. The VAPs will each teach five courses a year, at least three of which should be distinct classes (some classes could be taught twice in the same year). The VAPs will also be encouraged to take part in the life of the program, including attending program events, mentoring students, and other forms of community building.

The positions come with access to significant course development funding and we encourage candidates to think creatively about guest speakers, classroom technology, student experiences outside of the classroom, and other course enhancements.

Candidates should have received a PhD in a humanities or social science field, or have equivalent professional experience, by the position start date, and have some experience teaching at the college level.

To apply please provide a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching experience, and the names and email addresses of two references using Northwestern's Faculty Recruiting Portal. In order to receive full consideration, applications must be received by July 7, 2025.

More information and application link available here: <https://epc.northwestern.edu/about/news/2025/visiting-assistant-professor-position.html>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 7/7/2025

Date Posted: 6/10/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15607

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in AI, Policy and Society

Subfield(s): Open, Public Policy, Public Administration

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor

Job Description:

Visiting Assistant Professor in Artificial Intelligence, Policy, and Society

Purdue's Political Science Department is seeking a visiting assistant professor for the 2025-2026 academic year to teach master's level core courses AI policy, governance, and social impacts in the university-wide Master of Science in Artificial Intelligence degree. The position begins in August 2025 and, with approval, may be held remotely from locations within the United States. The position may be renewable for an additional year, contingent on budget approval.

This person in this position will teach a four-course equivalency per semester of online master's level courses in areas related to AI governance, public policy, and social impacts of AI. This position also contributes to the administrative management of the core courses and assists with updating course material. Purdue offers a supportive environment with many opportunities for professional development.

Qualifications

Qualified candidates must hold a master's degree in political science, public policy, public administration, or a closely related field. Preferred: A PhD or at least three years of relevant job experience in addition to a masters degree. Candidates must have academic expertise and/or work experience related to one or more of the following areas: public policy, public administration, social and policy impacts of artificial intelligence, or use of AI tools in the workplace. Applicants should have evidence of successful post-secondary teaching experience.

The Department, College, and University

Purdue University is Indiana's public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. Purdue is home to over 44,000 undergraduate students and 12,000 graduate students. Purdue is in West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

The Department of Political Science, home to 27 faculty and over thirty-five PhD students, offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees. We are a welcoming and supportive community for visiting faculty and post-docs, with regular opportunities for professional development through mentoring, workshops, research labs, and an active speaker series. The Department is part of the College of Liberal Arts, a leader in developing innovative programs such as the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders.

Applications

Application materials must be submitted electronically via <https://careers.purdue.edu/> with job id #37523.

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter that describes their qualifications for the position, 2) a CV, and 3) a brief teaching portfolio with evidence of post-secondary teaching experience. Candidates who advance in the process will be required to submit additional materials including names of references and transcripts. A background check is required for employment in this position.

Review of applications will begin July 6, 2025, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $55,000 – $57,000 for the academic year.

Candidates must have the ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2025

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15604

Emory University

Rank: Pre/Post Doctoral Fellowship – Local Politics and Policy Lab

Directed by Professor Natalia Bueno, the Local Politics and Policy Lab conducts cutting-edge, rigorous empirical research on local politics and policy around the globe (United States included), especially on issues of housing, municipal finance, decentralization, public service provision, and local elections. The Fellow will work closely with Professor Bueno to manage the Lab, collaborate on research initiatives, collect and analyze data. The Fellow will also participate in the academic activity of the department and will have time to conduct their own research.

Salary is competitive. There is no formal teaching required. The starting date of the position is flexible.

Priority will be given to candidates with a Ph.D. in political science, economics, or adjacent disciplines in hand, but exceptional candidates without a Ph.D. will be considered.

Strong skills in quantitative methods, data analysis, project management, and written communication.

The application package should contain:

- A 1-3 page cover letter explaining your research interests and experience, and how you would expect to advance your research agenda during the fellowship.
- A CV
- One academic writing sample
- Three letters of recommendation

Application materials should be submitted electronically to Professor Natalia Bueno, Department of Political Science, at <https://apply.interfolio.com/168743>. To ensure full consideration, please have all materials sent by September 5, 2025, though the position will remain open until filled or the search is closed. Shortlisted candidates will be contacted for an interview.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/5/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15602

National University of Singapore

Rank: Head of Department position (Full Professor level with tenure)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for the position of Head of Department at the rank of full professor or higher (endowed chair professor). Research and teaching specialisation is open, although candidates should contribute to one or more of the Department's four subfields: comparative politics, governance and public policy, international relations, and political theory.

The successful candidate will have an internationally recognised record of research and publication, as well as a record of very good teaching. Exceptional leadership skills are essential, as is a demonstrable commitment to intellectual and methodological pluralism. Other qualifications include evidence of substantial administrative experience; a record of promoting faculty and student success; a commitment to collegiality and diversity; and excellent interpersonal, communication, and organisational skills. The Head is expected to provide leadership to implement a strategic vision, with the support of department faculty, which advances the Department's international profile and reputation. Research and teaching expectations may be reduced (e.g. one course teaching commitment per year), given the Head's crucial service role.

Interested candidates should submit a CV, cover letter that addresses the qualifications outlined above, research statement (approx. two pages), teaching statement (approx. two pages), and names and addresses of at least four references.

Review of applications will begin in August 2025 and will continue until the position is filled. Campus visits for selected candidates will be arranged for October 2025. The position is expected to commence in January 2027. Questions about the position should be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor William Bain (wbain@nus.edu.sg).

Exceptional candidates at the rank of senior associate professor are welcome to apply, subject to being promoted to full professor upon appointment at NUS.

The Department of Political Science is a vibrant multidisciplinary community comprised of over 25 tenure- and educator-track faculty members. The Department offers degrees in Political Science and Global Studies at the undergraduate level and in Political Science at the Masters and Doctoral levels. It also partners with the International Political Science Association (IPSA) to host the IPSA-NUS Summer School in Social Science Research Methods annually. It is one of 16 departments in a large Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, which is home to a comprehensive range of programmes in Asian Studies, Humanities, Social Science, and Language Studies. The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Asia Research Institute, the Asia-Europe Foundation, the East Asian Institute, the ISEAS–Yusof Ishak Institute, among other research units inside and outside NUS, provide additional opportunities for research interaction and collaboration.

NUS offers an internationally competitive remuneration package that includes a period of subsidised housing (for non-Singaporean applicants), annual performance bonus, medical benefits, and relocation expenses (where applicable). Outstanding applicants might also be considered for endowed/chair professorship that comes with annual research support and business class travel eligibility. NUS provides significant research support, including generous start-up grants for new faculty members.

Please submit your application through the NUS Career Portal : https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job/Professor-&Head-of-Department-%28Political-Science%29/29011-en_GB/

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have an internationally recognised record of research and publication, as well as a record of very good teaching. Exceptional leadership skills are essential, as is a strong commitment to intellectual and methodological pluralism. Other qualifications include evidence of substantial administrative experience; a record of promoting faculty and student success; a commitment to collegiality and diversity; and excellent interpersonal, communication, and organisational skills. The Head is expected to provide leadership in co-creating with department faculty to implement a strategic vision, consistent with NUS' research and teaching mission, which advances the Department's international profile and reputation. Research and teaching expectations may be reduced (e.g. one course teaching commitment per year), given the Head's crucial service role.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/27/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15591

Tufts University

Rank: Part-Time Lecturer in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position to teach two in-person undergraduate courses in American politics during the 2025-2026 academic year. Both courses can be in the same semester (fall or spring), or the applicant can propose teaching one course per semester.

Qualifications

We welcome applications across the American politics subfield, though we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach a course on the U.S. Congress and/or the U.S. Presidency. Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science or related field required. College/university teaching experience strongly preferred.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio at: apply.interfolio.com/165149. Please submit a dossier including a cover letter that includes a discussion of teaching interests and/or experience, curriculum vitae, draft syllabus for at least one proposed course, and one letter of recommendation.

The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Abdulahi Salam, Administrative Coordinator, at Abdulahi.Salam@tufts.edu with any questions. More information about our department can be found here: <https://as.tufts.edu/politicalscience/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/28/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15566

Chapman University

Rank: Non-Tenure Track Instructional Assistant Professor of Environmental Policy

The Wilkinson College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at Chapman University invites applications for a Non-Tenure Track Instructional Assistant Professor of Environmental Policy, beginning August 1, 2025.

This position will support both the Environmental Science and Policy major (a joint program with Schmid College of Science and Technology) and the Environmental Studies minor. Teaching responsibilities include Introduction to Environmental Policy and elective courses such as US Environmental History, Society and the Environment, Environmental Rhetoric, and/or other areas of related interest.

The successful candidate should possess quantitative skills in the social sciences, including the use of R, as part of a mixed methods approach that is central to our students' learning.

For full description and application instructions, visit: <https://jobs.chronicle.com/job/37785602/instructional-assistant-professor-of-environmental-policy-non-tenure-track-fall-2025/>

Chapman University is a nationally ranked, R2 Carnegie Classified private institution offering traditional undergraduate and graduate programs in the heart of Orange County, one of Southern California's most diverse and vibrant regions. Chapman's campuses are home to nearly 10,000 students representing 50 states, three territories, and 78 countries. The 11 schools and colleges of Chapman, including Wilkinson College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, offer 65 bachelor's, 53 master's, and six doctoral programs, along with nearly 60 minors and 17 accelerated and bridge programs. Classes are taught by the more than 1,100 dedicated faculty members who are leaders in their fields, including Nobel Prize recipients, MacArthur Fellows, National Medal of Science honorees, former U.S. Supreme Court clerks, and Emmy, Grammy, and Academy Award winners.

The mission of Wilkinson College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences is to foster rigorous inquiry among our students through a curriculum grounded in the liberal arts that is scholarly, creative, interdisciplinary, and experiential. Wilkinson College plays an important and unique role in the educational journey of every Chapman student and aims to ensure that graduates are prepared to assume their responsibility as global citizens, acting knowledgeably, and providing compassionate leadership in our community and world. <https://www.chapman.edu/wilkinson/index.aspx>

The University is dedicated to enhancing diversity and inclusion in all aspects of recruitment and employment. More information on diversity and inclusion at Chapman University is available at <https://www.chapman.edu/diversity/>.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Teaching responsibilities include Introduction to Environmental Policy and elective courses such as US Environmental History, Society and the Environment, Environmental Rhetoric, and/or other areas of related interest.
- Plan, develop, and deliver high-quality courses in environmental policy and area of expertise and interest to support the ES&P and Environmental Studies programs.
- Offer regular office hours to provide students with opportunities for one-on-one consultations, academic advising, and clarification of course materials.
- Contribute to discussions and decisions related to curriculum development, and other relevant matters.
- Contribute to the overall mission of the institution by participating in faculty meetings and supporting campus-wide initiatives, events, and community engagement initiatives.
- Promote diversity, equity, and inclusion in the classroom by creating an inclusive and welcoming learning environment that respects and values the perspectives of all students.

QUALIFICATIONS

Required

- A Ph.D. in relevant field from an accredited institution of higher education.
- In-depth knowledge and expertise in the appropriate subject area and quantitative skills in the social sciences.
- A dedication to excellence in teaching and commitment to student success.
- The successful candidate should possess quantitative skills in the social sciences, including the use of R, as part of a mixed methods approach that is central to our students' learning.

Preferred

- Prior teaching experience
- Evidence of community engagement
- Interest in promoting undergraduate research

Application materials should be submitted through Interfolio:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/161808>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/27/2025

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15468

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Weidenbaum Center Postdoctoral Fellowship

We are pleased to announce a new Postdoctoral Fellowship in Survey Research through the Weidenbaum Center. This fellowship allows new Ph.D.s and early career scholars the opportunity to contribute to cutting-edge research using high-quality survey data collected by the Weidenbaum Center. This fellowship is uniquely situated at the intersection of academic and public-facing scholarship, allowing the fellow to pursue a multitude of career paths, contribute to research that directly affects important issues in American politics, and increase visibility of their research.

The Weidenbaum Center at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications from recent Ph.D. graduates for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship. The fellowship will run for 12 months, starting on or around July 1, 2025, with the possibility of a one-year renewal.

The Weidenbaum Center has supported survey data collection efforts through The American Panel Survey (TAPS), The American Social Survey (TASS), and the Weidenbaum Center Survey (WCS). The Center's most recent efforts have focused on the launch of the WCS, which is fielded three times each year, includes a sample of 3,000 respondents (2,000 general US adult population and oversample of 1,000 African Americans), with each survey paired with voter file data and web-tracking data for a subset of respondents. For more information on survey work supported by the Center, please visit: <https://wc.wustl.edu/weidenbaum-center-survey-work>.

The Fellow will work collaboratively with Taylor Carlson, graduate student fellows, and other Weidenbaum Center affiliates to support the launch of the Weidenbaum Center Survey and other data collection efforts through the Center. The Fellow will assist with the launch of an online dashboard that allows people to analyze and download the survey data, write public-facing reports describing key findings from the data, draft survey instruments, create publicly available data repositories, and conduct both coauthored and independent academic research.

We are seeking an individual with social science research interests who will advance the Center's mission by engaging in collaborative and independent research and who will enjoy the opportunity to contribute to public scholarship (blog posts, reports, website graphics). We are especially interested in candidates with training in survey methodology and experience with public-facing scholarship (e.g., op-eds). Candidates should detail their experience in these areas in their cover letters and showcase any of these interests in the writing sample. We anticipate that the Fellow will spend most of their time working on Center-related and coauthored projects with Taylor Carlson and other Center affiliates.

Qualifications

We invite applications from qualified candidates who will have a PhD in hand by the time of the appointment, are no more than four years from the granting of their Ph.D. at the time of the submission, and who do not yet hold tenure-track academic positions.

Applications are evaluated against a broad set of criteria with special consideration given to contributions the candidate can make to academic diversity in our University community and more specifically to the study of survey methodology or addressing contemporary issues in American society with survey data.

Application Instructions

Proposal Submission Deadline: We will begin reviewing applications on February 7 and anticipate scheduling Zoom interviews as early as late February.

Proposal Format:

Applications should include the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Research statement not to exceed 2000 words describing the dissertation project and other research
- Writing sample
- Three letters of reference
- The cover letter should be addressed to Taylor Carlson

NOTE: Please apply through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/161709>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/15/2025

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15339

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Climate Policy and Sustainability

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond. The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in climate policy and sustainability. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly focus on climate policies and sustainability. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics or an interdisciplinary Ph.D. in environmental science/engineering and economics with a track record of research on environmental and sustainability topics.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-climate-policy-and-sustainability>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15148

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Energy & Environmental Economics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Political Theory

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally.

To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in energy and environmental economics. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly focus on energy markets, climate finance, and climate policy design. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics with a field specialization in energy and environmental economics.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-energy-environmental-economics>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15146

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Public Finance

Subfield(s): Administration, Public Administration, Public Policy

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond. The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public finance. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly address public finance topics. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in economics with a field specialization in public finance

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-public-finance>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15145

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Public Management

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond. The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public management. We welcome candidates from any subfield of public management, including those with research interests that intersect with political science, decision science, and/or economics. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in management science, political science, or similar disciplines with a track record of research on public management topics.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-public-management>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15147

KAPSARC School of Public Policy

Rank: Faculty - Public Policy

Position Summary:

The KSPP is a newly established graduate school that offers master's and executive education programs. The first cohort of master's students commenced their graduate studies in the fall of 2024. Situated in the thriving capital city of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, on the state-of-the-art KAPSARC campus, the KSPP is well-placed to offer students an exceptional educational experience.

The KSPP's vision is to be a world-class education and research institution that prepares the next generation of public policy leaders and professionals within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and globally. To achieve this vision, the school is committed to providing high-quality educational programs and creating a bridge between academia, industry, and government. As the first public policy school in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the KSPP is uniquely positioned to offer public policy degrees focusing on management and leadership, energy and climate policy, and data analytics. By providing concentrations in these areas, the school aims to help students develop the skills and knowledge necessary to address pressing policy challenges and make a meaningful impact in their communities and beyond.

The KAPSARC School of Public Policy (KSPP) invites applications for a faculty position in public policy. We welcome candidates whose research, teaching, and outreach activities broadly focus on applied econometrics and public policy design topics. The KSPP offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, including children's educational support, housing support, and premier health insurance.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will be expected to carry out impactful research, teach courses related to the candidate's research field, contribute to core courses and/or electives in public sector management and leadership, supervise capstone projects, and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in public policy.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.kspp.edu.sa/careers/faculty-public-policy>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15144